SMILEY

A Merry Time

The Smiley 4-H young folks really "went to town" with their costume party Friday evening at the Smiley hall. A round of merry laughter was heard all through the evening and the gay festivities put everyone on the bright side. A dandy crowd attended as almost five dollars was collected from the "eats" and has been turned in to the War Service Fund. There was every type of costume from the authentic Scotch kilts to the lowly hobo. A peppy program consisting of a short business meeting was presided over by Hugh Cabot president. County Agent Ernest Palmer spoke of the forthcoming roller skating party at the arena. Helen Hardisty and Elaine Nelson put on a swell rendition of "Pistol Packin' Mama". A hilarious reading by the "hobo" Delores Reiswenger; a recitation by Marilyn McCrum. "America" was sung by everyone as the finale, with the army represented in costume by Alan Cabot; the WAC'S represented by Dianne Lendobeja and the Red Cross represented by Marilyn McCrum.

The 4-H kids voted to have their "Pa's" and "Ma's" put on the next program in January. They decided that the program committee consist of Mrs. Jim McCrum, Mrs. Frank Hardisty, and Mrs. S. S. Nelson. The recreation committee consists of Adam Lendobeja, Will McCrum, chairman and Art Knutson. After the program the costumed kids had a grand parade around the hall and later a shooting gallery game was won by Duane Hanson, for the boys and Marlys Hanson for the girls. The dart game was won by Ann Pederson and Donald Knutson.

Lumber Camp

A miniature replica of the good old lumber camp is going on high, down on Leo Swedberg's place (the former Franklin farm) by the river. Mr. Swedberg has several men working for him cutting down those beautiful hardwood trees. They have to date 35,000 feet of logs down preparatory to shipping them in carload lots of 18,000 feet to a carload to the Wenberg Lumber Co. in Eau Claire, Wisc. These logs are then put through the saw mills and made into boxes for packing ammunition. The men have yet many thousands of feet of logs to cut before the 1st of January. The Forsberg Company of Thief River Falls is getting Mr. Swedberg's soft lumber for their seed cleaning outfits that they make.

Sophie Torkelson and Arnold Helgeland were married a week ago, and a rollicking "charivari" was given them Friday evening. The newlyweds are living on the former Hans Loken farm on the Angle Road. Best Wishes and Congratulations to the new "Mister and Missus"!

The Helperette club had a nice meeting at the John Ranum home a week ago. Non-member guests at the affair were Mrs. Nels Burtness, Mrs. Gertrude Sundberg, Mrs. Harold Matzke, Mrs. John Rickley of Minneapolis. The club members honored Clara Olson with birthday gifts, as her birthday occurs this month. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ranum. The next meeting will be at the O. N. Olson home December 1 with Mrs. Olson as the hostess.

Some more new folks are now in Smiley. They are the Walter Lundeens, who have moved to the Adolph Harstad farm. The Lundeens formerly lived on the Ted Markus place. Onto the Krist Pederson farm have moved a Perrault family from Oklee. Welcome to Smiley folks!

STATE TAX LEVY IS PLACED AT 5.4 MILLS FOR 1943

Levy on Homesteads Reduced to 1.2 Mills for State Purposes

Cutting lower even than the goal set by the Minnesota legislature, John L. Meader, deputy state auditor, this week fixed the state tax levy for 1943 on general property throughout the state at 5.4 mills, 40% lower han last year's levy of 9 mills, bringing it to the lowest point it has reached in the last fifteen years.

The new rate, to be paid by property owners next year, is less than half what it was at the peak in 1935. Taxpayers then paid a levy of 12.57 mills for state purposes.

The Minnesota Legislature at its 1943 session voted to reduce the state levy on general property from 9 mills to a maximum of 6 mills for 1943, but Mr. Meader and his assistants found on careful examination of the state's obligations that sufficient funds could be raised on the lower levy. Virtually the entire state levy is for debt purposes, only exceptions being two small fractional levies amounting to a third of a mill for soldiers' relief and school purposes.

The state levy on homestead property (applying to the first $4,000 of value) will be lower than last year. Meader placed this levy at 1.2 mills, compared to 1.61 for 1942. Only levies for debts contracted before passage of the homestead act are made against homestead property.

On non-homestead property, cities of the first class will have a levy of 5 mills for 1943 instead of 5.4 mills, due to the fact that the cities have their own teachers' retirement plan, supported by local tax levies, and do not share in the state program.

The reduction in the state tax on property was made possible in part by the balance, approximately $6,500,000, accumulated in the general revenue fund at the close of the last biennium on June 30th. The Legislature provided that $2,000,000 of this amount be earmarked for the pre-payment of state debt, avoiding the necessity of making a levy on property for this amount. The rest will be used with other funds to meet obligations against the general revenue fund during the current biennium.

Growing With Your Child

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

The Curfew

In the late evening in the small town and the large city the streets should be empty of the younger members of society. But unfortunately in every community there are many youngsters roaming the streets or playing about, long after the time when they should be safely tucked in their beds.

Some communities still have a curfew in the form of a bell or a whistle which is supposed to warn children under sixteen years of age who are unaccompanied by adults, that it is time to return home. Many communities have discontinued the use of the curfew, because of the difficulty in enforcement. Some places are considering reinstating the curfew law. Under wartime conditions with more children unsupervised than is true of normal times, the problem of the curfew has become acute, particularly in crowded defense communities.

There are many reasons why young children should be at home by curfew time or long before. One of the very disturbing social problems of today is the increase in juvenile delinquency. Darkness makes it possible to commit misdeeds that would not be so likely in the daylight. Too, children require plenty of rest and sleep for their own physical well-being, and the only way they can get the necessary amount is through an early retiring hour.

But curfew law or no curfew law, there is a heavy responsibility upon parents to see to it that their children are home in the evening. Merely telling them to stay home is not enough, the home must be made interesting to them. Since the only time during the whole day that the family can be together as a unit is after the work of the evening meal is done, parents could do much to offset the lure of the streets by using these early evening hours for reading or singing or playing games with their children. It is through such experiences that human beings enjoy their homes and are bound together. As a matter of fact, few communities would need a curfew if every family would take upon itself some responsibility for building a whole some family life through family get-togethers.

Fighting Food Waste

Food needlessly wasted in the United States on farms, in Victory Gardens, in distribution, in the stores, in eating places, and in the home amounts to about 75,000,000 pounds a day. In a year's time, this is enough food to nourish every man, woman, and children in the country for six full weeks! About 15% of food used in the American home is either thrown into the garbage can or poured down the sink. Food scraped off plates of restaurant patrons, during 1942 would have been sufficient to provide three million meals for our armed forces, or enough to feed 10,000 starving Greek children for an entire year.

A recent survey of 247 American cities revealed that the average American tossed away 225 pounds of edible food per year into the garbage can. Two hours in every eight of work done by farmers, food processors and food handlers —25% of their time—is spent to fill up the nation's garbage can.

Why is food waste dangerous?

Food waste will cause higher point values on rationed foods.

Food waste means less food for people to buy, and tends to increase the prices of food which is available.

Food waste means that more trains and trucks are needed to carry more food to civilians throughout the country.

Food waste means that more men leave to work to feed us.

Food waste causes shortages which in turn will lower the morale.

Hagen Urges Repeal of Federal Car Stamp Tax

Immediate hearings on a bill to repeal the $5 federal use tax on automobiles were asked Thursday by Rep. Harold C. Hagen, Crookston, author of the bill.

Hagen contended the tax is not justified in view of the limitations on automobile use caused by gasoline rationing and tire shortages. He said his bill had received endorsement of the American Automobile association.

Hagen endorsed Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes' demand for a 50-cents a barrel increase in crude petroleum prices as means of assuring Minnesota farmers adequate fuel supplies for 1944.

Slide Fasteners to be Available to Civilians

The war production board today removed all restrictions on the use of steel in the production of hooks and eyes, snap fasteners, and brassiere hooks.

At the same time, WPB lifted the ban on the production of slide fasteners of more than 27 inches in length for civilian use to make possible manufacture of fasteners for inner linings of coats and other garments.

The order also permits manufacture of buckles for shoes and clothing, burrs, clothing trim or ornaments, corset clasps, eyelets, hose supporters and steel buttons.

ASSISTANTS FOR CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE APPOINTED

Mrs. Leonard Hanson Announces Workers in T. B. Campaign

Appointments of sub-chairmen to take charge of the various activities of the Christmas seal sale were announced today by Mrs. Leonard Hanson, general chairman. The 37th annual seal sale opened on Monday, Nov. 22, and will continue until Christmas. The funds from the sale finance the year-round fight against tuberculosis.

Accepting appointments in the seal sale are Mrs. Baldwin Borreson, Mrs. Alex Campbell and Mrs. George Erickson. Each chairman will have a group of local people helping in the final preparations of the Seal Sale.

"The enlisting of helpers does not stop with these committees," said Mrs. Hanson. "The work requires a far larger number of volunteers. The major part of the Christmas Seal Sale throughout the entire United States is done by volunteers. This time, given free to the association, means that much more money can be spent on the actual prevention and control of tuberculosis."

WARREN RESIDENT ROBBED IN MISHAP EARLY THURSDAY

Brother of Co. Agent Palmer Unconscious Following Stephen Accident

Arthur Palmer, Warren farmer and brother of County Agent Ernest Palmer, was found one mile east of Stephen last Thursday morning at 8 o'clock lying unconscious near his car, which had gone into the ditch while en route to his home from Warroad, from where he had departed Wednesday evening at 11:20.

Complicating the situation was the fact that Mr. Palmer's purse containing an unknown amount of cash in addition to a check for $351, was missing, as were five mink skins. In addition, his shoes had been removed and taken from the scene.

Mr. Palmer had not recovered consciousness in the Warren hospital early this week, and hence no explanation of his plight was forthcoming. The Minnesota crime bureau is conducting an investigation

STATE GOP TO BACK STASSEN FOR PRESIDENT

State Central Committee to Support Candidacy of Ex-governor

ACTION IS APPROVED BY UNANIMOUS VOTE

George Jones Outlines Campaign to be Conducted in Minnesota

Members of the Republican state central committee, gathered in St. Paul for a special meeting Monday, heard reports of the increasing interest being expressed in former Governor Harold E. Stassen in other states and voted unanimously to give its whole-hearted support to the effort being made to secure the Republican nomination for president for Minnesota's favorite son.

Supplementing its motion of endorsement, the committee drew up and passed without a dissenting vote a formal resolution, citing Stassen's accomplishments and concluding:

"We hereby declare Harold E. Stassen the man qualified above all others as a campaigner and administrator to marshal support for a constructive program of government in America to win the election of 1944 as the national leader of a progressive Republican party and to administer with sound statesmanship the affairs of the nation, international and domestic."

Governor Edward J. Thye took the floor immediately after adoption of the resolution and said: "I can tell you I am for Harold Stassen for president first, last and period. That should be the stand of every delegate that goes to the convention from Minnesota."

Action of the committee followed talks by Dr. R. C. Radabaugh, Republican state chairman, and Warren E. Burger, member of the committee from Ramsey county, who reported instances of support for Stassen in other states.

Sharing attention of the delegates with the endorsement of former Governor Stassen was preparation for strengthening the Republican county organizations. George C. Jones, acting Republican state chairman, outlined plans that are being developed to increase financial support of the local organizations. "If we are going to keep the kind of government we have in this state, citizens generally must take an interest and help," he said. Also giving reports on work which the committee is doing were Mrs. M. L. Spencer, state chairwoman, and Mrs. Louis Leech, state secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Johnson and Mrs. Alfred Emard made a trip to Grand Forks Monday.

Quite a Fever

You can't fool an army nurse. So declares a soldier at Fort MacArthur, Calif. And he should know. When it was nearly time for him to leave the camp hospital after a short stay there, he tried to kid one along. He dipped his thermometer in a cup of hot tea, and when the nurse told him he must get ready to move out, he protested: "I was worse this morning. I'm sure my temperature was up." "Yes, I know," she replied gently, "up to 130! You're dead. That's why we are moving you!"

OPA Community Service Bulletin

By Mrs. Paul A. Lundgren
Chairman

Do you know your Ration Board?

Do you know that there are men and women in your community who put in long hours, usually after leaving their own job, and working without pay? These volunteers get no applause, usually the opposite but they take upon themselves a thankless job because they are good Americans and want to do their bit to help everyone get a fair share of food, fuel and other rationed commodities. We are told that there are 176,000 of these unsung and unpaid heroes and heroines in our country today.

Here is a list of the members of our local ration board, divided into its various panels.

Waldie Christensen, chairman.

Tire Panel: Waldie Christensen, Alfred Longren. This panel meets every Friday morning.

Fuel Panel: W. W. Prichard, Margaret Daniels, Esther Rolland. This panel meets every Tuesday afternoon.

Miscellaneous Panel: Mrs. H. K. Helseth, Mrs. E. J. Richards.

Community Pride Panel: Haakon Olson, Mrs. Alice Borry, Rev. G. S. Thompson. This panel must check all commodities in all stores where there is a ceiling price. Price Panel Assistants: Ted Rustad, Oscar Gunstad, Carl B. Larson, Rev. A. I. Merth.

Community Service Member: Mrs. P. A. Lundgren. Chief duty of CSM is to provide the publicity for the ration board.

There have been a number of volunteers who have helped out temporarily on the various panels especially when rationing was first started. Lest some name be omitted these will not be mentioned by name but I am sure that the ration board is deeply grateful to all of these for their assistance when the work was so rushing.

You and I may not agree with the OPA in everything it has done. But unless we are absolutely unreasonable, we must admit that prices have been held down to a great extent, especially if we compare prices of various commodities in this and the last war. No program can be a thorough success, no matter how sound or well planned it is, unless everyone cooperates. A game can be disrupted by one or two who refuse to follow the rules. So a few can spoil the effect of the price ceiling and rationing program by not playing fair and thereby bringing to naught the work and time given by these volunteers. Let's play fair.

Question: What shall I do with ration books I and II? Must I keep them?

Answer: Stamp No. 18 is the only one good in Book I. Keep Book I until you have used stamp No. 18, then destroy it. The rest of the stamps will not be used.

All stamps in Book II expired November 20th. You may destroy Book II.

RED CROSS NEWS NOTES

By Mrs. Millard Peterson
Publicity Chairman

The advisory board of the Pennington county chapter meets Wednesday, Nov. 24th, at 8 o'clock in Herman A. Kjos's office.

We are still sending out a plea for workers for surgical dressings, and for workers in the sewing room. Please try and spend one afternoon a week either doing surgical dressings or on Fridays at the sewing room. Even though we are busy with holiday preparations we cannot forget the boys who are out on the battle fields doing the duty for us.

St Hilaire women have finished their quota of surgical dressings and still are doing more. We congratulate such willing workers, but still we are not forgetting the women who come week after week in our room, too. But we do need many more workers.

The surgical dressing room will be closed over Thanksgiving, but work will resume on Monday afternoon. We hope to see many new faces then.

The Red Cross yarn has arrived. Will ladies please get some from Mrs. McLaughlin, Chairman.

Federal Reserve Bank Asks for Your Pennies

John N. Peyton, president of the federal reserve bank in Minneapolis, issued a public appeal for pennies.

"We can't get enough pennies anywhere," said Peyton, describing the shortage as acute. "We know there are more in circulation than ever before.

"That means that people have got them, probably in penny banks. If they will exchange these pennies for larger denominations, it will help tide us over this crisis."

Indiana man who stole an auto was convicted of petty larceny. To the car owner, that's adding insult to injury.

Fewer B, C Coupons for Same Amount of Gasoline

The B and C mileage ration coupons to be issued after December 1 will be good for 5 gallons each, but this will not mean more gasoline. It simply means that the motorists and gas station attendants will have fewer coupons to handle and there will be a great saving in time and expense as a result. The new supplemental coupons will bear the designation B-2 and C-2 replacing the B and C coupons which now provide two gallons of gasoline. Gasoline retailers who paste the coupons they collect on gummed sheets which are turned over to the suppliers will find their work reduced by one half and attendants will not have to make as many trips to the pump for small purchases. One book will do the work of two and part of a third book, so that fewer books will have to be issued.

HOTEL MAN HAS DOG PROBLEMS

Paynesville.—Local hotel man, Lawrence Drois has had kind of a "woofed" look in the past week or so. The "look" is explained by the fact that the week-end of the big storm, 40 hunters accompanied by 10 dogs descended on his hotel. It was a case of dogs in the lobby, dogs in the basement, dogs upstairs and dogfights all over the place.

Dame Fashion is pretty speedy, but still can't shorten skirts as quick as a mouse.

The Women's Army Corps needs volunteers to fill 155 different types of jobs, ranging from secretary to airplane mechanic or radio operator. Women who are unskilled will be taught their jobs at WAC schools.

Thanksgiving

November 25, 1943

When troops at Camp Lee, Va., wanted a supply of turkeys for Thanksgiving they decided to get the biggest and best birds possible. So they visited the nearby Whippernock turkey farm and engaged in a martial version of the old-fashioned turkey hunt.

It's a far cry from the Massachusetts Pilgrim of early days to this modern man of war, but the idea is the same. Each got his bird.

After the successful hunt, this private first class plucks one of the turkeys as a third officer of the WAC's delivers a few pointers.

This hungry sergeant obliges with a "V" for Victory made of turkey drumsticks. He advised the photographer to make it "snappy." His appetite wouldn't allow him to hold the pose very long.

Here's another symbolical pose provided by a sergeant who made it plain that American soldiers are doing much more than just wishing for victory.

Mrs. Amanda Odegaard, Hazel Resident, Dies in Crookston Monday

Mrs. Amanda Odegaard, lifelong resident of Hazel, passed away at a Crookston hospital Monday at the age of 56 years. Rites will be conducted from the St. Paull Lutheran church in Hazel Saturday at 2:00 P. M. with Rev. A. O. Skibsrud and Rev. Albert Odegaard officiating. Interment will be made at the church cemetery.

Mrs. Odegaard, who was born in Hazel June 5, 1887, was a charter member of the St. Paull church. She was very active in all church activities and served as president of the ladies aid. Her marriage to Ole Odegaard took place March 23, 1907 in Hazel, and since that time they have been operating a general store in that community.

Besides her husband, she is survived by her father, Ole Peterson; five sons, Reuben in the air corps, and Oscar, Morris, Walter and Harvey, all of this vicinity; and ten grandchildren. Preceding her in death were her mother, a brother and sister, as well as one grandchild.

Firsts For the Flag

The flag was first carried in battle at the Brandywine, September 11, 1777. It first flew over foreign territory on January 28, 1778, at Nassau, Bahama Islands, Ft. Nassau having been captured by the Americans in the course of the war for independence. The first foreign salute to the flag was rendered February 14, 1778, when John Paul Jones, in command of the USS Ranger entered Quiberon bay, near Brest, France, and received a salute of nine guns, ordered by the French admiral, La Motte Piquet. The United States frigate Essex was the first warship to fly the American flag in the Pacific, January 26, 1813. It was first displayed officially over Alaska, at Sitka, October 18, 1867, and was first saluted by the British at the surrender of Burgoyne's army, October 17, 1777.

Coal Flies Plane

Gasoline made from coal was used in an airplane for the first time in the U. S. recently. It carried the plane from Morgantown, W. Va., to Washington, D. C. Senator Joseph O'Mahoney, Wyoming, receives a can of the gasoline from Representative Jennings Randolph.

Colors of Flag Have Symbolic Significance

The colors of the flag may be thus explained: red is for valor, zeal and fervency; white is for hope, purity, cleanliness of life and rectitude of conduct; blue, the color of heaven, for reverence to God, loyalty and sincerity, justice and truth. The star, an ancient symbol of India, Persia and Egypt, symbolizes dominion and sovereignty, as well as lofty aspirations. The constellation of the stars within the union, one star for each state, is emblematic of our federal Constitution, which reserves to the states their individual rights.

P.S. He Got the Furlough

At Fort Leavenworth, Kan., Lieut. Thomas P. Flynn was accepting applications for furloughs. A private was seeking 15 days leave to return to his home in Des Moines, Iowa. "I used to be in Des Moines occasionally," commented the lieutenant. "Proposed to a girl there four times. By the way, maybe you know her." Did the private know her? He had married the girl!

MUCH TO BE THANKFUL FOR

Thanksgiving Day finds us grateful for assured Victory, even though the exact date is still uncertain; for ample food, clothing and other necessities in a War-rationed world; for unity and patriotism displayed in so many ways here on the home front.

And let's not forget a special Thanksgiving prayer for our fighting boys overseas, who are giving everything to insure that Freedom shall not perish among Nations.

Growing With Your Child

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

Clothes for the Adolescent

No other subject probably comes up for more discussion in the family than clothes. This is particularly true when the family contains two or three adolescents. Many adults feel that this generation has gone to the extreme in wearing slacks and sweat shirts which have become almost a uniform for the teen age child. The adolescent is at an age when he does not want to seem to be different from his fellows.

A study of modern styles shows a leaning toward informal and more comfortable attire in all types of clothes, both those for adults and young people. Clothing styles change as well as other customs.

New days call for new ways. Just now with the emphasis put upon war work, grown-ups as well as young people wear slacks. One cannot then blame adolescents for doing as the adults about them do.

Many adults have a tendency to judge what the youth wear by what was thought proper when they were growing up and because they are sensitive to changes are often labeled "old-fashioned." Somewhere between the extremes of the old-fashioned and the most up-to-date lies the region of good taste.

Good taste is attained by developing an individual sense of values. Training in good taste begins in childhood and continues into adulthood. The person who is seen on the streets in lounging pajamas is showing poor taste, even in an age when many wear slacks. Taste rests on the realization that there is an appropriate style of dress for every type of activity. The person who has learned how to select clothes suitable for the occasion is always well dressed.

If we keep in mind that the adolescent is at an age when he feels that he must conform to the group, we will not take too seriously his tendency to dress in extreme styles.

DID THE WIND BLOW SNOWBALLS AT WILLMAR?

Willmar.—Ever seen snowballs rolled by the wind? One of the biggest surprises in his life met Gerhard Damhof following the recent big snowstorm when he found many mounds of snow, large and small in his meadow. They were covered with freshly fallen snow. Clearing the new snow he found well rounded compact balls. Mr. Damhof was certain nobody had been there during the storm to roll 'em. Is it possible that when the wet snow first fell, Mr. Wind with varying gusts and twists started the little snowballs arolling and they rolled on and on and got bigger and bigger and finally stopped when they became too heavy for him to move? If so, that's just another freak of nature.

THE OLD
American Virtue of Thrift
STILL LIVES ON!

BACK in the days when Thanksgiving was new, thrift was the first law and the abiding rule.

The happiness and health of the earliest Americans—yes even their very existence—depended upon their frugal, saving ways.

And today, with millions of Americans putting big percentages of their incomes into War Bonds—the bonds upon which our country's independence and our own freedom depend—thrift has come into its own again in America!

We must all sacrifice and skimp and save to help win the war!

Please join in this pledge: "I will make the things I have last longer and go further. I won't buy anything I don't really need."

And for the things you simply can't get along without, come to Penney's!

Penney's has always been a haven for careful shoppers and wise buyers—we have specialized in thrift and savings since our first store was founded over 40 years ago.

Penney's way of doing business eliminates waste and costly frills. It keeps its operating expenses very, very low. And the result is substantial savings for Penney's and for you, for these savings are passed along to all our customers in the form of lower prices and better values.

So, shopping at Penney's is doubly-important in wartime—when dollars must be stretched further than you have ever stretched them before!

LOCAL SCHOOLMEN ATTEND DELEGATE ASSEMBLY FRIDAY

Supt. Fjelsted and Claffy Attend MEA Session in Minneapolis

Supt. Philip L. Fjelsted, member of the executive board of the Minnesota Education association, and W. G. Claffy, member of the delegate assembly, attended the annual meeting of the latter group last Friday in the Curtis Hotel in Minneapolis.

Mr. Claffy was honored by having his name placed in nomination for the office of vice president of the Minnesota Education association, to be filled in 1944 by mail vote of the members, the other nominee being Supt. J. M. Herrman of Windom. Nominated for the presidency were Elmer Mueller of Virginia, Minnesota, and Miss Alice McCarthy of Winona.

The assembly went on record as favoring amendment of the state reorganization act to give back to state educational institution administrative heads the power of control over expenditures.

The assembly said power over educational expenditures had been given to non-educational authorities in 1939 when the reorganization act went into effect.

The same resolution also asked educational appropriations be protected from reduction by executive order.

Other resolutions:

Praised the state department of education for maintaining high standards in Minnesota schools.

Suggested 1,500 be the minimum salary for teachers with four years' training and $1,200 annually for teachers with two years.

Truck Tire Shortage Is Growing More Acute, Says OPA Administrator

"Right now one of the biggest worries is the tire situation" said Chester Bowles, war price administrator, in last week's news letter to the various war price boards.

Quotas for both truck and passenger car tires have been reduced, and the demand for truck tires is currently exceeding the production by about 200,000 tires a month. "It looks as if we might be a million short by the end of the year," Bowles wrote.

Total number of tires on hand, over the entire United States, used and new, is 5 million 800 thousand. "They tell me," Bowles wrote, "that if our stock gets down below 4 million, there are going to be a good many towns where no tires of any kind will be available. In view of these facts, conservation certainly becomes all the more important."

Time to Enjoy

When the child is dressed he should come down to a nourishing, balanced breakfast and have time to eat it enjoyably. It is a job in itself to get a child off to school without confusion but it can be done if there is a system.

A LOT OF SERVICE FOR THREE CENTS

Ruthton. — Nearly six months after a letter with a money order enclosure was posted at Minneapolis, addressed to Herbert Buckholtz, Pipestone, Minn. the addressee received it. What a loop that letter had taken! First, it was forwarded from Pipestone to Tyler, Minn., then to Golden, Col., and from there to an army camp in New Jersey, and from there to some point in North Africa. Finally the letter arrived at the Tyler postoffice once again in good condition from where it was delivered to Mr. Buckholtz.

Many livestock producers have lost heavily in the markets in recent weeks because of the inability of buyers to handle their products as fast as they have been offered for sale. The markets have been jammed, making ineffective the government's method of maintaining a price floor. The government was successful in keeping livestock prices above a certain level by its purchases as long as marketing remained normal and the packers were able to buy all that was offered, but when the markets became jammed and the packers were not able to take all the livestock offered many farmers were forced to sell at lower prices and the losses have been heavy. The jamming of the markets in turn, was caused by the ceiling prices on meat which were too low in relation to the cost of feed. This is another example of the difficulties we run into when the government undertakes to manage all our affairs. For each problem we solve by government tinkering, ten new problems are created.

Congress and the President are far apart in the argument about subsidies, the House of Representatives having noted against him by a count of 278 to 117, and a similarly one-sided vote is expected in the Senate. This brings up the question again of whether our government is as democratic as that of the British. Such a vote in a government organized under the British system would result in a change of administration. Prime Minister Churchill would be forced out of office if Parliament failed to support him, and a new Prime Minister would be chosen on short notice. Under our system we bungle along in discord until a four year period expires and then hope the voters will choose a President and a Congress that will work together in harmony. That proved to be expensive bungling during the last two years of both Wilson's and Hoover's administrations.

The Japanese are approaching a showdown in the Pacific that probably isn't being looked forward to with relish. Our forces are knocking at the front door inviting them to bring out their fleet and slug it out. Since the battle of Midway and the later skirmishes in the Solomons they have seemed a little reluctant about exposing their fighting ships in a pitched battle but they now face the alternative of losing islands that will give us important land bases from which we will be able to operate with still greater advantage in the future. To maintain their outposts will be expensive and to withdraw from these outposts will open a path for our advance under the protection of land based planes. The Japs have a few difficult decisions to make.

Berlin has taken a terrific pounding from allied bombs again this week. We will not know until the war ends just how effective such raids have been in destroying Hitler's war machine but it would seem that the destruction of one great German city after another must be sapping the strength of the nation's war effort. Faced with the fact that such raids will continue until they surrender should be a most effective argument to the German war lords against the advisability of a long defensive action. It is reasonable to assume that if they had the power to repel such raids they would have used that power by now.

Wanted: 500 citizens to attend the premiere performance of Irving Berlin's "This is the Army" at the Avalon Theatre next Thursday night. A seat at this special showing will cost a dollar and a dime but every penny that is taken in will go to the Army Emergency Relief fund. It's your own army in the Army's own show, a big time production and the hit of the year.

To St. Hilaire goes the credit for being the biggest over the top in the War Service Fund drive and to Numedal the honor again of being the first township to pass its quota. Saturday is the last day. If you haven't given yet give now.

Maybe Thanksgiving would make the world better a little faster if our thanks were expressed in good deeds rather than in good words.

THE FARMERS SAY "THANKS"

(Minneapolis Star-Journal)

We note in the Thief River Falls Times a large advertisement placed by a dozen farmers of the vicinity to express their gratitude to the boys and girls of the community who helped them save their potato crop during the critical labor shortage last fall.

"Hungry people somewhere will appreciate what you have done," the farmers told the youngsters in the advertisement. "If it hadn't been for your help, the potatoes still might have been in the ground."

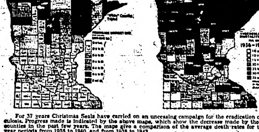
The boys and girls really helped win the war—and incidentally earned $5,633.12 for themselves—by picking 72,914 bushels of potatoes when no other help was available.

"We farmers were told last spring to increase our acreage," the advertisement read. "We wondered where the help would come from. We were told that when the time arrived, potato-picking help would come from somewhere, and you boys and girls furnished that help. We say, thanks again. It's co-operation like this that will win the war."

The type of voluntary co-operation offered by the youngsters of Thief River Falls was duplicated in many communities in Minnesota last summer and fall, as farmers had to depend on youngsters, businessmen, clerks and other city and village residents to get in their crops.

The advertisement by the Thief River Falls farmers proves that the youngsters really did a good job and that the farmers appreciated the help. Many of the Thief River Falls boys and girls were as untrained in farm work as other city residents who went into the fields last summer and fall, but most of them made up for that by their willingness to learn and their eagerness to do what they could to help. That must have been especially true in the Thief River Falls area for the farmers closed their advertisement with this significant statement: "We hope you will come back next year; we will be glad to welcome you."

MINNESOTA COUNTIES GAIN IN CONTROL OF TB



For 37 years Christmas Seals have carried on an unceasing campaign for the eradication of tuberculosis. Progress made is indicated by the above maps, which show the decrease made by the various counties in the past few years. The maps give a comparison of the average death rates for two five-year periods from 1936 to 1940, and from 1938 to 1942.

Although the average death rate for the state of Minnesota is 23.5, a total of 58 counties have rates below this. The "white counties" are those with death rates less than 10 per 100,000. Eight Minnesota counties have now been accredited for the control of human tuberculosis. They are: Lincoln, Olmsted, Murray, Stevens, Nobles, Pipestone, Rock and Waseca.

Christmas Seal programs are in progress in every county, working towards the eradication of tuberculosis.

Two a Day: Heat's Away

Two tablets a day are keeping heat prostration away for many war production workers this summer. The "beat the-heat" pills contain vitamin C which physicians have found effective in protecting against heat cramps and exhaustion even in places where temperature tops 100 degrees and humidity is oppressively high. Steel mills, shipyards, ship's engine rooms should benefit especially. Vitamin C is drained from the body in perspiration just as salt is, the latter in tablet form for some time familiar to offices and factories.

What Turtles Eat

Many folks keep small fresh-water turtles in bowls. Be sure to provide rock and sand islands in the water so the turtles can get some air. Their food should be lettuce, little pieces of meat, pieces of banana, ant eggs and fish food containing ant eggs.

Clean Your Paint Brushes

With imported hog bristles from which the best quality paint brushes have long been made, as scarce as the proverbial "hen's teeth," due to the war, it behooves every owner of a real imported hog bristle paint brush to take the very best care of it for the duration. Thorough cleaning with turpentine or other available paint thinner or solvent, and suspension of the brush in linseed oil to the full depth of the bristles is an effective way to prolong the life of these quality tools.

Herbs

Use herbs in salads, recommends Miss May B. Foley, extension nutritionist at Massachusetts State college. A sprig of mint decorates and flavors a fruit salad. Sweet basil brings out the flavor of a tomato salad. Chopped fresh dill improves potato and certain fish salads and chives may be used in a variety of salads.

Tin Substitute

Expect soon to buy your lard, baking powder, and various cooking oils in paper-board cans lined with cellophane. Resembling the familiar cylindrical ice cream container, the cardboard cans have metal ends only, saving 60 to 80 per cent of tin plate. Another new package destined for your kitchen is the "bag-in-box," a leak-proof cellophane bag formed inside a carton and tightly sealed by heat.

JAPANESE QUINCE THRIVES IN MINNESOTA

Henning.—Quite out of the ordinary for our Minnesota climate is the bush H. E. Berggren has growing along side of his house. The leaves somewhat resemble those of an apple tree with fruit similar to a crab apple. Puzzled over it Mr. Berggren sent a sample to the University farm and learned it is a Japanese Quince, usually too sensitive for our climate.

Now congress is investigating the shortage of whiskey. There are a lot of more acute shortages demanding attention just now.

Nimrods who come back from deer hunting all in one piece have real occasion to observe Thanksgiving Day.

The general public doesn't seem to have approved wholeheartedly of the action of army authorities in granting a New York soldier a special furlough so that he could travel half way across the country to visit his ailing dog.

This government is considering raising postal rates. And we thought there was a ceiling on everything.

Some bridge players, a colleague suggests, won't be satisfied in Heaven. They'll criticize the way Gabriel plays his trump.

When told of the treasury's plan to levy ten billion dollars more in taxes, Chairman Doughton of the house ways and means committee is quoted as saying, "You can shear a sheep every year, but you can skin him only once."

Those who confine their overindulgence on Thanksgiving Day to spiritual nourishment don't need any dyspepsia tablets.

Blessed events should be more welcome than ever now that each new one means an additional ration book.

Looking Backward

1933—TEN YEARS AGO

Roy Lambert, S. E. Hunt and W. E. Dahlquist were reelected members of the county fair board.—A total of 82 carloads of turkeys have been shipped from Thief River Falls to date in November.—Lund & Tunberg began work on a new garage building at the corner of Main av. and Third st.—Gordon Johnson is playing the clarinet in the University of Minnesota band.—The county auditor's office issued 311 deer licenses for the special open season.

1923—TWENTY YEARS AGO

C. M. Carlson of this city recently completed the contract for the erection of a new creamery building in Roseau.—Miss Ruth Olson of Crookston took over the operation of a local beauty parlor.—The Elks lodge will stage a turkey carnival Saturday. — To date a total of $160,000 has been loaned to Pennington county farmers thru the state department of rural credit.—Mrs. Chas. Olson arrived from British Columbia to visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. C. Karwand.—Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hardisty returned from a trip to Minneapolis.

Jap Beetles' Preference

Jap beetles prefer yellow, so cooperating federal entomologists and research chemists discover. While traps will not fully protect crops, they help. Maryland insect pest investigators, for instance, caught in one season 1,737 barrels or 104 tons of Jap beetles in 100,000 traps. Yellow test traps captured 50.8 per cent more than the standard green and white trap in common use.

Women Growing Smaller

Dressmaking statistics show that women of England are becoming shorter and slimmer, and cutters are producing 15 per cent more small, stock-size garments than a few years ago.

An Improbable Flood

When the reservoir behind the Boulder dam is filled, the shore line will be 531 miles long, or almost half as long as the shore of Lake Michigan. There will be enough water impounded to flood all of New York state to a depth of one foot.

Soldiers Dine on Reverse Lend-Lease Food

Pfc. Paul T. Cannon, Worcester, Mass., and Donald W. Stanton of Indian Lake, N. Y., who are stationed in England, dine on food obtained from the British via reverse lend-lease. Rarest item on their menu is the egg. Combat crews of the air corps are the only ones to rate this protein. Lend-lease credits pay for this food.

How to Say It

They all have a word for it. It's beet or cane sugar to us, but in French it's sucre; in German, zucker; in Spanish, Azucar; in Arabic, sakkar or sokkar and assokar; in Persian, shakar; in Greek, sakcharon; in Latin, saccharum; in Sanskrit, carkara — which originally meant gravel. Sugar was known in Asia as "sweet gravel."

Page the Quartermaster Corps

The summer heat has come to Florida in all its glory, and the sand is really sizzling. The soldiers down at Camp Blanding have thought up something new and different in foot gear. The brainchild came to be as a result of a long hot drill, when one of the men sat down sighing, "I sure wish these shoes had fans in 'em."

Blue and Black

Trend of the times—blue and black are rapidly gaining in popularity as house trim colors, according to a pigment and color survey of New York state suburban homes. Although the greens account for 5[illegible] per cent of total house trims tabulated, there is a tendency toward bright colors, maroon is on the increase, brown is waning while a post-war splurge for orange and yellow is predicted.

In 90 Minutes!

The scale of the recent bombing raids on Germany by the RAF is unprecedented. In the largest German raid on Britain, about 400 tons of bombs were dropped. In the raid on Cologne, the RAF dropped 3,000 tons of bombs, including 1,000,000 incendiaries—all in the space of 90 minutes.

Love Thy Neighbor

Corp. Ross Armijo of Camp Wolters, Texas, claims everyone in the army as his friend. When he first arrived, everyone mispronounced his Spanish name, calling him "amigo," which means "friend" in his native tongue. He reached the height of his popularity when the company commander called him by name and asked how he was getting along. "Fine, amigo," replied the corporal, hastening to return the compliment!

MAXIMUM PRICES ON SEED POTATOES ARE ESTABLISHED

OPA Announces Ceilings on Certified and War-approved Seed

Maximum prices for seed potatoes—both "certified" and "war-approved" seed classifications—were established today by OPA, Harold W. Bangert, district director, announced.

Basic maximum prices for certified seed potatoes are one dollar a hundred above the established ceiling for those for table use. This allows the customary premium over the table stock variety, and also provides for an estimated increased cost of production.

For "war-approved" seed potatoes, OPA set a premium of fifty cents a hundred over table stock potatoes, based upon recommendation of the War Food Administration. This price is calculated to stimulate production of good seed potatoes.

Certified seed potatoes are those which have been grown and inspected in accordance with the rules of various state certifying agencies.

"War-approved" seed potatoes are a new grade, established this year by state certification agencies in conjunction with the War Food Administration. Tolerances of various virus diseases, bruises, and sizes allowable in this classification are greater than those established for the certified grade.

Keeping Score

.... With BUCK OLSON

Not too Early

The Arena ice sheet will not be completed for a couple of weeks and not until then will Coach Armond Pagliarini call the candidates for the Hornets hockey team together for regular practice sessions. But several of the Hornets have been making use of the river ice and doing some skating and playing shinny hockey, and considering the competition that the Hornets will get from Hallock and Crookston Cathedral this year the Hornet players can't get on skates too early. Jerry Lindegard will again lead a surprisingly strong Hallock team, a team that scored one win over the Hornets last year; and Bill Dowdle is the only regular that the Crookston Bide Wave has lost, and that means that Jimmy Medved and Bill Sullivan will be back to add scoring punch to Don Norman's club.

Coach Pagliarini will have Tony Dorn, Bob Baker, Les Vigness, Wes Hovie, Lloyd Johnson, and Don Brossoit as returning veterans for this year's team, but he will have to find replacements for defenseman Bob Protz, wings Johnny Efteland and Johnny Baker, and goalies Johnny Robarge and Bernie Kobetsky.

Plenty of Work

Although they lost by a 37 to 36 score, that was a satisfactory performance that the Prowlers turned in against an alumni team last Thursday evening. It's probable that the Prowlers would have won the game if coach Hanna had decided to use his strongest aggregation throughout the contest, but the purpose of the scrimmage was to give the coach an opportunity to study the Prowler material under playing conditions.

The sophomore squad members, in particular, showed up well during the practice, with Ninak Carlson being aggressive in covering rebounds and bringing the ball up the floor, and Roger Tunberg and Allan Thompson revealed themselves as strong scorers. And they are certain to have important positions during the coming Prowler basketball campaign.

Coach Hanna stated, following Thursday's scrimmage, that he isn't very optimistic over the team's prospects, but that the squad will be an interesting group of boys to work with. And that's a fact. Judged on the top-flight competition that the Prowlers meet, it's probable that the locals will lose the majority of their early-season games; but it will be interesting to watch the progress and development of the Prowler youngsters.

Pheasant Paradise

As far as pheasant hunting is concerned, it's true what they say about South Dakota—that it's a pheasant paradise. That is the consensus of Cal Colvin and Chris Rinkel, who hunted the Aberdeen and Redfield territory last week. Cal and Chris, accompanied by Ferdie "Five Pheasant" Brown and Gordy LaBree, had excellent shooting and returned with their possession limits. Ferdie was the skeptic of the party, not believing that the pheasants were as plentiful as reported and he wagered that if he secured the possession limit he would carry the birds down the main street in Aberdeen. I guess it must have been quite a sight to see Ferdie staggering down the street with those thirty-five pheasants of his.

Rifleman Frank Rinkel

Reports trickling in from the north, from Williams, indicate that the boys are just about ready to take Frank Rinkel's expert marksmanship medal away from him. Frank, with an automatic rifle, was standing post when a fawn walked out of a thicket and thinking that a larger deer must be following, Frank held his shot, and a big doe came out. Frank had a broadside shot, and sent a three-shot barrage at the doe, not hits; the doe then began to trot, Frank loosed another barrage, and then the doe began to gallop. Frank maintained that the gallop indicated that he had made a hit with his last shots—but his hunting companions merely shake their heads and smile.

GRAVITY OF PAPER SHORTAGE CITED BY HEFFELFINGER

WPB Chairman Calls on Public to Conserve All Material

F. Peavey Heffelfinger, northwest WPB chairman, today called upon industry and the people of the northwest, to conserve and save paper.

"The remaining weeks of the year offer the American people their best opportunity to make up the serious paper shortage now existing," Mr. Heffelfinger said.

"The great quantities of wrappings, boxes and cartons ordinarily used during the holiday season, added to normal supplies of old newspapers, magazines, bags and the like — if saved and promptly turned in to local salvage organizations — will go a long way toward relieving the deficiency," declared Mr. Heffelfinger.

"Also, by avoiding unnecessary wrappings at home and at retail stores, and by using shopping bags and other paper saving containers, a huge quantity of vitally needed paper and paperboard can be conserved," Mr. Heffelfinger continued.

MARSHALL COUNTY TAX COLLECTIONS RISE UP TO NOV. 1

Payments for 1st 10 Months of Year Show Increase of $47,016

While current and delinquent tax collections dropped $4,267.51 during the November settlement period this year, in Marshall county, collections for the year show a material gain up to November 1 over a similar period in 1942 with an increase totaling $47,016.52.

These interesting figures were revealed in a compilation made in the office of P. E. Kvikstad, Marshall county treasurer, on Monday afternoon and show total tax collections on Marshall county property for the year at the huge figure of $522,359.11.

Collections of current taxes up until November 1 this year total $472,163.59 while delinquent collections reached $50,716.92. Last year current collections totaled $423,688.47 while delinquent collections reached slightly more than this year or $52,175.52.

Current collections for the November settlement from June 1 to November 1 this year totaled $179,625.41 in comparison to $182,926.69 a year ago, while delinquent collections totaled $25,455.65 during the same period this year in comparison to $26,421.88 a year ago.

Clerks in County Auditor Levi G. Johnson's office are now busy at work preparing the distribution of funds for the various governmental units who will share in the settlement. This distribution will be completed at an early date and warrants will be distributed to the treasurer's of the various units.

The increase in collections this year is attributed largely to the general increase in incomes of the people and reflect to a certain degree a return of prosperity to the people of the county.

Say it with DEEDS ...not words

WE IN AMERICA have a lot to be thankful for this year. This is the one great nation that has not been laid waste by war.

Our boys are fighting in the jungles of the South Seas and in the villages of Italy that our own Main Streets may not become battle fields. By their sacrifices they have held the warfront thousands of miles beyond our shoreline. They deserve our deepest gratitude—a gratitude we should express in work rather than in words.

Let's back up these fighting men in a very practical way. Today there is a great shortage of pulpwood. Pulpwood has a thousand-and-one war uses—from explosives to shipping containers.

And since this is a pulpwood-cutting community, we have been asked to cut an extra cord of pulpwood in honor of every local boy in service.

This is a small thing to ask of us—small in comparison with what our boys are doing. One extra cord for every boy who went to war from the pulpwood areas will be enough to meet the present shortage.

So let's resolve to meet our quota—and make sure that no boy dies because we failed.

"Vital to Victory"

The Service Flag in the lobby of the Great Northern's General Offices at St. Paul shows that 5,644 employees have been called from their work and their homes to fight for their country.

With more than a fourth of its experienced personnel now in the armed forces, and without the replacements of equipment or materials and supplies which ordinarily would be available, the Great Northern, in common with other American railroads, has been called upon for an unprecedented volume of transportation service.

That the army of railroad workers on the home front has met this challenge successfully is attested by the following letter addressed to the American Railroads by Robert P. Patterson, Under Secretary of War, and James Forrestal, Under Secretary of the Navy:

"The War and Navy Departments would appreciate it if you would express to the men and women who work on America's railroads the gratitude of the Army and Navy for the splendid job they are doing.

"Since the outbreak of war the railroads have hauled 76 million carloads of freight, most of it destined for battle fronts. Millions of fighting men have been transported to training camps and embarkation ports.

"The Army and Navy realize that to perform this big job, crews on trains, in shops, in yards, and along rights of way have had to work long and hard. To the men and women who have made this record movement of men and weapons possible, the Army and Navy are deeply grateful.

"Keep up the good work—for railroad work is war work, railroad service is vital to victory."

The Great Northern is proud of its representation in the fighting forces of our Country and equally proud of its nearly 30,000 men and women who are doing their utmost to assure that the sacrifices of our fighting forces shall be of lasting worth to humanity.

SPEEDER ARRESTS SET NEW RECORD DURING OCTOBER

Total of 423 Arrested for Excessive Speed Pay $4,584 in Fines

Arrests for excessive speed continue to increase, according to the monthly report of Elden Rowe, chief of the Minnesota state highway patrol, to M. J. Hoffmann, commissioner of highways. The 423 arrests for excessive speed in October were more than in any previous month in 1943 and more than double the 182 arrests in October, 1942. Fines imposed for excessive speed in October totaled $4,584.

"With the tire situation as it is, strict enforcement of the wartime speed limit is necessary for public safety," said Mr. Rowe. "Majority of cars now on the road have pre-war tires, and they are getting old and thin. The danger of blowouts is increasing, and blowouts at high speed are usually disastrous. Keeping speeds down to save tires is more important than ever, for the tire shortage the next few months will be serious. The coming of winter with icy roads will be another reason for holding speeds down."

Arrests for nearly all causes except speed showed decreases proportionate to the reduced traffic. October arrests for driving while under the influence of liquor were 42 in 1943 and 74 in 1942; for careless driving, 122 and 147; going through stop sign, 98 and 101; improper passing, 64 and 170; improper equipment, 132 and 137; all other causes, 186 and 147.

Many Plants Are in Dire Need of Emergency Help, Says State WMC Office

The state war manpower committee, which acts in an advisory capacity to Dreng Bjornaraa, director of the WMC program in Minnesota, has issued a call for workers to take jobs in the meat packing, pulpwood, foundry, and poultry processing industries.

As a "direct patriotic effort," the appeal was addressed to the citizens of the state, urging eligible workers to accept employment in the industries mentioned.

All such workers were advised to obtain information from the local U. S. employment service office.

WORKERS URGED TO VISIT JOB OFFICE IF AFTER NEW JOB

Must Secure Certificate before Switching Work, Says Bjornaraa

Workers who are looking for new employment should first visit the nearest U. S. employment office. They may find just the job they are looking for at or near home—and if not, then they will save themselves time and expense before getting located in any distant establishment.

Every county in Minnesota, says Dreng Bjornaraa, state director for the War Manpower Commision, is now covered by one of 29 area employment stabilization plans. This particular area is under the jurisdiction of the USES and WMC office located in Thief River Falls, and is in charge of Russell Olson.

The purpose of the stabilization program is to exercise a control over employment to make full use of all available manpower. All employers, particularly those engaged in essential activities, are voluntarily supporting the WMC program.

One of the very necessary controls is a certificate of availability, without which no employer may hire a worker. This certificate must be obtained from the worker's previous employer or from the U. S. employment office under whose jurisdiction the worker was last employed.

Apply "Value Test" to Post-war Plans, Urges Taxpayers President

With local units of government in Minnesota already well along in designing postwar projects as a means of meeting a possible unemployment crisis after the war, public planners are offered a word of caution by James P. McDonnell, president of Minnesota Taxpayers Association, "to make certain that all such projects bring needed community benefits."

"Every effort should be made to guard against repetition of wasteful conditions which frequently follow hastily-planned 'make work' programs," McDonnell said.

"In addition to providing jobs after the war, public officials should determine the essential needs of the community, and they should seek to supply utility and service in all cases."

TIRE SHORTAGE Predicted For 1944!

The curtain of false optimism is down. In all its bare nakedness is revealed the fact that there will be a shortage of many millions of tires in 1944. Production cannot hope to keep up with the demand of the armed forces and essential civilian driving. Meanwhile thousands of tire casings are being ruined by neglect or carelessness—casings which cannot be replaced, once they are worn beyond repair.

Forget Optimism---Look at FACTS!

Too many automobile owners have lived in the land of dreams as regards to new tires which may be available in 1944. Don't be deluded as to what you might expect. Be guided by the major thought that the tires you now have must last you through 1944. They must be carefully nursed during the emergency — receive more careful attention than ever before — by tire experts who will tell you the plain facts — and know how to make your tires last.

These Things You MUST Do---

Drive carefully. Drive under 35 miles per hour.—Don't slap on your brakes and cause skidding. Don't bump over curbs. At the first sign of damage to your tire, bring it to your tire expert for a careful examination and have the repair made immediately. When it is time for a recap, have it done then rather than to continue driving until the all-important rubber has worn through the fabric.

We'll Do Our Part---If You Do Your Share

We are anxious to keep you driving. Millions of men and women depend on automobiles to get them to work. Farmers and industries depend on tires. If you do your share in watching the tires you own we'll do our best to preserve them for you.

You Can't Drive On False Hopes—Let Us, Your Independent Tire Dealer, Keep you Rolling—It's Our Job and Duty

Next Year Will Be Different

NEXT year will be different. Not only the weather, and markets, and the needs of the country. Our jobs will be different, too. Because next year we're going to do those jobs differently—and we hope better!

We, whose job is producing goods and services, have been making resolutions like this for years. And we've been keeping them! For in our kind of business, you either keep on finding better ways of doing things, or—you go backward! And if enough people do that, the thing we call progress bogs down.

That's why farmers keep on trying new seed, and fertilizers, and machines, and strains of stock. That's the reason industry carries on research—another name for a constant search for new knowledge and better ways to do things. Because most of us have been doing this for years, America has had the highest standard of living in the world. And it's the reason, too, that American production is doing so much today to bring victory.

After the war, America is going to need more than ever men with the courage and enterprise to invest time, money, and hard work in the search for better things. And if America's producers understand each other, and each other's problems, we'll be able to do these all-important jobs better. General Electric Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Pennington Co. Has Attained $7,600 Mark Toward Its $8,000 Quota

CHAIRMAN DAHLQUIST URGES FINAL EFFORT

Hickory Township Is Latest to Exceed Quota Set for It

Pennington county Wednesday afternoon had contributed 95 per cent of its $8,000 National War Fund quota, with collections aggregating approximately $7,600, Robert J. Lund, treasurer, announced. Hickory township is the latest to exceed its quota.

"The drive is officially ended," said W. E. Dahlquist, chairman, "but an effort will be made to raise the $400 needed to meet the county's quota of $8,000. Victory Aides are still working in several townships and there are a few individuals and firms in the city that have not yet been reached. We now have a score of about 95%. Naturally I would like to get it up to the 100% mark and urge all those who have not yet contributed to get in touch with their local solicitors or bring their donations to the office of Robert J. Lund."

Following is the tabulation of receipts from the various subdivisions of the county up to Tuesday noon:

	Paid	Quota
Black River	$ 69.75	$ 100
Bray	86.50	150
Cloverleaf	40.25	90
Deer Park	90.50	125
Goodridge	40.50	60
Hickory	53.25	50
Highlanding	120.50	175

Crusading minister from Minneapolis, who will lecture and show temperance motion pictures in the municipal Auditorium Sunday afternoon, December 5, at 3 o'clock and in the evening at 7:30. He also will speak in the Community church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

As a result of their admitting responsibility for eleven burglaries committed in this city between October 17 and November 21, two boys, ages 12 and 14, were committed to the state training school for boys at Red Wing following a hearing in juvenile court before Judge Herman A. Kjos Wednesday, November 24.

Also committed to the training school was a third boy who was implicated to some extent, and who had been on probation since February 6 for incorrigibility. In accordance with juvenile court practice in the case of children under the age of 18, names of the boys were not released for publication.

A fourth boy implicated in the last of the series of burglaries was placed on strict probation, while a fifth, who did not share in the burglaries but was involved to some extent, also was placed on probation.

Nine other boys mentioned in the course of the testimony in Wednesday's proceedings were brought into juvenile court for questioning late Tuesday afternoon, but there was no evidence to link them with any of the burglaries. Six were dismissed, one was ordered to make reports to the police and two were placed on probation for previous offenses.

The two boys committing the burglaries, it was brought out, carried a loaded revolver with them on some of their raids, altho never using the weapon. In their eleven breakins, they collected more than $100 in cash, in addition to cigarets, a bicycle and other items.

RATION POINTS ON BEEF WILL BE CUT EARLY NEXT WEEK

OPA Chief Says Reduction in Point Values Is Only Temporary

Price Administrator Chester Bowles disclosed Tuesday in Washington that meat ration points will be reduced to allow civilians 30 per cent more meat in December but butter ration values will be left unchanged at 16 points a pound.

"Our meat supplies are in pretty good shape and for that reason I am glad to say that we are going to be able to cut the points on meat rather substantially during the month of December," Bowles said. "The new point values will be in effect when you shop next week."

While announcing that most beef cuts would be reduced two or three points in December, he warned that meat supplies generally will be smaller next spring and in anticipation the office of price administration may boost ration points in January and February.

December reductions are in line with OPA's previously declared intention to liberalize ration allowances for the Christmas period.

Complete point charts for meats and processed foods will be released later this week.

Bowles said continuation of present high ration values for butter still is necessary to assure fair distribution throughout the country.

FIFTY PRESENT AT MEETING TO TALK CURFEW

Representatives of a Dozen Groups Discuss Matter Tuesday Night

WILL GET DRAFT OF ORDINANCE TUESDAY

Recommend 10 o'Clock Curfew Applying to Children under Age of 17

Fifty persons, representing a dozen local organizations, participated Tuesday evening in a spirited discussion of the proposed revision of the curfew ordinance at a meeting in the Civic and Commerce room sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association. Irving E. Quist, PTA president, served as chairman of the meeting, with W. G. Claffy as secretary.

The sentiment of the meeting crystallized in a recommendation that the curfew hour be fixed at 10 o'clock the year around, and that all children under the age of 17 come under its provisions.

Named on a committee to draft a proposed ordinance along the lines suggested by the discussion were T. M. Thronson, Rev. G. S. Thompson, W. G. Claffy, Rev. A. I. Merth and L. W. Rulien. The committee was instructed to submit its draft at a second meeting to be held in the Legion room next Tuesday evening, December 7, at 8 o'clock.

Supt. Philip L. Fjelstad quoted from eight curfew ordinances recently enacted in other Minnesota cities, the ages of children affected varying from 16 to 17 years, with 10 o'clock the usual curfew hour. The present local ordinance, enacted in 1906, fixes the hour at 9 o'clock in the summer months and 8 o'clock in winter.

There was considerable discussion as to the effect the curfew hour on attendance at school activities and teen-age dances, and it was brought out that the ordinance would merely prohibit the children from loitering on the streets or in business places on their way home from such affairs.

Some of those present also brought out the fact that, to a large extent, it is the parents' responsibility to see that their children are home at the proper hour, and that parents should set a better example for their children as a means of curbing bad habits.

Mayor-elect W. J. Douville, following a conference with the welfare board, recommended the present St. Paul curfew ordinance as a model.

Burton Emanuel, representing the Junior Chamber of Commerce, suggested that the committee named to draft the ordinance be made a continuing group to make a study of youth problems in general. Action on the proposal was deferred until the ordinance is disposed of.

FORMER RESIDENT SUCCUMBS IN LAKE MINNETONKA FIRE

Daughter of Frank Dudley and Her Husband Victims of Tragedy

Frank Dudley of this city Monday received from Minneapolis the sad news that his daughter Katherine, 38, and her husband, George H. Breitner, had lost their lives Sunday in a fire that damaged their cottage at Island Park, Lake Minnetonka, west of Minneapolis.

Mrs. Breitner, former local resident, had lived in the Minneapolis area since leaving Thief River Falls about 15 years ago.

Bodies of the couple were removed by neighbors and members of Island Park volunteer fire department after the blaze had been extinguished.

The alarm was turned in at 1:30 A. M. by Henry E. Evansen, neighbor, who tried in vain to rescue Mr. and Mrs. Breitner before firemen arrived.

Dr. Russell R. Heim, coroner, said the couple died of second degree burns and asphyxiation.

E. Alfred Holl, fire chief at Island Park, said most of the damage to the home was confined to the kitchen, where it is believed the fire started, probably from a kerosene stove explosion.

Breitner's body was found on the bed and his wife's on the floor beside the bed.

Dr. Heim said Mrs. Breitner apparently had been awakened by the fire and was trying to get out of bed when she collapsed.

Breitner was employed as a printer by Bureau of Engraving, Inc., and for many years had played piano in an orchestra which he organized.

Funeral Services Are Held at Hazel Church for Mrs. O. Odegaard

Funeral rites were held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock for Mrs. Ole Odegaard, pioneer resident of Hazel, who passed away Monday, Nov. 22, at the age of 56 years. The services were first conducted at the home at 1:30 and then at St. Pauli Lutheran church at 2 o'clock. Rev. A. Skibsrud spoke at the house and also gave the sermon at the church. Rev. A. O. Odegaard of Longview, Wash., brother of Ole Odegaard, spoke in behalf of the family and also conducted the services at the grave.

Mrs. William Gilbertson of this city presented two vocal numbers at the church, while Rev. A. Skibsrud also contributed to the music. Pallbearers were five sons and a nephew, Oscar, Morris, Walter, Reuben, Harvey, and Gordon Odegaard.

It was stated that this was the largest funeral ever conducted in the St. Pauli church. Both the basement and the church proper were packed, necessitating the use of the loudspeaker system.

PRES. ROOSEVELT ENDORSES YULE SEAL CAMPAIGN

Urges Cooperation in Drive to Decrease Ravages of Tuberculosis

President Roosevelt calls on all the people of the nation to help "reverse the wartime trend of tuberculosis" by cooperating in the Christmas Seal campaign in a special statement released this week.

"Tuberculosis has always increased during war," he said. "Disastrous spread of the disease has already been reported from occupied countries during the present conflict. Thus far, I am assured, America has not experienced this expected rise in its tuberculosis death rate. On the contrary, during each of the two years of war our mortality from tuberculosis has shown a sustained decline.

"This can only continue, however, if we reinforce the present efforts to control the disease put forth by the medical profession, the official health agencies, the tuberculosis associations, with a public aware of the danger and ready to take the measures necessary for its own protection."

FARMERS CALLED ON TO FILE INCOME TAX RETURN DEC.15

Applies to Persons with Income Not Subject to Withholding Tax

The final date for filing estimated federal income tax returns for the year 1943, for farmers, or for amending estimates made on or before September 15, will be December 15, 1943, under provisions contained in the current tax payment act.

Single persons who are required to file estimates are those having an income either in 1942 or 1943 in a gross amount of $500 or more, which was not subject to a withholding tax. Or, single persons whose income is subject to a withholding tax, if the income is in excess of $2,700, or if such person has income in a gross amount of $100 or more during the year from other sources.

Married persons who are required to file estimated tax returns include those with a gross income of $624 or more not subject to a withholding tax. Or, married persons working on a wage, or having income subject to a withholding, if such income is in excess of $3,500 per year, either for 1942 or 1943, or if such persons had gross income of $100 or more per year from sources not subject to a withholding. This would include the income from rents, interest, dividends, and so forth.

Agricultural laborers are paid wages not subject to a withholding tax. For that reason all persons working on farms are required to file estimated tax return, provided their earnings for either 1942 or 1943 were in an amount large enough to require the filing of an income tax return, the requirements for a single person or a married person being the same as in the above paragraphs.

The use of the 1942 tax return will be of value to farmers in making their 1943 estimated tax returns, for the reason that the deduction for depreciation will be based upon this schedule shown on the 1942 tax return. In determining the tax paid for the year 1942, reference to that return is also recommended.

Motor-Driven Scooters Need Drivers Licenses

Motor driven scooters are a new worry for traffic and safety officers, according to a state highway bulletin. Many small machines have appeared in recent months, built by small boys and powered by washing machine motors or other gasoline driven engines. Some have two wheels and some have four.

The worry is tempered by the fact that under the law all self-propelled vehicles must have motor vehicle licenses and the operators must have drivers' licenses, before they can use public streets or highways. Drivers' licenses cannot be issued to persons under 15, and to persons between 15 and 18 only with the parents' consent.

"This means that if boys under 15 want to operate motorized scooters, they must stay in their own back yards or other places not on public streets or highways," says the bulletin.

Girl Likes Machine Shop

Celia Varady, 17, of Cleveland, Ohio, takes greasy hands and broken fingernails with a grin—for she is enrolled in the machine shop class in her high school. "It's a lot of fun, just being down here and seeing what goes on," she said, turning down a casting on a large metal lathe. "I like running a lathe, but filing is not so wonderful—not that I don't like that too, but I don't have the strength for it." Celia said she likes to get her hands dirty. "And I certainly do down here," she said. "I break so many nails now that I have given up using nail polish."

Speeding up its Christmas seal downtown sale plans to conform to the post office request for early mailing of Christmas gifts, the local committee for the tuberculosis campaign announces that seals can be purchased at the following places: Postoffice, schools or from Mrs. Hanson, chairman.

Paint's War Uses

Little known ways paint has gone to war—the inside of a combat tank is painted white to help the crew see better, bombs and shells are finished in different colors for instant identification, zinc yellow priming coat is used instead of red lead on aluminum alloy metal surfaces, particularly those coming in contact with salt water, such as seaplane pontoons.

SERVING NOTICE ON JAPAN

Official reports on the agreement reached by political and military representatives of the United States, Britain and China at the Cairo conference were brief but significant. Japan will be stripped of all possessions acquired since 1914. That means that allied victory will bring an end to the Japanese Empire for the time being at least. Serving this notice of our intentions on the Nips is not going to encourage them to quit fighting certainly. It must be assumed, therefore, that the purpose of this announcement was primarily to give encouragement to the Chinese to continue the struggle which, after so many years of reverses, must seem almost hopeless.

Recent reports indicate that the Japs no longer expect to dictate peace terms in Washington and that means their only remaining hope of retaining a part of the vast territory they have conquered is to prolong the war endlessly and finally secure a compromise settlement. Their present policy, evidently, is to establish friendly relations with the people of the territories they have seized, fanning the flames of hatred toward the white race and laying the foundation for a general revolt among all Asiatics. This is a threat that should not be dismissed lightly and it will be well for us to deserve the good will of the Chinese. We cannot afford not to restore the Chinese nation.

Carloads and trainloads of butter and eggs and poultry and meats and other products of our farms go to market without mention in the pages of the great family journal, so why should we huff and puff about the importance of a carload of Jackpine that has been cut into eight foot lengths? Only because it is unusual. Later on a carload of pulp will become a commonplace—we hope. Many carloads should be shipped out during the winter months for three good reasons — for profit, for land clearing, and because there is a critical pulpwood shortage. Bob Petersen, local pulpwood tycoon, says he has a couple of thousand cords in prospect and that should make a hundred carloads. Not a bad cash crop to look forward to during the winter months.

Income tax returns are more complicated than usual this year. Possibly they are too complicated but it's too late to argue about that now. The important thing is that December 15th is almost here and we suggest that you don't wait until the last minute before you start figuring out how much you owe Uncle Sam. Better you get started right away. Merry Christmas.

Representatives of various service and social organizations who assembled Tuesday night at the request of the Parent-Teachers association to consider the need for modernizing our curfew ordinance got off to a good start and the prospect is that something will come of it. Our operatives inform us that there was a lively discussion on the subject. There seemed to be general agreement about the need for stricter interpretations of parent responsibility, with some disagreement over the questions of age limits, hours, and the responsibility of proprietors of the places most commonly frequented by the young people. To a subcommittee was assigned the task of drafting a model ordinance, to be remodeled at a later meeting and then submitted to the village dads for official action.

Commenting on the recently developed commercial use of cattails, Lud Roe, in his Montevideo News, says he is waiting for the day when the dandelion will be a cash crop. Be advised, Lud, that the day you have been waiting for is already here. A few weeks ago we saw a crop of dandelions being harvested by machines that had been designed for that particular purpose. They weren't called dandelions of course. The fellow in charge had a trick name for them—said they were Russian plants that might be called on to pinch-hit for rubber trees—but he didn't fool us. We know a dandelion when we see one. A rose by any other name, and so on and so on.

Official secrecy was maintained about the Cairo conference until last night although the conference was held last week, Monday through Friday. Possibly by now that much talked of meeting of Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin is already out and over. If the rumors of this later meeting prove to be as well founded as were the rumors of the Cairo meeting than the representatives of the Big Three now, or have been, in session somewhere in Persia.

With inflation coming along fast, "Buy, Buy, Blackbird" seems to be the national theme song.

Bringing home the acute paper shortage, a number of Minnesota newspapers are refusing to accept new subscriptions.

It used to be said, "See Paris and Die". Today's version is "See Berlin and Die".

We hear, comments Billy Noonan of Baudette, that Thief River Falls is to have women police. At that, he adds, many a man wouldn't mind being pinched by a lady cop.

You may figure on traveling for fun during the holidays, but, in view of congested conditions on trains and buses, it won't be any pleasure trip.

Minneapolis' own Halsey Hall surmises that when a man learns he has become the father of triplets, he can hardly believe his own census.

If you haven't got $140.37 in your pocket, you've been cheated. That's the per capita circulation of money, according to the treasury department.

With all due respect to the many critics of the OPA, we feel that that agency should be given at least some credit for averting a situation that permitted sugar to sell for more than twenty cents a pound during the first World War.

Happy indeed will be the day when Uncle Sam's army is able to hang out the sign, "No Help Wanted".

Remember way back in the pre-Hershey days when the pink-wrapped Alakuma was a favorite nougat candy bar?

With a tire famine facing the nation, a lot of motorists may yet regret that they didn't obey gas rationing rules more strictly.

In the army, it seems, even a general can't slap a private in the face and get away with it.

A diplomat, we hear, is a man who never forgets a lady's birthday, but never remembers her age.

When we hear of crooners breaking records, we always hope it is recordings of their own voices they are smashing.

SPARS Celebrate First Anniversary

Members of the Women's Auxiliary Reserve in the Coast Guard learn to tie knots on a coast guard schooner in Boston harbor. They recently celebrated the first anniversary of their organization which is known as the "SPARS." This name is a condensation from the coast guard motto "Semper Paratus," meaning "Always Prepared."

Life Insurance Death Benefits in State Hit 13 Million in 9 Months

American families as a whole received $822,384,000 in death benefits under 852,788 policies and certificates in the first nine months, whereas in the same period of 1942 the number under which death claims were paid was 894,582.

Tractor Pulls Out

When your tractor gets stuck, place a chunk of wood about 3 feet long and 10 or 12 inches through, just back of the wheel attached with a log chain. This gives the wheel plenty of traction and the machine will lift itself out in nearly every case.

W. Protzeller returned home after spending a week in Minneapolis. — Verner Nelson of the staff of the First National bank returned from a trip to Illinois.—Harry Frye took over the managership of the Club cigar store from Hugo and Ralph Dahl.

Striking Similarity!

A nice old lady was visiting the hospital at Camp Livingston, La. After inspecting the clean wards and the modern medical equipment unsurpassed by even the most modern metropolitan hospitals, the lady stopped. It was just too much for her. With an expression of incredulous surprise she gasped: "Why, it's as nice as a 'real' hospital."

RED CROSS NEWS NOTES

By Mrs. Millard Peterson
Publicity Chairman

The home nursing class meets three Tuesdays each month at 8 o'clock at the home nursing room in the Knox school. We are still inviting more members to take the course, so please notify Mrs. O. G. Lynde, chairman, of your intentions. This course takes twenty-four hours, with twelve two hour periods. A Red Cross nursing certificate will be awarded members on completion of the course.

There were four ladies at the sewing room last Friday. All the work that can be done in the room is the cutting out of hospital supplies, so if more women turn out on Friday afternoons, some of the sewing can be done as well. The material that has been cut has been taken out for sewing by a group at Steiner, two groups from Goodridge, with Mrs. Peterson and Mrs. Lovelace in charge and then the Community church in the city have been taking sewing supplies.

There were 2,000 surgical dressings to be finished by Christmas at the dressing room this Tuesday. With ten meetings left before our hoped for two weeks holiday, do you think we can finish them? We need more workers as we must be ready to start on the new quota of 2 by 2's that will arrive any day. Let's do our part!

Mrs. A. B. McLaughlin, chairman of the Red Cross knitting, has informed us that the yarn that was received last week has already gone out to workers, so there will not be any more to be given out. She stated that she has written in to find out if it is possible to get in any more soon.

GRIPSHOLM TRANSFER COMPLETED AT MORMAGAO

The Japanese exchange ship, Teia Maru, left Mormagao in Portuguese India on Oct. 21, carrying the entire cargo of relief supplies, as well as 3,603 bags of next-of-kin packages and mail which had been transferred from the Gripsholm for prisoners of war and civilian interests in the Far East.

The Gripsholm left Mormagao on Oct. 22, with repatriated Americans and 445 tons of supplies for Japanese war prisoners and internees in United Nations countries. She is scheduled to reach New York on Dec. 2. Also on board are five American Red Cross nurses and a Red Cross worker, who are helping to take care of the returning civilians. Considerable quantities of warm clothing, magazines, children's games, and other supplies were sent out on the Gripsholm in order to care for the needs of returning civilians.

Axis Production Pounded

The bomber command of the RAF has been hammering at all key points in Axis-controlled Europe, with serious effects on Axis production. Apart from the colossal raids on Cologne and on Essen (the home of the Krupp works), the RAF has bombed Berlin, Milan, the Skoda works in Czechoslovakia, the Renault plant near Paris, Hamburg, Rostock, and Lubeck, Augsburg, and hundreds of other vital production centers and transportation points.

Irish Luck

The luck of the Irish was with Christopher Columbus on his Atlantic voyage in 1492! The Genoese skipper journeyed to Ireland before crossing the Atlantic, to inquire into the report that St. Brendan had once sailed across "the big pond."

Meat

Secretary of Agriculture Wickard points out that current shortages of meat are due to unusually large demands for meat supplies for lend-lease, our armed forces, and increased domestic buying power coming during a period of seasonally light marketing of meat animals. He says that marked improvement may be expected about the last of September when this year's large crop of spring pigs and the range cattle start moving to market.

Milk-Losing Cows

The number of cows milked on many farms is determined by the size of the weekly grocery bill.

EARLY CHRISTMAS MAILINGS NOT UP TO EXPECTATIONS

Quick Action Necessary to Insure Delivery by December 25

Unless there is heavy increase in mailings of gifts immediately, many persons are going to be disappointed on Christmas, Postmaster General Frank C. Walker warned today. "Indications are that the Christmas is in full swing," Mr. Walker said, "and some of the wiser shoppers are mailing gifts now, and marking them, 'Do not open until Christmas.' But the volume is very small, far below the volume of November mailings that is necessary if we are to avoid a holiday jam in transportation and postal services.

"Delivery by Christmas will be impossible this year if a flood of parcels reaches the post offices during the last few weeks before the holiday. The wartime burden on transportation and postal facilities and the transfer of 31,000 experienced postal employees to the army and navy preclude any possibility of delivering a late rush of gifts on time.

"Those who are heeding the admonition to mail now will be rewarded by the comforting assurance that their gifts will be delivered before December 25, and that their friends will experience the usual Christmas joy as a result of their thoughtfulness. But millions who intend to mail gifts are going to disappoint their friends unless they act at once.

"We cannot afford, in war time, to have the congestion of transportation facilities that has resulted in the past from late mailings.

"I want the public to know that it is necessary to mail at once for assured delivery by Christmas."

Big Potato Processing Plant Begins Operating Tuesday at E. G. Forks

A new potato processing factory, capable of treating 50,000 pounds of the vegetable an hour, was opened Tuesday in East Grand Forks, Roy Steen, president of the new firm, announced today.

Its managers believe the plant, which will make use of a new process to clean and seal the potatoes against spoilage, is the only one of its type in the world.

Tests reveal potatoes treated with this process retain their original flavor and condition for as long as 18 months and under any climatic conditions.

To take care of increased operations, the company has built a new warehouse nearly two blocks long which has a storage capacity of 360,000 bushels.

Hard Candies Will be on Market During Holidays

Hard candy will be on the market again this holiday season, due to increased sugar allowances to manufacturers and a slight increase in the ceiling prices allowable. Domestic hard candy will sell between 25 cents and 35 cents a pound. Imported hard candy, which has been coming in from Cuba and Central America because of limited sugar supplies in the United States, is reduced in price. Maximum ceiling prices are established for the manufacturer or importer, the wholesaler and retailer.

240 German Prisoners of War to Cut Timber

Send Christmas Gifts by Dec. 10, Is Plea of Railway Express Agent

The shipping of holidays gifts has already started and the public of Thief River Falls is actively cooperating with the Office of Defense Transportation, in its effort to have Christmas packages on their way by not later than December 10, according to J. H. Osborn, agent of the Railway Express Agency here.

"Apparently, our citizens appreciate the difficult situation which the transportation facilities of the country are facing", he continued, "and are eager to make this contribution to the war effort. In this way, they are helping to remove a 'bottleneck' that would otherwise impede the movement of vital war business and might even hamper huge military and essential travel of the young men and women who will want to spend their Christmas furloughs, if they have them, at home."

Advices received by Mr. Osborn indicate that retail sales are at a record high, as they are in Thief River Falls and that stores everywhere are cooperating in the effort to get the Christmas gift shipping practically completed by December 10.

No Soft Touches

The Prowlers begin their basketball campaign tomorrow night and in meeting the Fosston Greyhounds they aren't opening the season with a "soft touch." In fact a look at the 1943-44 schedule reveals that with the possible exception of the two games with the Warren Ponies, there aren't any "soft touches" on the schedule. Coach Hanna's team, during the seventeen-game schedule, will tangle with four district champions — Bemidji, Detroit Lakes, Bagley, and Roseau—and one regional champion — Bemidji—; but that's the type of competition that the inexperienced Prowlers need. Those promising sophomores and juniors should pick up a lot of basketball by the time the district tournament gets under way next March.

Local basketball fans will see only two familiar faces—captain Billy McKechnie and forward Virg Evenstad—when the Prowlers trot out on the floor tomorrow night. The remaining fifteen members of the squad—coach Hanna intends to "suit up" the entire varsity squad for the game—will be making their first appearance as varsity candidates. The Prowlers starting five will probably have McKechnie and Evenstad at the forwards, Burdell Merritt will jump center and then drop back to guard with Roger Tunberg moving up from guard after the tip-off, and Ninak Carlson will play the other guard position. With every player on the squad slated to see action, it's certain that the starting five won't remain intact very long for Hanna will substitute freely.

While the Prowlers will be playing their first game Friday night the Fosston team will be playing its third game, the Greyhounds having previously played the B.S.T.C. freshmen and the Bemidji Lumberjacks. That fact should give Fosston a slight edge in tomorrow night's tussle.

Tough Hunting

Hunters, those that bagged deer and those that merely bagged exercise, all agree that the five-day deer season, which closed last Wednesday, was plenty tough. Lack of snow and heavy cover made it difficult to trail deer, with the result that many wounded deer were lost. And after the first day's shooting most of the deer headed for the swamp-lands.

Harry Hendrickson, John Kruse and their party hunted around Fertile on the opening and had very good luck, finding a number of deer in the small thickets. Carl Green hunted around Gary and he reported good luck during the first two days, but that the deer moved into thicker cover after the opening day. Orlando Bishop and Herman Bandum had hard hunting in the swamps northeast of Grygla, but they got their venison. One of the finest bucks brot into town was shot by Williamson who hunted around ditch 20. Art Fretland and son Don filled their limit in the swamps around the Randen ridge. Roy Shetler and Vern Olson hunting southwest of Thorhult, near the Indian reservation, saw many deer and filled their limit. The Winner ridge and the Rapid river territory didn't produce as many deer as in former years. Vern Thompson, while hunting near Faunce, knocked over his buck in an odd manner. Vern had been examining an old abandoned log cabin and looking out the partly opened door he saw the buck walking past, not over twenty feet from the cabin, and shooting from the window Vern made the kill.

By the way, we can just as well get straightened out on the "point" matter when referring to buck deer. When using the eastern method of counting you add the total number of points on both antlers; while with the western method the count is made on only one antler. For instance, a buck that would be called an eight-pointer by the eastern method would be a four-point buck by the western count. The western count seems to be preferred around here.

This war isn't won yet—not by a long shot. Our boys will be fighting for quite a while. They will be needing ammunition, food, medical supplies—and all these things that are shipped in paperboard containers are made from pulpwood.

Pulpwood is our wartime job. Pulpwood can still be a bottleneck, holding up America's war effort. Our responsibility is to see that it does not. No boy shall die because we have failed.

REARING TRACTOR WORSE THAN BRONCO

Windom.—Instead of being unseated by a rearing bronco, Julius Wojohn had the novel experience of being tossed off his seat by a rearing tractor which he was "riding". The school bus which he drives loaded with kids, got stuck in a snowdrift one morning recently. Mr. Wojohn summoned the aid of a closeby farmer and his tractor. The two machines were chained together very closely to avoid the very accident that happened. While Mr. Wojohn was at the wheel of the tractor it suddenly reared straight up, unloading the driver and tipping backward on him. Only the soft snow into which he fell saved his life.

NEW LAW SAVES STATE $612,000 IN INTEREST BILL

Permits Refinancing of Rural Credit Bonds on Favorable Terms

Advantages gained under a new law passed by the Minnesota Legislature at its last session enabled the state to save $612,000 in interest charges on two issues of refunding certificates of indebtedness sold recently, Governor Edward J. Thye reported this week.

Newest factor contributing to the savings that has resulted since the state set out a few years ago to put its house in order by adopting improved arrangements for meeting its rural credit obligations has been the bill making rural credit deficiency certificates a general rather than a limited obligation of the state, the governor said.

On two issues of $6,750,000 sold, he said, the state got an interest rate as low as 1.1% and saved $612,000 in interest compared to the rate which would have prevailed, in the view of rural credit officials and investment bankers, if the legislature had not taken the action it did this year. Interest rates probably would have been as high as 1.7%, and possibly as much as 2%, these authorities believe.

REPAIRMEN ARE TO BE ALLOCATED MORE MATERIAL

Restrictions Are Eased on Repairing of Household Appliances

Homemakers' worries have been eased today, said W. L. Jensen, northwest regional WPB official, who announced the lifting of the restrictions on the repair of electric appliances, including electric irons, toasters, electric refrigerators, washing machines, and plumbing fixtures.

The order lifts the ban on the use of steel, copper and aluminum by repair shops for domestic use. Mr. Jensen said that those affected by this order are farm machinery shops, blacksmith shops, electricians, radio repair shops, plumbers, refrigerator repair shops, motor rewinders, automotive repair shops and upholstery repair shops.

On the proper certification a repair shop may buy up to 20 tons of carbon alloy steel, 500 pounds of copper and copper base alloy, brass mill and foundry products and 200 pounds of aluminum in listed forms. In addition, electrical repairmen may buy $150 worth of copper wire per quarter.

No application is required by the repairmen to purchase the above quantities of controlled material, said Jensen. Special provision is made under CMP-9-A regulation for large users of controlled materials to apply for quantities in excess of those listed above. The relaxation of the restrictions apply only to maintenance and repair work.

Careful examination of the crate from which he removed a motor for replacement in a plane revealed the crate had been made from lumber he sawed in the winter of 1940 at Buyck. Kulas found his own stamp on several of the poplar boards.

So you'll understand

As a telephone user we want you to know what is happening to the telephone business these days.

In peace times, we were able to keep the supply of telephone equipment ahead of the demand for service. But for more than a year copper, rubber and other materials normally used in large quantities by the telephone industry have had to go into fighting equipment.

Our reserves of used telephones and other equipment have been reconditioned and put back into service. This equipment is just as dependable and as serviceable as new equipment. But wartime telephone needs are so great that these, with other measures, haven't been enough and we are nearing the limit of present facilities.

New telephone service for persons defined by Government Order as "essential" users will be provided without delay. However, it no longer is possible to provide as promptly as in the past service for other new customers or additional service for present customers. Facilities shortages in some cases may cause considerable delay in providing service. In most instances, transfer of service for present customers who move will be taken care of with reasonable promptness.

We welcome applications for service and will do our best to meet everyone's requirements as promptly as possible.

Your understanding helps a lot and we thank you for it.

NEWFOLDEN

CREAMERY BUYS BUILDING

A deal that has been pending for some time culminated last Saturday, when the creamery board of directors purchased the store building from M. Solelstad, located across the street from the Smeby Hardware Co. The building will be used for a Cream Station and Feed store. Board members who acted on the transaction were Melvin Hale, A. O. Gudim, Emil Dyrud and Otto E. Hjelle. Mr. Solelstad, who for many years operated the Elyrth store, 7 miles west of Newfolden, purchased the building from Swen Swenson about 15 years ago and moved his stock here and operated a store there until he retired. From then on it has been used for different purposes and has been empty since Mr. Homestead discontinued the Red Owl store a year ago.

Misses Alice Ohlquist and Helen Johnson spent the Thanksgiving holidays at Winnipeg.

HAS NARROW ESCAPE

John Dyrud local mail carrier, who was delayed with car trouble last Saturday morning and was in a hurry to get to the postoffice probably had the most hair raising experience of his life, when he went to cross the railroad tracks and looked to see a west bound through freight bearing down on him, being unable to stop his car on account of slippery road, he swung away from the big engine and managed to avoid getting hit by crossing the rails outside of the crossing with his two outer wheels. Those who witnessed his narrow escape say that it was a matter of inches from being disastrous.

About a dozen trains pass through here daily, most of them are through freights and traveling at a good rate of speed, and many a narrow escape has been seen on the crossing. It is considered a dangerous railroad crossing and caution should be used before crossing. It's train time at all times.

Junior Class Play Friday

"Cyclone Sally" a hilarious three act comedy will be presented by the Junior Class of the Newfolden high school Friday, Dec. 3 at 8:00 P. M. in the high school auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. Bertil Haugen and Miss Gladys Lindquist were Thanksgiving guests at the Fred Lindquist home near Grand Forks, N. D.

Halbert Amundson, who was returning from Holt Wednesday of last week, lost control of his car when something went wrong with the steering apparatus and his car went across the ditch east of the river bridge and through the fence and in on Lenos Olson's field and back in the ditch again before he got it stopped. He damaged the car some, and ruined a tire. Outside of a severe shake-up Mr. Amundson received no injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hagman and Albert and Art Sorenson were supper guests at the P. J. Anderson home Thanksgiving day.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Cook and Miss Gena Tvedt were dinner guests at the Oscar Sorenson home Thanksgiving day.

Hasken Sletten stationed somewhere in England and Sgt. Vivian Sletten, who is on his way to overseas service.

Matt Lindbeck from Saskatchewan, Canada and former Foldahl township farmer is receiving old acquaintances in Marshall county. He is visiting friends and relatives here and also in and around Warren. He left for Canada over twenty years ago and has been interested in farming in Canada during that time. He arrived here from Baudette, where he has visited relatives. He is accompanied by his daughter and son Lloyd. Mrs. Lind, who visited here last fall is a sister of John Julien. Mr. Lindbeck is the father of Pvt. George Lindbeck, who is stationed at New Mexico and Pvt. Clarence Lindbeck stationed somewhere in Australia both Newfolden residents.

MINNESOTA BUTTER APPEARS IN WALES, TOO

Sebeka.—C. C. Buturff of Wadena received a Sebeka creamery butter wrapper recently from his nephew, Lt. Gene Hotz, who is stationed in Wales. While eating in a British mess in Wales the British cook brought him a butter wrapper, asking if he might have heard of the town of Sebeka. Gene with pride informed him the wrapper was from the Sebeka creamery his home county's largest creamery.

FARM BUREAU CONDUCTS ITS 1943 MEETING

More than 100 Members from Thruout County Attend Annual Session

McLEOD GIVES TALK AGAINST SUBSIDIES

Paul Engelstad Reelected Head of Association for Next Year

The Pennington County Farm Bureau association held its annual meeting in the Civic and Commerce rooms in Thief River Falls on Saturday, December 4th at 2:00 P. M. Over 100 Farm Bureau members from all parts of the county attended the meeting.

Presiding at the meeting was president Paul Engelstad of the association. Clarence Ellingson, secretary-treasurer, read the minutes of the last annual meeting and gave the treasurer's report. All reports were accepted as read.

Among the business taken up was the nomination of Mrs. H. C. Woolson as Home and Community Chairman for 1944. This nomination will be acted on at the next directors meeting.

County Agent, Ernest Palmer, gave a report of the 1944 extension program in the county. Projects emphasized in his report were the following program: 4-H club work, food production, farm help program and labor saving devices.

Mrs. Cal Toomey reported on resolutions drawn up by the following members of the committee: Mrs. Toomey, Ernest Yonke, August Scholin, Robert Lund and Anton Johnson. Among the resolutions adopted were those opposing subsidies, support of the Farm Credit Administration, stiff taxes on oleomargarine when sold as an imitation of butter and support of the national food administration on the part of farm bureau members to produce food stuffs according to the needs of the civilian population, men in the armed forces, and Allied Nations.

Stuart McLeod, manager of the Land O'Lakes plant, gave a well received talk on food subsidies. Mr. McLeod emphasized the fact that food subsidy payments will add greatly to the cost of living in spite of claims to the contrary. He stated that payments must come out of the pockets of American taxpayers, and because taxes are now dangerously extreme, the national debt must be increased by the amount of money the government spends on its citizens grocery bills.

He stated that prices can be held down only if costs of production are held down. Labor is a big cost item at this time. While supporters of the "hold the line" policy are supporting food subsidies, a large number of coal miners were given an increase of wages amounting to $1.50 a day, the cost coming out of the pockets of the American consumers, the speaker said.

In the election of officers of the Association for 1944, Paul Engelstad and V. C. Noper were reelected president and vice president, respectively.

Eldon and Stanley Larson and Harold Wasley, known as the Sindley Mountain Boys, presented several selections of fine music. A vote of appreciation was expressed to these boys.

The three door prizes offered at the annual meeting went to John Radniecki of Deer Park township, Mrs. Cal Toomey of Rocksbury, and Mrs. E. Lane of North township.

The meeting was concluded by a lunch served to all those present.

Taxpayers Association Will Meet Saturday at 2

Alfred Longren, president of the Pennington County Taxpayers association, announced today that a meeting of the organization will be held in the Civic and Commerce room Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Plans for the coming year's activities will be discussed, Mr. Longren stated.

Provisions of the proposed curfew ordinance to be submitted to the city council for consideration at a meeting next Tuesday evening were drafted Tuesday night at a meeting of representatives of local groups meeting for the second time under the leadership of the Parent-Teacher association.

Using the Fergus Falls ordinance as a model, the group recommended prohibition of loitering by children under the age of 17 after 10 o'clock on the streets or in business places, and fixing penalties on children and their parents or guardians for violations.

Chief debate at the meeting arose over exceptions to the curfew hour to be made in cases of evening school affairs and 'teen-age dances. After some argument, motions were adopted giving the school board and superintendent authority to make recommendations to the mayor as to when the curfew hour should be waived, and setting the hour in such cases at 12 o'clock midnight.

To Supt. Philip L. Fjelsted was delegated the duty of presenting the proposed ordinance to the council at its December session Tuesday evening.

ALLIED POWERS IN AGREEMENT ON WAR PLANS

Roosevelt, Churchill, Stalin Meet in Iran to Map Strategy

WILL HIT NAZIS FROM THREE DIRECTIONS

Reach Complete Agreement Regarding Timing of Operations

Leaders of the greatest Allied powers—the United States, Russia and Britain—in historic conference in ancient Persia reached full agreement to crush Germany by concerted blows from the east, west and south, it was disclosed Monday, and laid plans for a world family of democratic nations to "banish the scourge and terror of war for many generations."

This most significant of all wartime meetings bringing President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin together for the first time, was held in Teheran, capital of storied Iran (Persia) for four days, from November 28 to December 1.

The conference, further tipping the scales of defeat against Germany by incontestable unity of three chiefs of state said to have met "in extreme cordiality" came as the Allies massed strength in the west and in the Mediterranean, with Russia already pressing in from the east.

Further indicating that the blows from west and south may not long be delayed, the topmost military chieftains of America and Britain pooled their genius again, meeting from Friday through Monday in Cairo after returning from Teheran. Churchill joined them. The whereabouts of President Roosevelt since he left Teheran December 2 were not disclosed.

Stalin's safe arrival back in Moscow was announced Monday night.

The "big three" and their military staffs at Teheran "concerted our plans for the destruction of the German forces," declared the joint communique released here and signed simply by "Roosevelt, Stalin, Churchill."

"We have reached complete agreement as to the scope and timing of operations which will be undertaken from the east, west and south.

"The common understanding which we have here reached guarantees that victory will be ours" it asserted in measured words of doom for Hitlerism.

In another declaration, the conferees pledged wartime and postwar aid to Iran and invited the assistance of Iran and other peace-loving nations in establishing and maintaining peace "in accordance with the principles of the Atlantic Charter."

President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill flew the 1,250 miles from Cairo to Iran after the Pacific conference in Cairo the week before with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek which, under the shadow of the Pyramids charted the ruin of Japan.

Church Ceremony Weds Marion Backlund and Raymond Gusa Sunday

The Nazareth Lutheran church of Holt was the scene of a beautiful wedding Sunday at 4 P. M. when Marion Lucille Backlund, daughter of Mrs. Inga Backlund of Holt, and Raymond William Gusa, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Gusa of Middle River, exchanged marriage vows before an altar banked with spruce boughs and white carnations. Rev. T. C. L. Hanson of Holt officiated at the single ring ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother Oliver wore a gown of white slipper satin fashioned with a full skirt falling into a long train, long sleeves puffed at the shoulder, and fitted bodice. A fingertip veil of tulle with chantilly border fell from a braded crown and she carried a white testament with white streamers and carnations. Her only jewelry was the bridegroom's gift, a gold locket, which she wore at a sweetheart neckline.

Sylvia Sandberg, niece of the bride, was maid of honor wearing a gown of white satin and carrying a white testament with white streamers, a gift of the bride. Bridesmaids were the bridegroom's sisters, Linda and Edna Gusa, who wore gowns of pale pink silk marquisette and pale blue satin, respectively. Like the maid of honor, they had the bride's gifts, white testaments with streamers to match their gowns.

James Gusa attended his brother as best man, while Irvin Larson and Marvin Sandberg, brother-in-law of the bride, were ushers. All gentlemen wore boutonnieres of white carnations.

Preceding the bride down the isle and strewing petals was little Marlene Larson, who wore a white silk net gown over satin and carried a basket of pink carnations. Harold Hanson, wearing a white suit, carried the ring on a white pillow.

A quarter hour of prenuptial music was played by Mrs. Marvin Sandberg, sister of the bride, and the bridal party entered to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin", and left the church to Mendelssohn's Wedding March. Lucille Williams sang "Because" accompanied by Delores Sandberg, niece of the bride. The soloist wore a blue silk net gown over blue satin. Marvin Sandberg sang "Crown with Thy Benediction" while the couple were kneeling.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors for about 40 relatives and friends. A beautifully decorated wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom was the centerpiece for the table, and serving as waitresses were Betty Johnson and Vernice Smith.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Backlund wore a dark green silk crepe dress with a corsage of white carnations, while the bridegroom's mother was attired in black silk with a similar corsage.

A graduate of the Newfolden high school, the bride was employed at the Ben Franklin store in this city since July, while her husband is employed on his parents farm where they will make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Gusa left the same evening on a wedding trip to St. Paul and Minneapolis, the bride choosing dark green crepe with sequins and black accessories for her travel costume.

Avoid Rancid Lard

Never let a piece of rind get into the lard kettle, or the flavor of lard will be spoiled. Run the fat through a sausage grinder before it is tried out. That makes it possible to render the lard at a lower temperature and less time is required on the fire. Lard produced in this way never becomes strong.

'Silent Night'

"Silent Night, Holy Night!
All is calm, all is bright:
Round yon Virgin, Mother and Child . . ."

The Christmas carol which has stirred the world by the depth of its understanding, the strength of its emotional appeal and its simplicity of diction, was given to the world by a priest and the teacher in his parish. Written for a Christmas festival in 1818 by Joseph Mohr and put to music by Franz Gruber, "Stille Nacht" was finished in a little village in Austria.

Received with delight by enthusiastic parishioners, this carol found its way around a world that seemed to be listening for just this echo of the angel song.

Christmas Gifts Unknown In Most European Nations

Outside of England and the Teutonic countries, Christmas gifts are unknown in the Old World. In Latin countries, including France, gifts are exchanged on New Year's day.

In England, usually on the first weekday after Christmas, "Boxing day" is observed. Packages, small gifts, and gratuities are given to postmen, errand boys, tradesmen, porters, charwomen, etc.

Oregonian's Record

Ben Gay, Warden, Ore., believes he set some kind of record when he recently bought 334 town lots there for 10 cents each. The lots had been advertised for sale by the county for delinquent taxes for the last year and one-half, but the county had to reduce its price.

You Can't Take It With You

When mop-wielding time comes, Private Albert Karsour groans a little louder than anyone else at camp. It's not that he particularly dislikes the chore, but he can't help thinking of the $165 floor-waxing machine he bought just before he joined the army.

Use Christmas Seals and Aid Fight against T. B., Local Committee Pleads

"Use the Christmas seals that fight tuberculosis."

This is the plea of the local Christmas seal committee, which is trying to make a record-breaking seal sale to meet wartime needs. Seals are now on sale at the postoffice.

"If no one has asked you to buy seals, or if you need more for your mail, buy them now", says Mrs. Leonard Hanson, local chairman. "Every penny helps to build up the funds so urgently needed to keep tuberculosis in control in wartime".

"Tuberculosis Christmas seals serve a double purpose", the committee points out. "They are attractive decorations and they show the individual's cooperation in the effort to protect our home front from tuberculosis."

Quota of New Passenger Automobiles Is Lowest in Two Years, OPA Says

A quota of 15,500 new passenger automobiles for rationing in December—the lowest in almost two years of rationing—was announced today by OPA. This represents a reduction of 25 per cent from the November quota which in turn was a cut of almost 35 per cent from the previous month's figure. The quota for North Dakota is 115 passenger cars for December. For Minnesota the quota is 307 cars. The continued quota reduction reflects OPA's policy of spreading out the remaining supply of new cars as long as possible for essential purposes. Since no new automobiles have been produced since early in 1942, the stock in dealers hands has been gradually dwindling with the result that monthly quotas have been reduced accordingly.

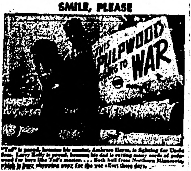
Now that the big-wigs of the four allied powers have met we can dispel some of the fears that haunted us a few months ago about the possibility of discord among the victors when the victory has been won. Following the Quebec conference between Churchill and Roosevelt there was much dissatisfaction among the people of both Britain and our country because the Russian and Chinese leaders seemingly had been ignored. The recent conferences in Cairo and Teheran have already accomplished much good because they have helped to overcome some of the suspicions that were retarding the growth of good will among the allies. They probably will do much good too in discouraging any hopes the enemy may have had of avoiding the disaster of unconditional surrender by making a separate peace with one of the allied nations. We can now look forward to the difficult problems of the post war period with greater assurance that the four great powers will be able to work together in harmony. Now that the representatives of the Big 4 have become personally acquainted with each other it might not be amiss for these friendly fellows to sponsor a party to which the smaller nations would be invited. Recognition, and an opportunity to speak, is due the people of the many smaller countries that are doing their bit to help us win this war.

Farmers are receiving more for their turkeys this year but the producer's profits are considerably lower than they were last year because of the greatly increased costs. Biggest item of cost is feed and feed bills are cutting in heavily on this year's profits. What is true for turkeys is true for all forms of livestock and if agriculture is expected to continue to produce meats at maximum capacity then there must be some drastic adjustments in the relation between feed costs and the value of the finished products. If we were operating under the normal laws of supply and demand then these adjustments would be made in a natural way over a period of time, but the normal laws of supply and demand are no longer effective. We are operating now under a so-called controlled economy and the controllers of this economy are interested primarily in holding down the consumer's cost of living. Little consideration apparently is being given to the problem of the producer who must sell his products in a market that is controlled, at prices that have no relation to his costs. Unless the controllers make some drastic changes in their policies very soon they are going to bring about a meat shortage next year that will not be in the best interests of the nation's war effort.

This week is the start of our third year of war. A year ago at this time we had little reason to be optimistic about the results. There were indications that the trend was becoming less unfavorable. The Germans and Japs had at least been held in check, but the problem of driving them back seemed almost hopeless. As we start the third year the prospect is brighter and the only question now seems to be how long will the enemy be able to continue taking the punishment. Nearly all observers agree that Hitler's war machine will crumble in 1944 and few will be surprised if this winter sees the finish of the fighting in Europe. No one expects the job in the Pacific to be finished in this third year but we will put our chips on a speedy clean-up of the Japs once Hitler is disposed of. We have already dealt more severe blows to the Japs than is indicated by the number of islands we have retaken. Shipping is Japan's life blood. It is upon shipping that the Japs must depend to maintain their far flung empire, and their shipping losses have been heavy. Now that we are definitely on the offensive and can choose where and when to strike, with superiority both on the sea and in the air, we should be able to make the war very distasteful to them during this third year.

Again we say, don't put off to the last minute that disagreeable job of reporting your income to Uncle Sam. Next Wednesday is the last day.

SMILE, PLEASE



THIS PULPWOOD GOING TO WAR

"Ted" is proud, because his master, Ambrose Herva, is fighting for Uncle Sam. Larry Kelly is proud, because his dad is cutting many cords of pulpwood for boys like Ted's master. . . . Both hail from Northern Minnesota which is busy chopping away for the war effort these days.

Topics of the Times

By N. A. N.

Altho it doesn't seem possible, it was as long as two years ago Tuesday that the Japs did their dirty work at Pearl Harbor.

We understand some folks are trying to get ahead of the coming four-cent first class postage rate by stocking up on three-cent stamps.

It's strange, we read how a lie can travel so fast when it hasn't a leg to stand on.

It ill behooves a man with the record of North Dakota's Senator Langer to try to smear Wendell Willkie, or anyone else.

Anyway, we came thru November without experiencing any zero weather hereabouts.

Christmas shoppers today are unlucky. There are only thirteen shopping days left to regret not having done it earlier.

If, they tell us, you make out your income tax return incorrectly, you are in the hands of the law; and if you make it out correctly you are in the hands of the receiver.

Too large a part of the army and navy officer personnel, it sometime seems, is chasing around the country presenting awards to war plants.

Of course, men who attend conventions don't always behave conventionally.

Thanks possibly to the silk shortage, we don't hear in this war, as in the last one, of men paying $20 for silk shirts.

Not being partial to snow, we hope the stuff will be as scarce this winter as other kinds of white goods.

Folks who are in need of Christmas gift suggestions should bear in mind that there is no shortage of war bonds.

Need Little to Keep Faith With Children at Yule

Tonight, perhaps some soldier is less lonely because he remembers the sled or drum or train he found beneath his Christmas tree one morning long ago.

It takes so little to keep faith with the children. Madame Schumann - Heink remembered one Christmas all her life. She was perhaps seven or eight when times were very hard and it did not seem as if very much was going to be left for her. But on Christmas morning the little girl found she had been remembered. Her treasure? It was an orange, round and yellow, and her very own. Just one orange saved that Christmas day for all eternity. Years later, a famous lady realized the love and sacrifice and ideals that orange represented.

'Pin Money'

Until quite recently, pins were made of wire and were very expensive—and highly prized. So, it became customary for men in ordinary circumstances to give their wives and daughters "pin money" on New Year's day.

REGULATIONS AMENDED ON RENTAL TYPEWRITERS

Soldiers Find Chinese Pay Bills at Christmas

Although their usually elaborate holiday feasts are somewhat simpler these days, the Chinese still exchange gifts. In fact, the soldiers thereabouts found gift-giving is a national weakness. And every Chinese tries to pay all his bills at Christmas time, so he may begin the New Year debtless, if penniless.

Christmas celebrations are particularly widespread in Chungking, the capital, for Gen'l Chiang Kai-shek is a Methodist and a large percentage of the Chinese are Christians.

Soldiers in India will have an English Christmas in semi-tropical surroundings. Most of the Christian population is English and there are Christmas trees, church services, nativity pageants and huge Christmas dinners—just like home.

Tomb of St. Nicholas Scene of Pilgrimage

St. Nicholas, who rules over the festival of Christmas, was born in Myra, Asia Minor, where he was bishop for 17 years. When he died in A. D. 352 his tomb became the scene of an annual pilgrimage, which continued until his remains were removed to Bari, in Italy, in 1087, where they are still venerated. He must have been a versatile person, for he is also the patron saint and protector of sailors, pawnbrokers, spinsters and thieves! His festival is really on the sixth of December.

'. . . And a Doll'

Not even Santa Claus, who has heard all the stories, could resist the blandishments of this young charmer. If she doesn't get her way, Santa's reputation for generosity is pretty well exploded.

Christmas Thanks

We thank Thee, Lord, for the world so sweet—
We thank Thee, Lord, for the food we eat—
We thank Thee, Lord, for the birds that sing—
We thank Thee, Lord, for everything.

'Cahoots With FDR'

Sergt. L. St. Pierre writes the current menu for an advanced American air base in Italy. The bill of fare board was left by the enemy. It reads: "Airport Grill, operated by Sergt. L. St. Pierre in cahoots with F.D.R. Dinner: cream of onion soup, meat balls and spaghetti, mashed potatoes, and apricots."

Heavy Shipping

By the beginning of 1942, Britain was sending to battlefronts abroad 80 per cent of her total military production, and every soldier for whom shipping space was available.

TOYS AROUSED BOYS' GENIUS

Robert Louis Stevenson's preoccupation with toy theaters in his youth, much of which was spent in illness, led to the flowering of his dramatic prose in adulthood. The Wright brothers' first interest in flying is traced to youthful experiments with kites and toy airships.

The Teddy bear is the most popular doll of all time. The first Teddy bear was designed by Margarette Steiff from a cartoonist's version of the late President Theodore ("Teddy") Roosevelt's bear hunt in the Rockies, and thus the toy was named.

Year in and year out the Teddy bear and his stuffed cousins, from Uncle Remus in 1909 to the Panda in 1937, have topped all others in popularity, the authors say. They estimate that there are some 10 million Teddy bears in American homes today.

The ball is one of the closest rivals of the doll among children and its antiquity can be traced to ancient Egypt. Pottery, wood, and papyrus balls were common in the land of Cleopatra and a manuscript of the 15th century mentions "the yellow glass used for the little balls with which school boys play, and which are very cheap."

Little Drinking by Big Game Hunters Reported

Big game hunters in Minnesota are a sober and temperate lot.

This became clear Tuesday following a cleanup of reports from state game wardens on law violations during the big game hunting season.

Not a single arrest was made for violation of the so-called drunken hunters law enacted by the last legislature, according to Verne Joslin, director of the state game and fish division, and E. R. Starkweather, head of the conservation department law enforcement bureau.

The law makes it a gross misdemeanor for any person to hunt who is visibly intoxicated or is a user of narcotics.

Part-time Workers Are Asked to Obtain Social Security Numbers Now

As the demand for extra help for the Christmas season is now developing in stores, Mr. Goldman, manager of the social security board field office in Grand Forks today pointed out that part-time, as well as full-time, employees must have social security account number cards.

"Employers are required to list social security numbers for all persons on the quarterly returns they file with the collector of internal revenue," said Mr. Goldman. "It is important, therefore, that persons having part-time, as well as full-time employment, get their social security account number cards. These can be obtained by visiting the Grand Forks field office. Persons not living in Grand Forks should apply for application forms at their local post office. The Grand Forks field office is located in the post office building.

Men Who Smashed Nazi Greenland Base

"T" Gas Coupons Will be Issued in Strips with Serial Numbers Jan. 1

The office of price administration hopes to separate gasoline black market operators from one of their major sources of supply by issuing "T" coupons in serially numbered strips, like theater tickets, beginning January 1.

Announcing the new plan, the agency said the serial coupons will make possible an instant check on the legal ownership of the tickets, and permit prosecution of any "T" holders who peddle excess coupons.

OPA also announced that all motorists will be required to change the data on their ration book covers when 1944 license plates are issued. Previously, car owners were required to take their books to ration boards, to have the changes made, but the OPA said this practice imposed too heavy a burden on the boards.

CHRISTMAS TREES NOT UNDER PRICE CEILING

Retailers and merchants will be exempt from price ceilings in the sale of Christmas trees, said Waldie Christensen, chairman of the local war price & rationing board. This is because of the variance in local costs, such as labor, freight, accessibility and quality of the trees.

URGENT PLEA BY WMC FOR MEN TO LABOR IN WOODS

Offers Fine Winter Employment for Farm Help, Says Bjornaras

An urgent call for men, especially agricultural workers, to take jobs in Minnesota's lumber camps was issued this week by Dreng Bjornaras, state director of the War Manpower Commission. Approximately 4,000 workers are needed to fully man the camps, Bjornaras said.

The plea was issued as part of WMC's effort to assist the timber and pulpwood industry in meeting the demand for timber products, so vital to the war effort. It supplements the drive to obtain a maximum output from the state's wood lots.

The extension service, as well as the operators, likewise are bending every effort to recruit timber workers, particularly persons who normally are in agriculture but who are not employed full-time and can be temporarily spared for such work.

Areas where the need is greatest are in the north and northeastern parts of the state where there are camps for anywhere from 12 to 100 men. Crews are working 48 hours a week, with time and one-half for all hours over 40 per week.

Currently, workers are earning from $7.00 to $12.00 a day, and reports are that beginners are making $8.00 a day, at the start. Most of the crews are paid "by the stick". Subsistence costs around $1.30 a day. Workers usually are housed in what the industry calls "bunk houses".

Right now, Bjornaras said, no single industry in the state is more urgently in need of manpower. Full details can be obtained from any U. S. employment office.

Sportsmens Club Sees Moose Hunting Movies at Meeting on Tuesday

More than 70 members of the Pennington County Sportsmens club, at their December meeting Tuesday night in the Civic and Commerce rooms, witnessed the showing by H. A. Baumann of colored movies of his recent moose hunting expedition in Canada, as well as the presentation of several reels of war movies. A discussion of results of the recent deer hunting season brought out the fact that about half the hunters bagged their deer. Lunch was served at the close of the evening by a committee headed by Julien Provencher.

Only 17 Pct. Fuel Oil Ration Should be Used up to December First

To aid householders in continuing to budget their rations to last through the winter, the OPA issued another report showing the maximum per cent of the total fuel oil ration which should have been used to date.

As of December 1, consumers in the Fargo-Moorhead OPA district should have burned not more than seventeen (17) per cent of their total yearly fuel oil rations, according to the OPA report.

The reports are based, first on the type of weather prevailing in each particular area as charted during the winter months by weather stations through the country, and second, on the proportion of the heating season which has elapsed.

Fosston Takes Locals; Crookston Here Friday

An inexperienced Prowler team, although outscoring their opponents from the floor, dropped a 24 to 21 decision to a veteran Fosston aggregation in a game played here Friday night. This week-end finds coach Hanna's team engaging two top-flight teams, meeting the Crookston Pirates in a district game on the local floor Friday night, and then journeying to Grand Forks for a game against coach Ed Bohnhoff's team on Saturday night.

Fosston, fresh from an 18 to 13 conquest of the Bemidji Lumberjacks, jumped into an early lead in Friday's contest. Russ Bjornerud and Chuck Haugen each popped in a pair of field goals and Bjornerud added a free throw to give the Greyhounds a 9 to 5 advantage at the end of the first period. The Prowlers, shooting at the west basket, counted their points on Virg Evenstad's two field goals and a free throw by Billy McKechnie.

Coach Hanna's team, playing a man-to-man defense, held the Greyhounds scoreless in the second stanza while counting four points, to give the Prowlers a tie score, 9 to 9, at the half. McKechnie looped in a long shot and Evenstad tallied on a try from out on the court, for the tying points.

Ninsk-Carlson opened the second half scoring with a long shot, sending the locals into the lead. Fosston's captain, Russ Hagen, dropped in a pair of free throws, and then on a break-away, dribbled in for a set-up. Fouled after he made the shot, Hagen added a point on a free throw, Fosston moving into a 14 to 11 lead. Norm Furuseth, taking a pass from Evenstad, scored on a close-in shot, and McKechnie, breaking up a Fosston play, dribbled in for a push-up shot. Haugen and Hagen registered free throws to give Fosston a 15 to 8 lead as the third period ended.

Orville Tangen found the Fosston net with a shot from the lane but Furuseth's long shot sliced the Greyhound lead, and Evenstad, on a pass from Furuseth, pumped a one-handed shot into the basket. Hagen counted on a try from the side of the court, and Frethem notched two points on a one-handed hoist from the corner of the court. Bjornerud, in the final minute of play, counted on a push-up shot following a held-ball. Herb Claffy scored the game's final points when he took a pass from Johnny Powell and broke through the Fosston zone defense for a close-in shot. The game score: Fosston, 24; Thief River Falls, 21.

Billy McKechnie and Virg Evenstad, the Prowlers' lone veterans, played ably for the Blue-and-Gold, with Evenstad scoring 8 points to tie Fosston's Blackie Hagen for high-point honors. Hagen and Chuck Haugen were the most effective players for coach Norman Wiggen's team.

A Rugged Week-end

The Prowlers admit that they are due for a rugged week-end, meeting the Crookston Pirates on the local floor tomorrow night and then playing Grand Forks Central at Grand Forks Saturday night. In playing hosts to the Pirates on Friday, the Prowlers will be entertaining the district's top-ranking team. Coach Herschel Lysaker's squad has scored wins over Climax, by three points, and Red Lake Falls, by four points, to take first place in the district standings. And based on the veteran material he has on hand, coach Lysaker should be able to keep the Pirates in first place, and go on to make a strong bid for the district and regional titles. The lineup that represented Crookston in the district tourney last spring — Howie Casmey and Bob Seilberg at forwards, Bill Reynolds at center, and Toddie Johnson and Don Youngquist at guards—has returned for another season of play. In addition, coach Hersch has lettermen Dick Sprague, Bob Lewin, and Fred Harris available for duty. The Prowlers will do well if they can keep within sight or ten points of such a veteran outfit in an early season game.

Little Known of Grand Forks

Not much is known of coach Ed Bohnhoff's Grand Forks Maroons, but they did score an overwhelming win in their first game. Bohnhoff lost a number of veterans through graduation, but he is reported to have uncovered some big and talented sophomores and juniors. And the Prowlers lack of size under the backboard indicate that the locals will have trouble in handling a big team. Fosston's Chuck Haugen made use of his height to rap in two rebounds in last Friday's game.

Incidentally, there were what could be termed "mitigating" circumstances in Fosston's surprising 18 to 13 victory over the Bemidji Lumberjacks last week. Coach Glenn Barnum's regional champions were without the services of their captain, big Phil Feir, for more than three periods of the game. Feir was forced out of the game in the first period because of an infected foot. But even a triumph over a Bemidji team that hasn't Feir in its lineup is an accomplishment. Coach Norman Wiggen was pretty proud of his Fosston team, but he is worried lest Uncle Sam takes Russ "Blackie" Hagen and Chuck Haugen from the lineup, they having both been classified 1-A, and their loss would just about wreck the Greyhounds.

The Match of the Week

The Thief River Pharmacy and the Oen's teams, of the city bowling league, turned in the match of the week last Friday night, with the Pharmacy winning the odd game. Oen's piled up an 833 total to take the first game, but the Pharmacy came back with a 903 to edge out Oen's by ten pins in the second game, and then won the final game, 819 to 796. Wally DuChamp and Clair Loretz, of the Oen's, rolled the league's top totals for the week, having a 593 and a 580, respectively. Wally DuChamp marked up a 568 total for the Pharmacy.

The Money Bowlers

Several local keglers participated in the bowling tournament at Grand Forks last Sunday, and Wally DuChamp and Cal Colvin proved to be the money bowlers. Wally and Cal rolled a 1062 total in the doubles to collect $18.00, and Wally earned another $5.00 for his 551 in the singles.

Wally had better keep his game in top form by entering these bowling tournaments because he has two hard challenge matches coming up within the next month or two. Brothers Jess and Bobby, both of whom are in the service, are reportedly doing some sensational bowling, and have challenged Wally. They figure this is the year to take over the championship of the DuChamp family. Wally doesn't appear overly worried, though.

There's a rumor that those military idiots have Hitler so befuddled he forgot to "heil!" himself on awakening this morning.

OPA TIRE QUOTAS ARE REDUCED FOR CURRENT MONTH

New Passenger Tires in District Are Cut Down from 5277 to 4481

The continuing shortage of both passenger and new truck tires is reflected in the quotas for December, Harold W. Bangert, district director, announcer today. The number of tires available for rationing is considerably smaller than in October and earlier months and for this reason more extensive use must be made of recapping service, Mr. Bangert said.

New tires (Grade 1) available for rationing in the Fargo-Moorhead district in December, according to quotas received in the district OPA office in Fargo, are 4481 new passenger tires and 2041 new truck tires, as compared with the November figures of 5,277 passenger tires and 2,358 truck tires.

The December quota for new passenger tubes for the Fargo-Moorhead district which includes all of North Dakota and 18 western Minnesota counties is 5161, and for new truck tubes is 1425, as compared to 5964 and 339 respectively for November.

8,110 Grade III tires are alloted the district as compared with 11,479 in November. The farm implement tire quota for December was reduced by 684 tires—from 1,373 in November to 689 in December.

A separate quota of farm tractor and implement tubes, however, is set up for December. Previously such tubes were charged to the truck and bus tube quota. The number alloted this district is 959 tubes.

NOVEMBER TAKES HIGH TOTAL OF 27 TRAFFIC DEATHS

Total Compares with Forty Killed in November Last Year

Twenty-seven persons were killed in motor vehicle accidents in Minnesota in November, according to preliminary reports by the state department of highways. The number has been exceeded in only two months in 1943, September and October. November deaths, however, were 13 less than the 40 killed in traffic in November, 1942.

Eleven of the 27 killed were adult pedestrians. Nine of those were crossing streets and two were walking along highways.

Three of those were children. Two were youngsters who fell out of moving vehicles and one was a boy on a bicycle.

Thirteen were adult occupants of motor vehicles. Three of these died when train hit cars and three when cars hit trains. Four were killed when cars went into the ditch, two in motor vehicle collisions, and one in a street car-automobile collision.

The November fatalities have given a further set-back to the good record made in the first eight months in 1943. Traffic fatalities from January to August were 142, or 59 less than in the same months in 1942. In September, October and November, the 86 deaths were only 23 less than in the same months last year.

Navy Air Corps Offers Aviation Opportunity to 17 and 18-Year-Olds

Seventeen and 18-year-old men who want to fly for the navy and still complete their high school education may do so under new regulations announced by navy recruiters this week.

June graduates who will not reach their 18 and one-half year birthday by July 1, and all 18-year-olds in midyear classes who became 18 after September 1, may enlist now, go on inactive duty until after graduation to await call to 8 months of college training followed by 16 months of flight training.

All candidates for enlistment must be in upper two-thirds of their class scholastically and must graduate from high school. Navy recruiting stations will aid aviation candidates under the V-5 plan in the preparation of their applications for submission to the naval aviation cadet selection board in Minneapolis.

OPA Reveals December Potato Ceiling Prices

Ceiling prices on certified seed potatoes and war approved seed potatoes have been announced by the Fargo-Moorhead OPA office.

For eastern North Dakota and Red River Valley counties in Minnesota the ceiling price for December is $3.25 per hundred. In the other Minnesota counties, ceiling price is $3.40. War approved seed potatoes carry a ceiling price of fifty cents less per hundred than the certified seed. Table stock potatoes are one dollar less than certified seed ceiling prices.

Great Northern Breaks Grain Shipping Records

All previous records for number of cars of grain loaded on the Great Northern system between June 1 and Dec. 1 were broken during the last six-month period when 86,425 cars of grain were loaded and shipped, the company announced. For the month of November a total of 11,506 cars of grain were loaded, the largest figure for that month since 1928.

WAR SERVICE FUND DRIVE IS SUCCESS OVER MINNESOTA

State Now Is Over the Top, Chairman Thomson Reveals

Tribute was paid today to the 40,000 volunteers who helped make the Minnesota War Service Fund campaign a success by Governor Edward J. Thye, who characterized the campaign as "truly a pioneer effort in the State of Minnesota".

With more than $2,448,000 already subscribed to the fund and 43 counties still continuing their drive to reach their own county quotas, the state's share of the National War Fund is assured, J. Cameron Thomson, state chairman declared. Counties short of their goal have asked to continue the drive until they have reached every citizen and given every one a chance to contribute.

"Never before have the people of the state been asked to give on such a large scale," Governor Thye said. "Minnesota yields to no other state in its realization of the demands which the successful prosecution of the war is making on all of us who are trying to do our job on the home front. Once more the people of Minnesota have demonstrated their patriotism in their generous response to this Fund to help our fighting soldiers and our gallant allies."

SQUIRREL'S NEST YIELDS ONE RACCOON

New Richland. — A couple of local hunters weary with their efforts to bag squirrels had the surprise of their life a few days ago. Weary of their fruitless hunt, a pot shot was made in a final effort and to their amazement they found the "squirrel" that tumbled from the squirrel nest was none other than a 25 pound raccoon, fully three feet in length.

Treasury Tells About Tax Return Due Dec. 15

The treasury department in Washington, D. C., this week issued the following series of questions and answers to clear up many points in connection with the federal income tax returns which are due December 15:

Q. What kind of tax filing is to be made December 15?

A. Declaration of estimated income and Victory tax, estimating how much tax certain persons will owe on their 1943 income in excess of income tax payments already made or of income tax withheld from wages or salary during the year.

Q. Wasn't that done September 15.

A. Yes. Nearly twelve million taxpayer filed declarations September 15. The only persons who have to file now are those who did not file then but are required to do so by December 15 either because, in the case of farmers, they had an automatic postponement, or because they did then not expect enough income to require filing but now anticipate higher incomes which do require filing of declarations. Also, any persons who filed in September who underestimated the tax—by 20% if non-farmers or 33⅓% if farmers—should file amended declarations by December 15 to avoid penalties.

Q. What information is required?

An estimate of your 1943 income and Victory tax, based on your estimate of 1943 income.

Q. How do I know if I have to file a declaration by December 15?

A. If you filed in September you don't need to file now unless you believe you underestimated the tax by more than 20% (33⅓% if a farmer) in which case you should file an amended declaration to avoid penalties. If you did not file in September you should file a declaration if you had in 1942 or expect to have in 1943 an income of any of the following amounts or types:

a. More than $100 gross income other than wages which are subject to withholding and also expect sufficient gross income from all sources to require filing an annual income tax return ($500 for a single person, $1200 for a married couple, or $624 for an individual married person).

b. Wages subject to withholding exceeding $2700 if single or exceeding $3500 if married ($3500 either individually or together in the case of husbands and wives both receiving wages).

In addition, a declaration must be filled by any person who was required to file an income tax return for 1942 and who expects his wages subject to withholding in 1943 to be less than the wages received in 1942.

Q. How accurate must my estimate be?

A. It should be as accurate as you can reasonably make it, since a penalty will be assessed if the tax is underestimated by more than 20% in the case of a non-farmer or 33⅓% in the case of farmers.

Q. How much is the penalty for underestimating?

A. Generally 6% of the deficiency.

Q. When will the penalties, if any, be determined?

A. After the taxpayer files his March 15 annual income tax return showing the correct tax for the year.

Q. Suppose I overestimate; what happens?

A. If an overestimate results in overpayment of the correct tax shown in the March return, the Collector will then give you a refund or credit.

Q. Can a husband and wife make a joint declaration, and if they do can they file separately next March?

A. Yes.

Q. What if I don't file a declaration?

A. There is a penalty of 10% of the tax for failure to file a declaration on time.

Q. What if I don't pay an estimated tax installment on time?

A. If the payment is late, there is a penalty of $2.50 or 2½% of the tax, whichever is greater, for each installment which is late.

Q. Where can I get copies of the forms or assistance in filling them in?

A. From your local Collector of Internal Revenue. If you have forms left over from September, however, they are still good.

Q. Hasn't the Victory tax been changed lately?

A. The only change in the Victory tax which affects the declaration relates to the post-war credit. If you use the simplified worksheet, no change is necessary. If you use the more precise worksheet, give yourself credit for all of the post-war credit (formerly, taking this credit depended on purchases of war bonds, etc.).

Q. Will I still have to file an annual tax return by next March 15?

A. Yes. Nothing in the pay-as-you-go system changes the requirement for filing an annual tax return. The only difference is that when you do file your annual return you will have paid all or a substantial part of the tax, and the only payment that you will have to make on the annual return will be any amount of tax which your annual return will show that you owe after deducting the amounts already paid under the pay-as-you-go system. In fact, many persons may be eligible for refunds or credits because their annual returns may show that they have paid somewhat more than the correct tax.

Runless stockings, waterproof bags for food and waterproof clothing are a few of the promised products from synthetic rubber.

Powerful Persuasion

Private David Chafin and Private First Class Philip Rowe were big buddies at Fort Sam Houston, Texas. But Private Rowe had an awful time rousing his pal in the morning. Each day, just after reveille, soldiers could hear Rowe pleading, "C'mon, Chafin, get up. It's almost chow time." But all of that has passed. Rowe has a new method that works. He yells, "Okay, soldier, hit the floor. First call." And Private Chafin jumps. Rowe, you see, has acquired another stripe! He's Corporal Rowe now.

FORESTRY GROUP LOOKS AHEAD TO THE COMING YEAR

Committee Outlines Factors Affecting Production During 1944

1944 may be one of the most unusual years in the history of forest industries in the State, I. A. Furlong, chairman of the forest industries information committee of Minnesota, said today. Mr. Furlong's statement followed a meeting of the committee and representatives of various forest products manufacturers.

"So many factors enter into the outlook for the coming year that it is difficult to attempt to make any prediction, but we can definitely point to four things which will chart our course," Mr. Furlong said.

"These four are government regulations, manpower shortage, postwar development and research, and heavy taxation," he pointed out.

"Much will depend on the curtailment of pulp and paper usage by the federal government next year, but we must wait until the final figure has been set," Mr. Furlong emphasized.

"The manpower shortage has been alleviated somewhat by the manner in which the woodlot farmers have responded to the call for cutting pulpwood, and of the transfer of surplus farm labor to the woods for the winter logging season. As a result, the forest industries from present indications may not suffer the curtailment in Minnesota as great as had been anticipated six months ago," he said.

During the past six months the campaign of this committee in conjunction with the national drives, has created a farmer-woodlot owner interest which has produced more pulpwood from that source than at any time in the history of Minnesota forest industries. However, the manpower shortage is still so great that further steps undoubtedly will have to be taken to stimulate the production of all forest products.

RED CROSS NEWS NOTES

By Mrs. Millard Peterson
Publicity Chairman

We are now accepting contributions to the Red Cross, for its drive to be officially opened in March. Contributions may be paid to Herman A. Kjos, Chairman, or to Fred Protz, Treasurer.

When the mail carried to the Far East on the diplomatic exchange ship Gripsholm is distributed, more than 3,000 United States prisoners of war and civilian internees held by the Japanese will receive next-of-kin parcels prepared by the American Red Cross. For several months the Red Cross has been authorized to act as next of kin for the very limited number of United States prisoners of war in Europe who have no one officially listed. Consequently, when an opportunity arose for transporting supplies to the Far East, the Red Cross, in cooperation with the War Department, arranged to extend this service to our prisoners held by the Japanese. Included also were the prisoners whose next of kin, for one reason or another, had insufficient time to prepare their parcels.

On the basis of the information at first available, plans were made to obtain, for shipment on the Gripsholm, 830 men's parcels, 296 women's, and 49 children's, but before the operation was completed the number of prisoners of war and civilian internees to whom Red Cross was asked by the War Department to send next-of-kin parcels rose to 2,892—which was the number actually loaded on the Gripsholm before she sailed from Jersey City on September 2.

The North Atlantic Area Office of the Red Cross, situated in New York City, made available all members of its staff to help in any way possible in the preparation of the parcels, and a representative of Prisoner of War Relief at national headquarters went there to supervise the operation. With the willing and helpful cooperation of all concerned, including the Office of Censorship, the War Department, and the Post Office Department, the Red Cross was able to complete the work on time, and even to include in the 2,892 "adopted" prisoners and internees several hundred previously unreported prisoners of war in the Philippines whose names were obtained by the War Department only a few days before the loading began.

The surgical dressing room will be closed for work December 10 until after New Years.

The End of the Play

by William M Thackeray

The play is done; the curtain drops,
Slow falling, to the prompter's bell;
A moment yet the actor stops
And looks around to say farewell.
It is an irksome word and task,
And when he's laughed and said his say,
He shows as he removes the mask,
A face that's anything but gay.

One word, ere yet the evening ends,
Let's close it with a parting rhyme,
And pledge a hand to all young friends,
As fits the merry Christmas time.
On Life's wide scene you, too, have parts,
That Fate ere long shall bid you play;
Goodnight! with honest, gentle hearts
A kindly greeting go alway.

Come wealth or want, come good or ill,
Let young and old accept their part,
And bow before the Awful Will,
And bear it with an honest heart.
Who misses, or who wins the prize,
Go, lose or conquer, if you can;
But if you fail or if you rise,
Be each, pray God, a gentleman.

A gentleman or old or young!
(Bear kindly with my humble lays).
The sacred chorus first was sung
Upon the first of Christmas days.
The shepherds heard it overhead—
The joyful angels raised it then:
Glory to heaven on high, it said,
And peace on earth to gentle men.

My song, save this, is little worth;
I lay the weary pen aside,
And wish you health and love and mirth,
As fits the holy Christmas-tide
As fits the holy Christmas birth,
Be this, good friends, our carol still—
Be peace on earth, be peace on earth,
To men of gentle will.

Caesar Practical; First to Hint of Gifts He Wanted

As soon as man became sufficiently civilized to devise himself some sort of a calendar, the festival of the New Year assumed importance and was designated as the proper time for gaiety, hospitality, and gift-giving.

This spirit of gift-giving presumably continued upon a haphazard path until Julius Caesar hit upon the brilliant idea of "hinting" as to the amount of money or specific "gift" he expected to receive from such and such a person.

The conquering Romans carried the custom of "ordering" precise gifts with them when they invaded the British Isles. Centuries later, the kings and queens of England, who were not as wealthy as they were reported to be, revived the custom of Caesar's day. On one New Year's day, the money and value of presents received by Henry VIII amounted to nearly 800 pounds—or about $4,000. Queen Elizabeth used the same method upon her favorites and courtiers, thereby replenishing her wardrobe with petticoats, mantles, gowns, and silk stockings, to say nothing of the bracelets, necklaces, and caskets of precious stones commandeered in like manner.

In modern America, Christmas is the gift-givingest day of all, but every child who writes a letter to Santa Claus and every fair lady who conspicuously mentions the name of her favorite perfume is perpetuating a New Year's custom invented by Julius Caesar and effectively used by medieval royalty.

Repairing Flower Vase

There's no need to discard flower vases that have developed leaks and cracks. They can easily be repaired at home. Fill the cracks with white lead, worked in with a putty knife. When the vase is colored, add a little dry color to match the vase to the white lead, working it well into the mixture before applying. Then line the inside bottom and sides with paraffin. This you can do by melting the paraffin and allowing it to run down the sides, moving the vase around so that it becomes well coated.

Growing With Your Child

Institute of Child Welfare,
University of Minnesota

Family Friction

Many parents are disturbed and worried over friction in the family; the children quarrel and there are times when the parents and children disagree. Some friction in families is inevitable and no doubt some is beneficial. The personality of an individual is formed by his experiences as he passes from infancy to adulthood. The home is the laboratory in which the personalities of its members develop. Because a person will meet friction in later life, some experience in childhood is of value as preparation.

The young child learns to write by writing. His first few attempts are unrelated marks but as he gains in skill and control the marks and lines take shape. Just so he learns to live by living and his personality develops day by day from his many experiences. Growing up is sometimes a painful process, not only to the child, but to those with whom he lives. The commotion and disturbance created by several persons who are developing at the same time and living together in a small space worries parents who would enjoy a little peace and quiet.

When a car develops squeaks and rattles, the source of trouble is located and repairs are made. Parents do not always realize the necessity for seeking the causes of the squeaks in the family machinery. Disturbances in family relations often arise because parents do not recognize the changes that take place as the child grows from infancy to maturity. For instance, adolescence is a time of rapid growth which brings about many physical and emotional changes. It is time when a child wants more freedom from authority and wants to get away from the family and make social contacts on his own. The wise parent understands the adolescent's need for more freedom and independence and gives him more and more responsibility. In this way as he grows older he learns to use his freedom and many conflicts between parents and children are prevented. When an occasion for a decision arises, a child who has been given responsibility and treated as a member of the family will usually cooperate willingly.

A family in which every member agreed to everything and with every other member would be uninteresting and would not stimulate its members to any kind of activity. Where there is no activity there is no friction, neither is there much learning. Some friction, wisely guided, will lead to better adjustment since the individual who has learned to adjust to and live with the other members of the family, will be more able to adjust to other people in the world of adults.

EVER USE A HORSE FOR DEER HUNTING?

Askov.—A new idea used by a local deer hunter to get his deer this year may have possibilities for others. Because of avoirdupois and age he realized it would be difficult to get around in the woods so perched atop a horse with a big red blanket strapped on its back he rode the woods. With very little effort said gentleman pursued and got his deer.

White Pelican

A white pelican, a rarity in Colorado, was found on a Lamar street recently. A group of boys found the bird dead, both wings broken by a shot. It measured seven feet from tip to tip and carried a 15-inch bill.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

1ST READING OF CURFEW LAW I[illegible] GIVEN TUESDAY

Measure Proposed by PTA Is Subject to Revision on Second Reading

NEW MEMBER NAMED ON CEMETERY GROUP

Council Approves Mayor's Request for Audit of City Books

The proposed new local curfew ordinance, recently drafted by representatives of various groups under the leadership of the Parent-Teacher association, was presented to the city council by Supt. Philip L. Fjelsted Tuesday evening, and the council approved a first reading in its original form.

The ordinance, however, may be amended at the time it is given a second reading, expected to be Tuesday evening, December 28, and will take effect following its third and final reading and publication. Principal provisions of the ordinance were detailed in last week's issue of the Times.

At the request of Mayor H. W. Kinghorn, the council voted to ask the state public examiner's office to audit the city's financial records for 1942-43. The last previous audit was made in 1940.

The council adopted the assessment roll in the amount of $1,524.69 covering sidewalk, curb and gutter construction on Atlantic av. from Second to Third st., and on Second st. from Horace to Atlantic av.

Action was deferred until later meeting on communication from the mayor appointing a police civil service commission. Names proposed were those of E. B. Benson, Philip Larson and A. B. Stenberg.

Subject to the appropriation being matched by the county, the council voted the sum of $150 for the maintenance in 1944 of the local office of civilian defense. Also approved was the appointment of Carl Christofferson to fill a vacancy on the Greenwood cemetery commission.

Asks Release of Water from Red Lake in Winter

In a letter this week to Tom C. White, superintendent of the Red Lake Indian agency, Walter S. Olson, director of the state division of water resources, recommended that the dam at the outlet of Red Lake be opened up to release as much water as possible during the winter months.

This action, he pointed out, will make possible additional water storage in the lake next spring, at which time flood conditions might make it advisable to shut off the outflow from the lake entirely for a period of time during the growing season.

Mr. Olson stated in his letter that the gauge at the lake outlet recorded a level of approximately 1176 when last checked by the U. S. geological survey, with an outflow of 630 cubic feet per second.

ANNUAL DRIVE FOR BOY SCOUTS OPENS MONDAY MORNING

Workers to Get Instructions at Breakfast Meeting in Palm Garden

The annual drive to raise funds locally for the support of scouting will begin after instructions have been given to 50 workers meeting at an "Early Bird" breakfast Monday, Dec. 20, at 8:15 in the Palm Garden Cafe, it was announced today by L. B. Hartz, finance chairman.

There are 15 counties in the Lake Agassiz Council of the Boy Scouts of America with headquarters at Grand Forks. Two full-time Boy Scout executives are serving this large area, and Mr. Zimmerman, is serving seven of these counties, and his headquarters are in Thief River Falls.

There are now three troops organized in Thief River Falls and the fourth one is in process of being organized. The Trinity Lutheran church has a troop, with Irving Quist as scoutmaster. The Elks are sponsoring a troop with N. Quentin Jones as scoutmaster. The Catholic church has a troop with Father O'Toole as scoutmaster.

The Boy Scouts have been doing a great deal for the war effort. President Roosevelt has commended them, and he also stated that they become better soldiers. They have assisted in blackouts and as dispatch bearers for O. W. I. information. Hundreds of tons of waste paper have been collected.

When properly informed, the average American will contribute not only money and moral support but will give their personal time in an effort to build healthy, active, and right-thinking future men, says the sponsors of the campaign.

Scouting is the greatest boy movement in America and in the world. It is reaching more boys than all other boys' movements combined—at least 9 million since its organization.

Will be Discussed at District Meeting Tuesday at Roseau

Plant Would Serve 21 Creameries in This Region, Says Getten

The plant is to be built as part of the lend-lease program, being financed with government funds.

The new plant, the site of which has not yet been determined, will enable farmers to help supply the enormous volume of powdered milks required to fill the needs of our armed forces and those of our allies, Getten stated. Dry milk powder has become a vitally important food product, and so far

Aase is chairman, and all the organizations and individuals who gave generously to this fund will be interested to know that cards which were inserted into the kit bags have been returned to the Pennington county chapter from soldiers in Northern Ireland with the following message, "We received the utility kits and cigarettes donated by your chapter and we thank you very much, sincerely yours," with signatures of ten American soldiers.

"Of the 400 bags sent out by this chapter, we are thankful to know that our work has been appreciated and that these bags have brought comfort to as many soldiers and that they know we are standing behind them and will keep on working with their interests at heart. Even though we are enjoying a Christmas holiday we know that our boys are still out on foreign soil and on battle fields fighting to preserve our right to do so. Christmas for servicemen in hospitals, fox-holes and prison camps around the world will be brighter as a result of Red Cross work done in Pennington county," Herman A. Kjos, chairman of Pennington County Chapter said today.

"Not only will thousands of our servicemen receive gifts and cheer at Christmas through the Red Cross," said Mr. Kjos, "but many hundreds of Europe's suffering children will receive gift boxes made by members of the Junior Red Cross."

Outlining the global program of the American Red Cross this Christmas, Mr. Kjos said that 750,000 gift boxes have been shipped overseas for distribution to hospitalized servicemen and those on duty in isolated outposts, more than 1,000 Christmas decoration nd party kits have been supplied to Red Cross service clubs on two continents, 10,000 special prisoner-of-war Christmas packages are being distributed in Europe and 100,000 gift boxes have been sent by the Junior Red Cross to children of the United Nations.

TAXPAYERS GROUP DISCUSSES COUNTY AFFAIRS SATURDAY

Sentiment Favors a Further Slash in Assessments of Rural Lands

Twenty members of the Pennington County Taxpayers association, most of them from the rural areas, engaged in a spirited discussion of county affairs at a meeting Saturday afternoon in the Civic and Commerce room. Alfred Longren, president, and O. L. Ihle, secretary, were in charge of the meeting.

A discussion of rural real estate taxable valuations brought out the opinion that, in spite of a reduction last year, valuations are still out of line with those in adjoining counties, and the organization will seek a further cut at the 1944 meeting of the county board of equalization.

A poll taken at the meeting indicated a majority of those present were opposed to the making of a county appropriation in 1944 for the county public health nursing service, as well as for the Valley Winter Shows at Crookston.

Also discussed was the possibility of raising rentals on real estate under the control of the county as a means of encouraging outright purchase of the tracts by county residents.

NEW LAW HELPS COUNTY OLD-AGE AID RECIPIENTS

Executive Secretary Lynskey Cites Benefits from $40 Maximum

Now that the state law providing maximum old-age assistance payments of $40 per month has been in operation for eight months, the need for this socially progressive piece of legislation can be clearly shown, states John X. Lynskey, executive secretary of the Pennington county welfare board.

He said that almost half of the recipients in this county have benefited from the law to date by receiving a payment in one or more months which was greater than the old $30 limit. This, however, he explained, does not mean that 50 per cent receive that much every month.

For the current month of December the payments are as follows: $6 to $9, two per cent; $10 to $19, ten per cent; $20 to $29, 54 per cent; and $30 to $40, 34 per cent.

The two main reasons for differences in amounts of payments, Mr. Lynskey stated, are different amounts of income and varying living costs.

Drop by Drop

Don't let your faucets drop, drop drop for want of washers. One water faucet, dropping 70 drops per minute, would waste 100 gallons of water every month, and that's a lot of water, especially if it has to be pumped.

Delivered

At Camp Blanding, Fla., Sergt. Eugene Saffold is a highly respected topkick. For up until a few days ago there wasn't a man in his company whom he couldn't handle or whose name he couldn't pronounce. Then a certain private arrived on the scene and changed the score on both counts. Not only was his name almost impossible for the sergeant to pronounce, but he was a former pro football player and professional heavyweight boxer with a record of 23 straight knockouts!

THIS CHRISTMAS

HELP TO RESTORE PEACE ON EARTH—

Give War Bonds!

THIS year our memories of other happier Christmases are more vivid than ever. The stockings, the trees, the carols, the family reunions—memories of all of these make us yearn more strongly than ever for the safe return of our husbands, brothers, sons and daughters who are far from home.

So the foremost hope of all of us is that peace shall once more return to this earth—and soon.

You can help to speed the day of victory and peace by giving War Bonds and Stamps this Christmas.

Every War Bond, every Stamp, you buy and give helps mould more bullets—load more shells—launch more ships—lift more planes into the skies!

Every War Bond, every Stamp, you buy and give will help to dictate the terms of the Armistice—and write a peace that will endure.

So give U. S. War Bonds and Stamps to everyone on your Christmas list. Give and give generously!

Remember—every War Bond and Stamp is more than a present for the one who receives it. It's a gift of peace and happiness and safety for some soldier or sailor besides!

FOREIGN PATENTS AVAILABLE TO U. S. MANUFACTURERS

Details May be Obtained at Regional Office in Fargo, N. D.

43,000 foreign patents and pending patents are being released by the Office of the Alien Property Custodian to American manufacturers on a non-exclusive basis, through the Smaller War Plants Corporation, it was announced today by P. W. Fawcett, district manager for this area in Fargo, N. D. According to Mr. Fawcett this is the first time in American industrial annals that pending patent applications have been made available to industry.

"The enemy patents will not be returned to their former owners after the war and are now being licensed on a royalty-free basis for the life of the patent," he said. These patents are the result of millions of man hours of the finest research and include inventions by leading foreign scientists and technicians in nearly every field of applied science. They include many new inventions and ideas for new products which many plants will find useful, and particularly in the production of dyestuffs, plastics, pharmaceuticals and electrical goods. As an illustration of the wide scope covered by the patents, Mr. Fawcett pointed out that there are over sixty different patents on plows alone.

In making these patents available, Leo T. Crowley, alien property custodian, Washington, D. C. said, "We are dedicating these patents to the service of American labor, American industry, and the consuming public. There are many opportunities here for the small business man to obtain the use of processes which will help him convert his plant to war production, and to establish a sound business in the post-war world."

Mr. Fawcett urged manufacturers wishing complete information about the simple licensing procedure to get in touch with his office located in the Universal Building Fargo, North Dakota. Mr. J. W. Malmquist, regional technical consultant, is in charge of the Smaller War Plants Corporation foreign patents program for the region.

OPERATING RAIL BROTHERHOODS TO STRIKE DEC. 30TH

National Mediation Board Takes Action to Avert Walkout

Setting a joint nationwide walkout date for the third time in history, the operating railroad brotherhoods Wednesday established December 30 and the three succeeding days for a "progressive strike" which the national mediation board immediately sought to avert.

The board invited railroad officials and leaders of the 350,000 unionists—97.7 per cent of whom voted for a walkout to enforce demands for wage increases—to meet Monday in Chicago. Presidents of the five brotherhoods, declaring this was "a strike against inflation for the privileged few and deflation for the many," announced they would attend.

John J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads, said in Washington the carriers also had accepted the mediation board's invitation and expressed belief a "conscientious effort" would be made by both sides to "adjust the matter."

"The outcome remains to be seen," Pelly said, "but I'm an optimist—I just can't see a nationwide railroad strike."

The railroads will be represented by the same committee which served during the wage negotiations.

Joseph B. Eastman, director of the office of defense transportation, declared "I cannot and will not believe railroad workers will resort to a strike and stop transportation."

Text of Resolutions as Adopted by Farm Bureau

Following is the full text of the resolutions adopted by the Pennington County Farm Bureau association at its annual meeting in this city December 4:

1. The Pennington County Farm Bureau recognizing the need for continued effort on the part of all farmers towards the successful prosecution of the war, it is resolved that the Pennington County Farm Bureau pledge itself to urge all members to produce food stuffs according to the needs of the country and to uphold the quotas that may be established by the National Food Administration. Those in the service of armed forces should be the best fed in the world.

2. Be it furthered resolved that food subsidies are not justified under present conditions and are not to the best interests of American agriculture or the American people. They are particularly objectionable because they are financed by borrowed money shifting our ordinary living costs to a future generation that will be less able to pay. We favor fair prices for food products, and fair wages for labor with proper controls to guarantee reasonable returns and also to guard against ruinous inflation.

3. Whereas the oleomargarine industry is making every effort to capitalize on the current acute shortage of butter, be it resolved that strong recommendations be made to our Congressmen and Representatives, both State and National, to prevent removal of taxes on this product where it is sold in imitation of butter. Be it further resolved that every possible means be used to help our advertising program to expose misleading claims made by substitutes for butter.

4. Be it resolved that immediate steps be taken to insure to producers a fair price for livestock and avoid a repetition of the market conditions that have proven so disastrous to growers in recent months.

5. Be it resolved that we urge Congress to support the Farm Credit Administration according to the Farm Credit Act of 1933.

6. Be it resolved that Congress be requested to simplify the income tax laws and forms to better enable the farmer to understand the tax return which he is to make each year.

7. Be it further resolved, that copies of these resolutions be sent to the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation; to representatives in Congress and the United States Senate.

Fond Farewell

Private Harry M. Coffee got a few days leave from the army gunnery school at Las Vegas, Nev., to go home and say good-by to his brother, who was leaving for the army. Shortly after the brother had departed, Private Coffee returned to camp. He still felt homesick, a little blue. Then one of the new recruits assigned to the gunnery school while he was away dropped in to see him. Immediately Private Coffee perked up. Correct! The recruit was the brother he had just bade good-by!

Happy Day

Even Santa Claus is smiling at the general hilarity occasioned by his visit to a naval training station. The recruits in front of the barracks may be many miles from home, but they're still celebrating Christmas with as much enthusiasm as ever.

To Sick Bay

All 70 Jap planes which attacked a U. S. navy task force in the Pacific recently were shot down after an hour-long battle. A wounded gunner from an American plane is pictured being wheeled to sick bay after the battle.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

Christmas in 1943

Although it will be our third wartime Christmas, December 25 will have a special meaning for all Americans this year. We will be able to celebrate the day with higher hopes for peace on earth than has been possible since before Pearl Harbor. We can look forward to the New Year with courage and confidence, planning ahead for a post war world in which terror, devastation, and tragedy no longer make routine headlines.

As members of an organization dedicated to the welfare of children, we can celebrate Christmas with a feeling of satisfaction, for as a result of our efforts, many children are stronger, happier, and in better accord with the world today than they were three years ago. Girl scouting has grown both in size and scope, so that more girls have been able to turn their energy and patriotism to the worth-while activities.

Just after Pearl Harbor, many people thought and some said, "But what place is there for a girls' organization like the Girl Scouts in a country at war?" Now, two years later the answer to that question is: "We have 25% more members, including thousands of new adult leaders and other volunteer workers, and the endorsement of all the women auxiliaries of the armed forces to back up our belief that girl scout training is important in war time, and a record of millions of hours of service in useful war work is formed by the girls who wear the girl scout uniform and subscribe to the girl scout laws."

There is no question any longer in anybody's mind that the work for and with the children is important war service. It is accepted, believed, and supported, for the girl scouts are regarded as one of the nations assets for post war training of youth for citizenship and service. Our job has begun and our opportunity for service to the girls of the nation will increase with the war instead of coming to an end. That is one of the strange things about girl scouting. It's needed all the time—not just when an emergency arises.

The Senior Service girl scout troop with Miss Tigen and Mrs. Lynde as leaders, are going to work at the hospital as nurses aides, giving two hours a week for their senior service work.

All girl scouts are to report to the Civic and Commerce rooms Dec. 21 at 2 o'clock for the girl scout caroling. Girl scouts will sing at both hospitals and at the sanatorium, and anyone who wishes to have carol singing for invalids or shut-ins may call 1087 or 519, and the girls will be happy to render this service.

LAND O'LAKES MEN TO DISCUSS MILK DRYING PLANT NEXT TUESDAY

the demand has greatly exceeded the supply. The proteins, vitamins and minerals in which skimmilk, or defatted milk solids as they are more properly called, are very essential in helping to maintain the health and fighting ability of our forces in all sections of the globe, he said.

According to Mr. Getten, this is the way a milk drying plant in Northwestern Minnesota would function. Farmers who so desire will sell whole milk rather than cream to the cooperating creameries. The creamery will skim off the cream, and churn it into butter as they have in the past. The skimmilk will be delivered to the milk drying plant for processing.

The farmer selling whole milk will be paid a higher price for his production. As in the past, he will be paid for the butterfat. Then, in addition, he will receive payment for the skimmilk.

In every section where creameries have increased their facilities to permit buying whole milk, for drying plants operated by Land O'Lakes, the volume of butter produced by creameries has increased, Mr. Getten reported. One reason for this, he said, is the greater efficiency of cream separation by the creamery than is usually obtained with the small hand separator.

The milk drying plants which Land O'Lakes is operating are strategically located to provide efficient and economical volume of production. In no way do they interfere with butter production.

"We aren't forgetting about postwar possibilities for the use of dry milk powders, and the plants we are opening will serve a definite need even after the war is won," he declared. "We are certain that these plants are helping to build a more profitable dairy industry for Minnesota farmers."

Mr Roe Matic came in at eight o'clock and stayed and stayed. The young lady looked bored at nine-thirty, yawned delicately at ten, talked of his long weary ride home ahead of him at eleven, yawned not so delicately at eleven-thirty and fixed a steady look at the clock at twelve. But all to no avail. He made no move to depart. At twelve-thirty she said,

"Pardon me while I get you some refreshments." In a little while she returned bearing a covered tray. He beamed with appreciation and gently lifted the cover. On the tray was a glass of orange juice, breakfast rolls, coffee and a box of "Binny Brothers' Better Breakfast Food."

BILL OF RIGHTS

Yesterday was Bill of Rights Day, the anniversary of the adoption of the first ten amendments to our constitution, in which the several freedoms that at that time were thought important, were adopted. The first of these amendments declared:

> Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press, or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, or to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

The people of that time were suspicious of politicians and demanded specific guarantees of certain individual rights. They wanted limitations placed upon the power of those in authority, probably because they had experienced personally the abuses of such power. They had authorized a strong central government but they wanted to retain their own identity as citizens. They did not wish to serve as subjects of the state.

In many respects Bill of Rights Day is just as deserving of national observance as Independence Day. Independence Day commemorates a special happy event of the past. Bill of Rights Day would remind us of a political problem that is perpetual.

SUBSIDIES ARE INFLATIONARY

Any government program that takes money out of circulation, taxes for instance, is deflationary. Any government program that puts more money into circulation, subsidies for instance, is inflationary. Subsidies definitely are inflationary in spite of what administration leaders and their armies of field workers tell us to the contrary.

A billion dollars pumped into the channels of trade by the government is far more dangerous to our economic structure, under present conditions, than a billion dollar increase in the nation's living cost because that billion of new dollars adds to the difficulty of holding down the prices of commodities that are not controlled.

We are already far along in a cycle of advancing real estate prices. So far there is no evidence that this cycle has reached the gambling stage, but considering the fact that real estate offers about the only independent investment opportunity for the huge sums of idle money in the country, it is reasonable to assume that we are not far from the speculative phase. When the government, through its subsidy program, pumps additional billions of dollars into circulation instead of taxing the dangerous surpluses out of circulation, it is speeding our trend toward national economic collapse.

Stalin has announced that Russia's biggest offensive will come this winter. Hitler knows by now that Stalin isn't much of a hand for idle talk and he probably isn't getting much comfort out of the thought that the Russian bear is just beginning to fight.

The coming week will be the week of the fewest hours of daylight, and then will come winter. It is going to be easy to keep from complaining about the cold weather this winter however. At any rate we are not going to complain loud enough for the fellows living in fox holes down in the tropics to hear us.

Livestock producers have a right to be discouraged over present market conditions, but present conditions probably will not be permanent. Observers predict that the coming year is going to bring a serious meat shortage and such predictions sound reasonable. As a result of present conditions it is anticipated that there will be a curtailment of production, which will mean a decreased supply later on. We will still adhere to our resolution never to tell people when to buy or sell, but we might observe that the inner and outer in any field of production is generally in at the wrong time and out at the wrong time. Our guess is that this is the wrong time to get out of livestock production.

Italian Women Dredge Sewers for Water

Women of Naples dredge the sewer for water. Their water supply system was destroyed by the Germans. As Allied troops pushed past Naples, a landing by the British Eight army at Termoli on the Adriatic coast further strengthened the Allied advance.

Turn About

There has been a lot of talk about the hard time the British air cadets training in America, had catching on to our expressions. But the story works both ways. Can you picture Johnny Doughboy in England speaking of oatmeal as porridge, or calling corn maize, and pie a tart. He'll have to try hard to remember that the corner drug store is the chemist-shop and that the soda jerk is not a clerk but a clark!.

Growing With Your Child

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

Safety for the Small Child

Periodically whole communities are stunned to read of the critical scalding of a small child, of little children burning to death when they had been alone at home, or infants smothering to death. And the really shocking part is that many of these accidents could be avoided.

Every precaution should be taken to make the home and its environs as safe as possible for the child who is still too young to recognize danger. Fireplaces should be screened and matches and lighted candles kept out of reach. Drugs and medicines should be kept high in a cupboard, or preferably in a locked cabinet. Young children should not be left unsupervised in a kitchen where a pot of boiling coffee or kettles of hot food are within their reach on the stove. Electric irons should not be left to be pulled off of unattended ironing boards.

Infants should not be placed in a crib with a large pillow or heavy coverings that are not fastened. If the infant rolls over he cannot right himself as can an older child. Infants should not be placed on a large bed, if there is no one to watch them, as they may roll off.

The youngster who has not yet learned the danger of playing in the street should have a safely fenced playyard, or otherwise should be accompanied with a responsible older person when out-of-doors. Hammers and nails, knives and scissors should only be used by very young children when an adult is present to direct and restrain.

Many children bear scars, while others are crippled from accidents which could have been prevented through the exercise of proper supervision. Watching out for the safety of children is one of the parent's responsibilities. And while we can give general rules that will help, each parent should examine his own home and yard with regard to its safety. Perhaps there is a loosened stair rail in the home, a poorly covered well, or a hole in the yard.

Truckers Must Arrange Now for Gasoline for First Quarter of 1944

Regardless of any information received to the contrary, all truckers must present their certificate of war necessity to their war price and rationing board in order to receive their first quarter gasoline allotment for 1944, says Waldie Christensen, chairman of the local rationing board. Truckers are urged to attend to this matter immediately in order that clerks will have sufficient time to issue the rations before Jan. 1, 1944. A certificate of war necessity may be mailed in to the board.

Satin for Suits Is New Vogue

There is a new vogue on. It is suits of gleaming "duration" satin in either black or brown. You will also see many coat dresses and suave one-piece modes of satin. The news of satin for hats is also being heralded far and wide. You will find in smart fabric collections both all-silk satins, and particularly good looking is a range of Bemberg-rayon satins. There is a novelty Bemberg satin being shown which is wonderfully attractive, in that it has a reverse side of bright stripes in Mexican colors that is surfaced in a soft duvetyn-like finish. It is stunning used in fly-back drapes or as trimming accent.

Hat and Bag Sets

It does not matter how simple or modest looking a suit or dress may be, it will take on an air of importance and distinction by teaming it with a gaily colorful hat and bag set such as milliners are taking such pride in turning out this season. Look about in the hat bars and you will come across such alluring twosomes as a tiny colot to wear back on the head together with an imposing envelope bag made of a basket weave fabric and braided all over with color-bright soutache.

Novel Gloves

One finds this season in glove collections many interesting novelties. The fabric glove that is all over embroidered is very attractive. Long black gloves have appliqued velvet butterflies up the arm. A crochet mesh white glove has very wide flaring cuffs. A black lace glove carries lavish lace frills about the wrists.

Here's Norse Legend: Kiss Under Mistletoe Sign of Reconciliation

In Norse mythology, Balder, the god who personified the sun, was hated by Lok, who planned to destroy him. Balder's mother obtained a promise from all living things, except the mistletoe, that they would not harm Balder. Lok made an arrow from the mistletoe and gave it to Balder's blind brother, Hoder, explaining how he could throw it. The arrow struck Balder, killing him, but he was restored to life and the mistletoe was placed under his mother's care so that it would never again bring harm. The custom of giving a kiss of love or peace under the mistletoe is an assurance that it will never again be an instrument of evil.

'Boxing Day' Observance Has Biblical Background

"Boxing day" is in reality St. Stephen's day and is observed in England and other Old World countries in commemoration of the biblical martyr in recognition of his having been the first to seal with his blood the testimony of fidelity to his Lord. The year in which he was stoned to death, as recorded in the Acts of the Apostles, is supposed to have been 33 A. D. Due to the custom, established many years ago, of distributing Christmas boxes or gifts of money to employees and public servants, such as postmen, lamplighters, and others, on the day after Christmas, it became popularly known as "Boxing day," and observed as a general holiday by the common people.

Old English Celebrated Yule Log Burnt at Christmas

Among the many old English Christmas festivities was the ceremony attached to bringing a great log, sometimes the root of a tree, into the household on Christmas Eve, placing it in the fireplace and lighting it with a branch of the previous year's log. While it burned through the night there was great celebration but if it went out it presaged ill luck for the coming year.

LAST STRAW

Two actors met in the street.

"Fancy meeting you, old chap," said the first. "I thought you were doing a season with a touring company."

"I finished last week," said the other. "I couldn't stand it."

"What!" exclaimed the first. "You mean you quit?"

"I had to," he replied. "I didn't mind it so much when they stopped paying salaries. And when the printing company refused us further credit, and we had to rely on gossip to advertise the show, I was not greatly upset. But when the electric company turned off the power and we started to use glow-worms for footlights, I quit!"

DON'T LET MISHAP SPOIL CHRISTMAS, IS TRAFFIC PLEA

Highway Patrol Pleads for Careful Driving over the Holidays

"Don't let an accident spoil your Christmas," is the plea of Eldon Rowe, chief of the Minnesota highway patrol. Mr. Rowe's plea was prompted by the fact that the accident toll usually soars at the holiday season. In the last five years December traffic fatalities in Minnesota have averaged 53, while the average for all months has been 47. The toll usually begins to mount about December 15, Mr. Rowe said.

Don't forget your usual caution during the holiday season," Mr. Rowe urged motorists. "Observe reasonable speed limits. Watch for icy and slippery spots and regulate your speed accordingly. Keep on the alert for pedestrians. Don't overdrive your headlights—drive at such speed that you can always stop in the space you can see ahead. When you celebrate, remember that drinking and driving don't mix.

"Pedestrians should do their part. Look both ways before crossing streets or highways, and don't cross unless you are sure you can cross in safety. Wear light clothing or carry something white to make yourself visible. Don't walk in streets or highways unless absolutely necessary, and then walk only on the left side."

Traffic fatalities in the United States were 40,000 in 1941. Dropping to 28,200 in 1942 and 15,900 in the first nine months of 1943, traffic fatalities still far exceed the 25,889 American soldiers, sailors and marines killed in action from Pearl Harbor to November 15, 1943.

Legion Post's Carnival Friday and Saturday Is Acclaimed as Success

The American Legion carnival Friday and Saturday evenings in the Auditorium was a social and financial success in spite of numerous conflicting activities, M. R. Levorson, general chairman, stated this week, adding that the affair was well patronized by local citizens and netted a substantial sum for the Legion treasury. The dance Friday evening in particular attracted a good attendance, he reported.

If you put too much strong stuff in them, the goblets will get you if you don't watch out.

Jap Scores Bullseye but U. S. Fliers Safe

Officers and crewmen of a Liberator B-24 bomber are pictured beside their plane somewhere in the Southwest Pacific shortly after raiding a Japanese base at Gasmata, New Britain. A Jap Zero pilot scored a bullseye through the center of the bomber's marking star but failed to bring the plane down. Four other heavy bombers took part in the raid.

Crookston Overcomes Prowler Lead to Win

Bob Sellberg, a left-handed pivot-shot specialist, sparked the Crookston Pirates to a 31 to 23 win over the Prowlers in a district basketball game played here Friday night. The game scheduled for the following night, when the Prowlers were to have met Grand Forks Central at Grand Forks, was postponed when a number of the Grand Forks players were stricken with influenza. This week coach Hanna's team will travel to Detroit Lakes for a contest with coach Jack Hoff's Lakers.

The Prowlers turned in a strong and well-played first half in Friday's encounter with the Crookston Pirates, the locals holding a 20 to 17 lead after the first two periods of play. Crookston, shooting at the east basket, marked up the game's first points, with Toddie Johnson scoring a free throw and Sellberg popping in a goal from close in. Virg Evenstad, on a pass from Ninsk Carlson, dribbled in for a push-up shot; but Sellberg, taking the rebound of Casmey's long shot, boosted the Pirate lead with a field goal.

McKechnie and Evenstad registered points on free throws. Casmey tossed in a Pirate free throw, and Merritt countered with a Prowler free throw. Sellberg recovered a rebound and pushed in a shot, and then pivoted into the lane and lifted a one-handed shot into the net. Burdell Merritt, on a rebound, scored for the locals and the Prowlers trailed by a 10 to 7 score as the period ended.

Johnson and Sellberg clicked for field goals early in the second period, giving the Pirates a 14 to 7 advantage. Norm Furuseth dribbled in for a set-up. Johnson, on a jump-ball play, tallied on a close shot. Furuseth connected with a one-handed try from the right side of the court, and then added a point on a free throw. Ninsk Carlson, on a floor-length dribble, sifted through the Pirate defense for a push-up shot. Evenstad notched a free throw. Sellberg, on Carlson's foul, tallied a point.

Merritt and Billy McKechnie combined for a neat goal, with Merritt getting the basket, and then adding a point when fouled by Casmey. And just at the period's close, Herb Claffy lofted a long shot into the net, giving the Prowlers a 20 to 17 lead at half-time.

The Pirates blanked the Prowlers in the third period, the locals missing four free throw attempts, while coach Herschel Lysaker's team counted once from the floor, on Sellberg's close-in shot, and twice from the free throw line, to move into a 21 to 20 lead as the fourth period opened.

Big Dick Sprague scored a point on a free throw, but Claffy pared the Pirate lead with a Prowler free throw. Howie Casmey, on a two-shot foul, chalked up two points; and Sellberg, scoring his seventh goal, hit the basket with a one-handed shot. Don Youngquist pumped in a long shot and the Pirates moved into a 28 to 21 lead. McKechnie scored a free throw and, following Sprague's free throw and Youngquist's field goal, Johnny Powell scored the game's final point on a free throw.

Sellberg, with seven field goals and two free throws, won high-point honors, and with Toddie Johnson, proved to be the most effective Crookston performers. Burdell Merritt and Norm Furuseth, with six and five points, respectively, were the Prowlers' high-point scorers. McKechnie turned in a nimble floor game, but had hard luck scoring from the court, a number of his shots rimming the basket.

Latest Disney Feature, "Saludos Amigos" to be Falls Offering Sunday

The Technicolor production of Walt Disney's latest film, "Saludos Amigo's", presenting his characters in a colorful South American background, will be shown at the Falls theatre Sunday and Monday, with a midnight prevue Saturday evening at 11:15. Donald Duck and his pals will be seen in action in Brazil, Argentine and other countries. As a second feature, "Ladies Day" will be presented, starring Lupe Velez.

"Youth in Crisis", a March of Time feature to be presented Wednesday and Thursday, will give the results of a survey of juvenile delinquency, showing the disrupting effects of wartime conditions, and suggesting several solutions of the problem.

WAR BONDS
in action

Your money goes into battle every time you invest in War Bonds—goes up to the German lines in the form of tanks, planes, assault boats as pictured here in the Mediterranean area.

Success of our troops depends upon the help they get from the home front. Bullets fired yesterday won't win tomorrow's battle. War Bonds bought last month won't pay for our next offensive. Give your dollars action: Buy More War Bonds.

YULE GIFT DONORS TO GIVE UP RATION STAMPS, SAYS OPA

Recipient of Rationed Items as Gifts Need Not Give Stamps, However

The district office of price administration clarifies the point-free Christmas present amendment to rationing regulations, explaining that ration currency must be surrendered for the purchase of rationed goods, although such articles may be subsequently as Christmas gifts. The amendment requires that stamps be surrendered only at the time of purchase.

As interpreted at the district OPA office, this amendment also permits farmers as producers to make gifts of foods during the holiday season providing they surrender ration stamps from their own ration books to the local war price and rationing board, reporting such transaction on OPA Form R-1609.

"During the holidays consumers may make gifts of rationed goods for which they have given ration stamps, without requiring the person receiving the gift to surrender stamps", explained Harold W. Bangert, district director.

The amendment applies to rationed shoes, as well as rationed foods.

A further amendment to OPA rationing regulations provides that up to January 9, 1944, packages of jams, jellies, preserves, and marmalades may be purchased point free, providing such foods were packaged as Christmas gifts prior to October 23, 1943.

Other officers elected include Wm. A. Parbst, vice president; T. J. Relerson, secretary; E. P. Burstad, financial secretary; A. R. Johnsrud, treasurer; Martin Moen, regent; M. C. Gulbranson, marshal; Mrs. Annie Aaseby, assistant marshal; August Anderson, inner guard; Christ Steen, outer guard; Mrs. Eva Schilbred, trustee; and Dr. O. F. Melby and Dr. Edward Bratrud, doctors.

A Spoke of Genius

The New Cumberland quartermaster depot received a call from a certain Pennsylvania lumber company the other day. It seems that the firm was overstocked on wooden wagon spokes. And they thought perhaps they could be put to some war use. They could and were. The army's military police are now the proud possessors of 20,000 brand new solid oak "billies"!

Deeded Oak

Destructive Female

One female moth and her decendants in a single year, if unmolested, can destroy as much wool as 13 sheep can produce in the same period.

Nowadays women read the ration book and the bank book instead of the cook book to see what to have for dinner.

Skating on Friday

Armando Pagliarini, high school faculty member who will coach the Hornets hockey team this season, has been stopping in at the Arena every day for the past two weeks checking with Chuck Dostal on the progress of the ice sheet that's being formed, and Pag was plenty glad when he learned that the Arena rink will be ready for skating on Friday. That means that Pag can complete arrangements for practice sessions on the rink and issue a call for hockey team candidates.

Having a fair number of veterans returning, Pag is quite pleased with the hockey club prospects. Big Tony Dorn is a fixture at one of the defense positions, and Bob Baker will probably be used mostly at center ice, although there is a possibility that Bob will, at times, be moved back to defense. Coach Pag intends on keeping the Les Vigness, Wes Hovie, Don Brossoit line intact, for those boys are eligible for two or three years of play and by the time that they're juniors and seniors they should be a compact, high-scoring unit.

Oh yes, it's about time, too, that Pag begins taking his anti-hives medicine. Pag is a highly emotional sort of fellow, somewhat on the order of Walt DePaul, but wishing to set an example of coolness for his team he, instead of "exploding" like Walt used to do, exercises a great deal of self-control and appears to be cucumber-cool. The penalty that Pag pays for using such self-control is that he invariably comes down with an attack of hives following every game. At least that's the information I get from Warroad, where he coached last year.

Al's Moustache

Al Weber, captain of the Thief River Creamery bowling team, shaved off his moustache on Tuesday, but the reason for that shaving is vague. Al had promised to remove those bristles when he rolled a 200 score, and he claims that he scored a 200 on the Crookston alleys; and then he says that he shaved it off because he picked up the 4-10-7 split. But perhaps the real reason is because Al, in a game of pinochle with Wally DuChamp and Herb Jung, picked up a "thousand aces."

And on that basis Abby Jaranson should be entitled to raise a moustache because in a pinochle game at the Club, Abby picked up "fifteen hundred trump". Abby, with a 640 score was playing with Mons Jelle, who had a 1450, and Happy Erickson, and got the bid on a 260. Abby then picked up a king and a jack and laid down fifteen hundred hearts and won the game. Abby will feel warm all winter after picking up a hand like that.

They're Coming Along

The performance of the Prowlers in their game against the Crookston Pirates, especially in the second period, was encouraging. A bit more luck in their basket shooting and they would have upset the favored Pirates, for the locals were able to set up their plays and drive through the Crookston defense for close-in shots. The Prowlers have a long way to come before they can be considered district contenders, but coach Hanna is pleased with the week-to-week progress that the squad is revealing. One factor that has impressed the coach favorably is that the Prowlers do not tend to become panicky and wild in their play.

The Crookston Pirates weren't very impressive in their game here Friday, and if it hadn't been for the scorching basket shooting of southpaw Bob Sellberg, it's doubtful if coach Herschel Lysaker's team would have won. In fairness to the Pirates though, it must be reported that they were without the services of their ace center, Bill Reynolds. Reynolds is treating an injured knee and will not be ready for action until after the holidays.

The Prowlers will tackle another of the northwest's top-flight teams tomorrow evening when they play coach Jake Hoff's Lakers at Detroit Lakes. Coach Hoff has six lettermen, and Keith Blake a transfer from Willmar, on his squad, and the team is rated as a district favorite. Norris Johnson, Dave Hurley, Joe Neitzke, and the others will probably carry too much punch for the Prowlers. It's sure that coach Hanna's team will have to earn their points for the Lakers can clamp on a tight zone defense on the narrow Detroit Lakes floor.

The Match-of-the-Week

That Thief River Pharmacy vs Eagles Bombers bowling match slated for Friday night should generate enough heat to break the cold spell. The two teams will be battling for the leadership in the City Bowling League. The Bombers, with Hank Storhaug, Harold Olson, Joe Larson, Harry Hendrickson, and Bush Hallstrom in the lineup have been doing some fine bowling the past few weeks; but so has the Pharmacy, and the match is just about a toss-up.

STEEL DISPLACES LUMBER IN NEW FREIGHT CARS

Fifty thousand new all-steel freight cars will be produced in 1944, according to an announcement made by northwest WPB officials today. The new steel cars, made possible by an available supply of steel and a shortage of lumber, will be known as the "Victory Design" and will be built in place of the composite wood and steel cars.

U. S. TO PRESENT LAPEL BUTTONS TO VETERANS OF WAR

All of Those with Honorable Discharges Eligible to Receive Them

Lapel buttons for those who were honorably separated after September 9, 1939 from military service can be obtained by bringing the original certificate (not a facsimile) for those honorably discharged and official certificate of service for those in the enlisted reserve corps to the personnel officer, post headquarters, Fort Snelling, commencing Monday, December 13. They will also be distributed at Camp Savage, Minnesota; U. S. army recruiting station, 3 Federal Building, Duluth, Minnesota; and Headquarters, Minnesota recruiting district, Federal Building, Minneapolis.

They will be issued at these centers to former honorably discharged members of the Army, WAACS, and WAC's. It is recommended that discharged buttons should be called for in person. If writing it is suggested that registered mail should be used and sufficient postage enclosed so that buttons and honorably discharged papers can be returned by the same method. The army will not be responsible if lost when regular mail is used.

Officers who have been separated from the service since September 9, 1939 may apply for buttons in person or in writing. In lieu of discharge certificate, applications of officers will include two true copies of separation orders placing such officers on an inactive status and statement by former officer that he or she is eligible to wear the lapel button because of former honorable service in the army of the United States.

BEST TO LET FOLKS KNOW WHEN YOU PLAN TO VISIT

Sauk Centre.—One of the most peculiar experiences is one of a mother and daughter who planned to visit each other and traveled halfway across the United States, only to find that they had passed each other en route. Mrs. M. P. Hoolihan, the daughter, arrived in this city from Seattle, Washington, on November 18th, and learned her mother, Mrs. W. J. Kreitz, had left for Seattle. After a few days visit here Mrs. Hoolihan started her return journey home to visit her mother.

We're Ready if Our Enemy Uses Gas

Top: Troops trained in gas warfare advance into a barrage of white phosphorus produced at an eastern arsenal. Bottom: Hundreds of thousands of gas-filled cylinders lie at this arsenal ready to be packed into shells and bombs if the enemy should initiate gas warfare. President Roosevelt has warned the Nazis that we are prepared to retaliate in kind.

Food Wasted in Homes of This County Would Supply Many Soldiers

Pennington county's 3,308 housewives could feed 886 soldiers for a year with the food wasted annually in homes of the county, an official of the country's leading food distributor estimated today.

This amazing figure is based on accurate government statistics which indicate that at least 1,702,398 pounds of food are wasted annually in Pennington county homes, according to Harvey A. Baum, head of A & P Tea company's produce-buying operations.

"Food is a munition of war and everyone must fight waste of it now," Baum pointed out. "Efficient food producers, processors and distributors have worked for years to reduce waste. Our company, for example, has cut waste and spoilage on perishable fruits and vegetables by 50 per cent during the past 20 years," he said. "Now the government is urging a similar war on food wasted in the home."

Kitchen efficiency, Baum suggested, should include three points: (1) buy as nearly possible just the required amount; (2) serve moderate helpings, and (3) use all left-overs.

NO AMMUNITION —TO GET DEER

Eveleth. — Lack of ammunition should not discourage a hunter in pursuit of deer is the way John E. Rozinka feels after his experience this year. While hunting in the woods near a clearing, Mr. Rozinka spotted a big six-prong buck. To his shoulder went his gun and bang, bang went two shots! The animal continued to run but suddenly stopped after a few yards and then slipped down a small hill, his head hitting a large stump. When the hunter reached the animal he found none of his shots had hit; that it was blind in one eye and when it fell its horns had been imbedded in a stump and broken its neck.

411 DRIVERS HAVE LICENSES REVOKED DURING NOVEMBER

Nearly One-fifth Less than Total for Same Month Last Year

Violation of traffic laws caused 411 Minnesota motorists to lose the right to drive in November, either through revocation or suspension of drivers' licenses. The total is exactly the same as in October, but nearly one-fifth less than the 509 revoked or suspended in November, 1942, according to a state highway bulletin.

Licenses of 156 motorists were revoked during the month. Of these 122 were for driving while under the influence of intoxicants, 4 for inebriacy, 4 for failure to stop and disclose identity, 2 for criminal negligence, 1 for reckless driving and 1 for using a car in connection with commission of a felony.

Suspensions in November totaled 255. Of these 79 were for speeding, 45 for reckless driving, 26 for refusing to take driving test, 24 for disregard of signs and signals, 24 for failure to establish financial responsibility, 24 for refusal to give statement on eye test, 13 miscellaneous.

Youthful exuberance was responsible for most of the suspensions, 145, or more than half, being persons under 21. Only 28 of those whose licenses were revoked, however, were under 21, while 113 were persons from 21 o 55 years old and 15 were persons 56 or older. Licenses of only 3 women were revoked and 10 suspended.

From January 1 to November 30, there were 1,785 licenses revoked and 2,567 suspended. A total of 1,589 licenses have been revoked following conviction for driving while under the influence of liquor, and 849 have been suspended following convictions for driving at excessive speed.

In all, the boys say there are six sets of twins at Camp Roberts. The McCabe brothers are not identical twins so the officers are not confused about them but other sets present plenty of trouble for them.

Winter Solstice Period of Many Ancient Rituals

Christmas is celebrated in honor of the Saviour's nativity, and while there are no records to prove that December 25th is the precise date, historians, astronomers, and research authorities have substantiated the fact that the event must have occurred during the time of the Winter Solstice.

The Winter Solstice, when the sun swings toward the earth once more, has been celebrated as a festival of some sort by the various peoples of the earth since, and even prior to, the recording of history.

Symbolic Palm Tree.

In ancient Egypt, the palm tree, known to put forth one shoot each month, completed its cycle of twelve during this period and was symbolic of the year's fruitful harvests and accomplishments.

The mystic rites of the Druids centered around the cutting of the Mistletoe whose branches, when cut and distributed by the Arch-Druid, traditionally bestowed blessings of nature and divine favor upon the receiver.

In the Scandinavian countries, fires were kindled in defiance of the Frost King, and families, gathered about the warmth, spent the long evenings telling weird tales involving Valkyrie and Werewolves—as well as anticipating to what distant ports their ships would sail when no longer ice-bound. The time was also sacred to Thor, and the Yule logs, great chunks of the Thunder Oak, blazed upon the hearths amid feasting and fellowship.

Honoring Saturnus.

Two Roman holidays—Brumalia and Juvenlia—were combined into one great festival in honor of Saturnus—Saturnalia. It was a period of general celebration lasting from what would correspond to our December the 18th on through the Calends of January. Processions and gift-giving were in order, the courts were adjourned and no criminals were convicted, while convention was abandoned, equality reigning among slaves and free men.

The earliest Christians solemnized the Mass of Christ, whence the word "Christmas," during Saturnalia, many of the faithful suffering persecution and martyrdom as a result. After Constantine recognized Christianity in the Fourth century, the celebration of Christmas became an established custom.

Indeed, Christmas is celebrated in honor of the Babe born in Bethlehem. And the Lord, in His Wisdom, understands that the traditions preserved from ancient customs and peoples are in keeping with the angelic enunciation of His Birth:

"Fear not; for behold I bring you good tydings of great joy, which shall be to all people."

Cash—ready cash—is waiting in Cloquet for your pulpwood, matchwood and conversion wood! We need that wood so urgently that we'll pay the highest prices in 20 years for it!

So don't wait! Prices are at their peak—and your wood is needed right now to provide matches for our armed forces—insulation for hutments and barracks—and for essential paper. You help your country by harvesting now—while you help yourself to extra cash. And remember, wood cutting counts toward draft deferment.

If you don't have a woodlot of your own, ask your County Agent, Forester or Trader about neighboring lots on which you can cut. Or, write one of the companies listed below. Get those high prices—help your country—yourself—and us!

NEED FOR WOODS WORKERS IS CITED AT BEMIDJI MEET

Camp Operators Are Paying Workers from $7 to $12 Per Day

Ways and means to quickly transfer to employment in Minnesota's timber and pulpwood industry, seasonal workers whose present jobs will end this month and in January were considered at a conference held Tuesday at Bemidji.

The meeting, called by Dreng Bjornaraa, state director, War Manpower Commission, was attended by representatives of the U. S. Forestry Service, the selective service, the agricultural extension service, and area WMC directors from all centers in the northern section of the state. The meeting enabled field representatives of agencies concerned to exchange experiences and several new ideas were incorporated into the state plan for recruiting timber workers.

Camp operators are paying $7.00 to $12.00 a day, and beginners are earning $5.00 a day.

SAVE DECEMBER 15 INCOME TAX COPY, FARMERS ADVISED

Information Will be Needed in Filing Final Return in March, 1944

Don't throw away any records you used in making your December 15 income tax declaration. Those papers will be indispensable in figuring the final tax on March 15, says S. B. Cleland, University Farm extension economist in farm management. On that date every married person with a gross income of over $624 or single person with a gross income of over $500 must make a final return.

Farmers will not be penalized for under—or overestimating their income tax, says Cleland, if their estimate of net income is not more than 33-⅓% per cent under actual amount. There is no penalty for estimating the income too high, since the December 15 payment is really a payment on account, the real settlement of the 1943 tax to be made on or before March 15. The farmer who pays too much will get credit toward the March payment, which will include the final settlement on the 1943 tax and a partial payment on the remainder of the 1942 tax. Any additional credit the farmer may have can go toward his 1944 settlement.

Since figuring the income tax will probably a regular part of farm business from now on, Cleland urges all farmers who are now keeping farm records to start doing so at once. Copies of the Minnesota Farm Record Book, either the regular edition or the special Income Tax Section, are available at the county extension office. Farmers who get book now and take their inventory will be ready to start making entries on January 1.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

At the last weekly meeting of Troop 57, sponsored by St. Bernard's parish, Ernest Barzen conducted an informal chat with the members of the troop. Mr. Barzen, a member of the troop committee, discussed the first point of the Scout Law, "A Scout is Trustworthy."

Mr. Barzen demonstrated how the other eleven points of the scout law as well as the scout's code of service are closely connected with and dependent on the boy's trustworthiness. He stated, "If a boy can be trusted he will not forget to do his daily good turn nor neglect any other point of the scout law." He also pointed out, "the trustworthy boy begins practicing acts of courtesy because he wants to do his good turn daily. Later on when he becomes a man he does his good turn without thinking of it. Then the boy has, without realizing it, become a gentleman."

The troop showed a very keen interest in Mr. Barzen's talk. James Welch, of the Wildcat Patrol, participated in the discussion regarding the point "Do a good turn daily". In the Green Bar patrol discussion after the meeting, the troop scribe, Brian Walker, keynoted the troop's response to the chat when he said, "We've got to quit wasting time fooling around between the different activities."

The Gospel According To St. Luke

AND it came to pass in those days that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus that all the world should be taxed.

2. (And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.)

3. And all went to be taxed, everyone into his own city.

4. And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David):

5. To be taxed with Mary, his espoused wife, being great with child.

6. And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

7. And she brought forth her first-born son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

8. And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

9. And, lo, an angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid.

10. And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

11. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

12. And this shall be a sign unto you: Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

13. And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying:

14. Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

15. And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

16. And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

17. And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

18. And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

19. But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

20. And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

21. And when eight days were accomplished for the circumcising of the child, his name was called JESUS, which was so named of the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

Meet John Doe!

The quartermaster iceman at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, heaved his frigid load into the refrigerator, thrust a slip at the mess sergeant and said: "Just put your John Henry on this." The non-com did so. The iceman looked at the slip and scowled. "Say, I'm a very busy man. What's the big idea?" The sergeant smiled: "I wouldn't kid you, pal. The name's Sergt. John D[illegible]!"

In the Thief River Falls area, the November volume of business as measured by bank debits marked a point 2 per cent below that attained in the Thanksgiving month of 1942. Total bank debits for eleven months of 1943 showed a 14 per cent increase when compared for similar 1942 figures. These bank debits figures are released each month by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis and represent the volume of checks drawn by depositors against their bank accounts to pay for goods.

Love of the good earth remains with ex-farmer Byron Mundel, a private at Camp Shelby, Miss. At long last he was given a furlough. It was not a week-end of moonlight and roses or courting his gal for Mundel. He hot-footed it back to the farm and had a wonderful time milking, doing chores, giving his tractor a GI inspection, and planting 140 acres of soy beans and corn!

Fire Hazards Beset Homes At Christmas

Your Christmas tree and the decorations on it are fire hazards which you will want to watch most carefully this Christmas. Remember when you bring a tree into your house it is going to dry up. A fresh cut tree will not take fire any more easily during the first day or two than would the evergreen shrubs growing outside but it becomes a more serious fire hazard every hour. At the end of a week, it will be highly flammable.

It is best to bring in a fresh tree as short a time before Christmas as possible, and to remove it as soon afterwards as you can. If you do this, ordinary precautions should prevent it from taking fire. Families, clubs, churches and business men who want to keep their trees from a week or more before Christmas until after New Year's day need observe special safeguards to keep it reasonably safe.

Place in Pan of Water.

The tree can be kept fresh if you set it up in a pan of water. Cut off the base of the tree at an angle at least one inch above the original cut and keep it standing in water during the entire period that the tree is in the house, adding water to the jar or tub in which the tree stands at intervals to keep the water level always above the cut. This method when used with fresh trees reduces the flammability as effectively as any fireproofing chemicals. Chemicals may cause the tree to turn brown or yellow or to lose its needles.

The place you select for your tree should be well away from stoves, radiators, and other sources of heat.

The tree should be well secured against falling by inconspicuous wires holding it against the wall. The tree should be so placed that standing or fallen, it cannot block a doorway which might be needed to escape from the room.

Candle Still Takes Toll.

The candle for Christmas is still taking its yearly toll of lives and property. It is found on Christmas trees more rarely every year, but none the less, it is used unwisely in many places during the Christmas season. Open flame lighting is entirely out of place unless you set up your candles and lamps well away from Christmas trees, window curtains, and burnable decorations, have a fire extinguisher handy and then keep constant watch over them.

But it is important that your Christmas lights be in good condition. A short circuit in worn wiring might be sufficient to start the tree burning. Sets bearing the label of Underwriters Laboratories, Inc., have been tested for fire hazard and pronounced safe by experts.

Prolific India

India's census, taken in 1931, reveals that 156,243,303 males and 165,384,698 females, or 91 per cent of the total population of 352,837,778, can neither read nor write. More than 200 languages were found in the country.

Money Lending

Money lending, whether by government or by private agency, is a business that has to be done rather carefully if it is to benefit both parties.

Family Reunions Are Yule Custom

Christmas is a homey time. Family dinner parties and reunions are a traditional part of the holiday season in America, and this year more than ever we will be celebrating Christmas at home.

You can add a festive note to these family get-togethers by turning them into Christmas parties. Don't plan anything elaborate—just think up some simple invitations and a game or two. Regular Christmas decorations will provide the setting.

For the invitations cut out paper snow balls, Santa Clauses or Christmas trees and write or print the invitation in ink of a contrasting color. Or buy small candy canes and attach a red paper tag with the invitation in white ink. If you're ambitious you might try writing a verse for these invitations.

From ordinary paper bags you can make party hats and head bands for the guests. Turn the top edge of the bag back in a roll until the "hat" is the right height. Paint or paste a Christmas design on these hats and they will be ready and waiting for the party. For the headbands cut strips of paper bag 2½ inches wide and decorate with gold stars, paper Christmas trees, holly, poinsettias, or cotton snowmen.

Games.

Christmas Toy Introductions.

When the members of the group are not acquainted with each other, this game will work out very nicely. Give each person a small tag on which has been written the name of some toy or object or subject of Christmas. On the back of each of these tags are written commands such as "Introduce yourself to Teddy Bear." "See that the train meets the wagon." "Discuss the price of eggs with the top." These cards must be prepared beforehand and arranged so that everyone keeps moving about introducing and being introduced to each other.

"Tip."—An English Game used at Christmas Time. Have nuts, candies, popcorn balls, etc., piled in center of table. One player leaves the room and the others select an object as "Tip." The absent player is called into the room and selects an object. He must avoid "Tip" and may have anything he gets. If "Tip" is chosen he loses his turn and must forfeit anything he has already won. A new "Tip" is chosen each time a player leaves.

A Popcorn Relay—This is lots of fun. Divide contestants into two groups. At one end of the room are fastened the ends of two long strings of very strong linen thread with a needle on each of the other ends, stuck in a stationary cork lying on a table beside two bowls of popcorn with exactly the same number of kernels in each. Each player threads a kernel of corn on the string and runs with it to the other end of the room. The contest continues until one bowl is emptied by a team.

Greeting Contest. Write out the well-known poem, "The Night Before Christmas," on slips of paper, one line to a slip. Separate the odd lines from the even lines, and give the odd slips to the men and the even ones to the women. Read the poem and announce that each player is to find the person holding the line that rhymes with his. The partners are then given pencil and paper and told to write as many forms of Christmas greetings as they can in five minutes. The winning couple receives a peppermint candy cane.

Some of these suggestions for Christmas fun have been taken from The Christmas Book, by Marguerite Ickis, a compilation of background materials and suggestions for celebrating Christmas. The material includes interesting facts about Christmas customs in other lands, ideas for parties and social activities, music, drama, decorations, and refreshments. The book is available for 50 cents from the National Recreation Association, 315 Fourth Avenue, New York City.

Conversationalist

Growing With Your Child

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

Family Fun

It is real joy to be in a family that gets fun out of living. Parents who realize that "all work makes Jack a dull boy" and can make a game out of living, are giving their children a good start in life. Home tasks can become very monotonous and tiresome unless the spirit of play is introduced into the daily routine occasionally. Although a certain amount of routine is necessary, no family should allow itself to get in such a rut of routine that it cannot stop to have a good time. The family that plays together stays together.

In a survey made for the 1929 White House Conference, it was found that family recreation contributes more than home duties to family unity. Playing together gives the member of his family opportunity to know each other for understanding comes through sharing experiences — the child who has learned to work and play with a family group will know how to work and play more satisfactorily with groups outside the family.

Good times may be planned. Special days such as religious or national holidays, birthdays or anniversaries, may be celebrated. Or good times may come about on the spur of the moment. Spontaneous good times are often enjoyed more than those that have been planned in detail. Children are so easily pleased that it takes very little to give a very ordinary occasion a festive appearance. A pan of popcorn may save a dull evening—a lighted candle may give a party air to a very plain meal. Blowing soap bubbles may make a rainy day a joyful day. Going fishing with dad may be the highlight in a child's life. If you will write down the good times that stand out in your own life you will be surprised to find that most of them center about insignificant occasions.

Children have a right to find fun in their own homes. Take time to have a good time with your children. The problem of discipline will fade into insignificance when the family has learned to play together.

Changes galore are expected in the post-war auto. But there'll still be the same back-seat driver.

Pleasant Work

There's no shirking on this job. Each of the willing helpers knows that in a few days a brightly wrapped package will be waiting under the gaily lighted tree. And nothing could be fairer than that.

Shepherd's Pie Best Meal in Single Dish

A shepherd's pie is a one-piece dish. It originated in the Balkans. The Balkan shepherds probably learned of the dish from a still older land because it is known that shepherds have lived among their flocks since the dim ages. They ate their meals far from their homes or villages, cooking them on the spot. There was only a crude fire and generally but one dish in which to cook the entire meal.

Although it is primitive and simple, a shepherd's pie is a wholesome and delicious meal in one dish. In his kettle, the shepherd boils his rice and saves what he does not eat immediately. For a later meal, he first takes bits of lamb and with slices of onion, places this upon a skewer and browns the meat and onion over a bed of coals.

Then he greases the inside of his dish and covers the bottom with a half-inch layer of left-over rice. Over the rice he slices a tomato. If he has a green pepper, thin slices of pepper are added. Some of the meat and onion are added for another layer. Then salt and pepper, more rice and the rest of the meat and tomatoes and peppers. And finally a top layer of rice.

Last of all, he pours over the mixture enough broth, or hot water if there is no broth, to about reach the top of the pie. Bake for three-quarters of an hour in a medium oven. When the top is browned, the pie is ready to eat.

The modern housewife can follow the same recipe, only she can cook the meat and the onion in a frying pan and use canned tomatoes if she prefers. The pie will bake even better in a good oven at about 450 degrees. The family casserole is a handy dish in which to make the pie. With a pound of left-over lamb as the base, here is a good meal for four.

Christmas in Spring

Quartodecimans, a small sect of early Christians, observed Christmas on the 25th of March, just after the vernal equinox. Their assumption of the date of Christ's birth was based on Pilate's words and acts. Threatened with excommunication, they finally gave in at the Council of Nice.

Baffling Problem

The proper celebration of Christmas has been improved, but there still is the problem of getting a six-foot Christmas tree home in an overcoat pocket.

Praises

Leon Henderson, administrator of OPA, recently expressed his appreciation for the co-operation of the U. S. department of agriculture and the agricultural extension service in carrying out the educational program of the OPA among farm people. The Massachusetts State college extension service held special meetings, printed educational leaflets, arranged radio talks, and news articles to explain the program.

Fighting British Troops

A third of the British troops who fought in Greece were from the United Kingdom, i. e. England, Scotland, Wales and N. Ireland. In Crete, the proportion was nearly one-half. In Libya and Eritrea it was over a half.

Why VICKS Is So Good For Relieving Miseries of Childrens Colds

More than two generations ago—in grandmother's day—mothers first discovered Vicks VapoRub. Today it is the most widely used home remedy for relieving miseries of children's colds. And here is the reason . . . The moment you rub VapoRub on the throat, chest and back at bedtime it starts to work two ways at once—and keeps on working for hours—to ease coughing spasms, help clear congestion in cold-clogged upper breathing passages, relieve muscular soreness or tightness. It promotes restful sleep. Often most of the misery of the cold is gone by morning! That's why VapoRub is so good to use when colds strike. Try it!

Yule Wreaths Easy to Make

This year, the home wreath maker can use a bit of ingenuity and concoct perhaps handsomer wreaths than ever.

Wire is scarce, so unless last year's wire frame was saved, a substitute will be needed. Some people twist two or more small, tough switches from hazel, maple or dogwood. They use this, bound with moss, as a base for the holly or evergreen wreath.

A wire coat hanger, bent to circular shape, is good for a wreath, and has the merit of being universally obtainable.

The evergreens or holly to be used for making the wreath should be cut into short lengths, longer for a large wreath, shorter for one of small diameter, but about six inches the general length.

The short sections are gathered into little bunches and wired onto the wire foundation. Strong green cord can be used to fasten them on, too, wrapping it over and over around the frame. Small wire is better if obtainable.

Another way of making a wreath is to wire each small bunch of the greens onto a toothpick, then stick these into the moss-covered framework. But for this method there must be a framework an inch or two broad instead of a single wire circle.

Holly, spruce, Douglas fir, cedar and many of the ornamental nursery varieties of evergreens may be used to make the wreath.

Poinsettia, Christmas Flower That Thrives in Warm Clime

The poinsettia is a native of Mexico and South America and thrives in the southern United States.

The true flower of the poinsettia is not the brilliant red. The flower is the small and inconspicuous center of delicate green buds. Examination will show that the colorful "flower" consists of a few topmost bracts that have turned from green to red, like autumn leaves.

Poinsettia is a four-syllable word. The correct pronunciation being poin-SET-i-uh.

Set Date for Christ's Birth in Fourth Century

Strangely, no one knows the exact date of the birth of Christ. Until some time in the Fourth century, Christmas (Christ's Mass) was variously celebrated on January 6, February 2, March 25, April 19, May 20 and November 17. In 1644, the English parliament passed an act forbidding the observance of Christmas. Later Charles II revived the Feast, as Christmas then was called.

THYE SEEKS HELP FOR FARMERS IN HOG MARKET JAM

Urges End of Price Penalty on Hogs Weighing More Than 270 lbs.

With shipments of hogs pouring into South St. Paul at a far greater rate than packers can handle them, Governor Edward J. Thye early this week asked Marvin Jones, U. S. War Food Administrator, to raise the maximum weight limit for the government support price so that farmers will not have to take a lower price for all hogs exceeding 270 pounds, the present upper limit at which the government is supporting the hog price.

Part of the unprecedented rush to get hogs to market, Governor Thye said in a telegram to Jones is due to the fact that the government now supports the price of hogs only up to 270 pounds. For hogs weighing between 200 and 270 pounds it now is paying packers a small subsidy to maintain a price of $12.45 a hundred in South St. Paul. Hogs over 270 pounds now bring about $1.50 less.

Rather than take the lower price prevailing for hogs over 270 pounds in weight, farmers are rushing them to market before they reach that figure, Governor Thye said, and stockyards as a consequence have been swamped. During days last week when South St. Paul market was open, the number of hogs received ran from 28,000 to 80,000 a day, he said, whereas packers can handle only 17,000 a day. With the congestion that has prevailed, trucks sometimes have to wait 12 hours or more to get unloaded.

Governor Thye asked Jones to extend the support price to cover hogs up to 350 pounds. If this is done, he said, many farmers will be satisfied to keep their hogs longer and "arrangements undoubtedly can be worked out for orderly marketing of the big hog crop as needed."

Physician Gives Tips on How to Escape Flu

To avoid influenza, keep up your health resistance. Dr. E. A. Meyerding, executive secretary of the Minnesota Public Health Association, lists the following precautions in this week's Christmas Seal bulletin.

"Keep away from crowds. Take a walk every day when there is sunshine. Get at least ten hours sleep every night. Include pasteurized milk and eggs in the diet. Use plenty of hot water and soap as cleansing agents. Do not rely on alcohol as a protective agent. Alcohol cannot reach flu virus in the lungs."

Dr. Meyerding said, "If you get the flu, stay home, go to bed, call the doctor and follow his advice."

Season of Colds Point to Value in Home Nursing

With many Pennington county homes facing the problems brought by the current epidemic of colds and other contagious diseases, Mrs. O. G. Lynde, home nursing chairman, took opportunity to call attention to the chapter's continuing program of free courses in home nursing. "This is the time of the year when households especially appreciate the value of having a member of the family who has had the course in Red Cross home nursing", said Mrs. Lynde.

"If the father stays home from work and the children stay home from school to combat symtoms of illness, their recoveries will be hastened and the household will move more smoothly if home nursing techniques are brought into play".

Mrs. Lynde pointed out that Dr. Thomas Parran, surgeon general of the U. S. public health service, has just been quoted on the three basic rules of home nursing:

1. Prevent illness by correct daily health habits.
2. Learn what to do for minor infections.
3. Know how to recognize an emergency demanding immediate medical care. "All the points are covered by the Red Cross home nursing course, the value of which is stressed by Dr. Parran to protect family and community health", said Mrs. Lynde. "With doctors and nurses fewer, home nursing is more important than ever, as many Pennington County people are learning". The course, she pointed out, is prepared by nursing experts cooperating with the public health service, and taught by registered nurses. A class is at present being conducted by Mrs. Lynde and is held three Tuesday evenings of every month at 8 o'clock in the Knox School. Three meetings have so far been held and any one wishing to join the group may still do so by calling Mrs. Lynde.

Class of 11 Adults to be Confirmed at Trinity

Rev. G. S. Thompson, pastor of Trinity church, announces that confirmation of a class of eleven adults, who have completed a course of instruction during the past three months, will take place at the morning service Sunday. This brings to more than 20 the number of adults confirmed in the church during 1943. The giving of the confirmation vows is a prerequisite for communicant membership in the church and classes for adults wishing such membership are conducted almost continuously. A number of the present class as well as some 20 additional families will be accepted formally into membership in the congregation thru rites at the Christmas Day festival service.

GENERAL RAIL STRIKE LOOMS IN THE NATION

Non-operating Rail Unions Set December 30 as Date of Strike

BROTHERHOODS TURN DOWN FDR PROPOSAL

Roosevelt Declares Strike Would Disrupt National War Effort

Leaders of 15 non-operating railroad unions numbering 1,100,000 workers Tuesday night set December 30 at 6 A. M. for a nationwide strike.

The operating brotherhoods, representing 350,000, already had called a strike for the same date and Tuesday they rejected a plan put forward by President Roosevelt as a basis for settlement of the wage dispute.

The 15 non-operating union chiefs said 98 per cent of their membership had voted in favor of striking to enforce their wage demands.

Heads of the non-operating unions (clerks, shopmen, etc.) issued this statement:

"More than one month ago 98 per cent of the 1,100,000 non-operating railroad employes represented by the 15 co-operating railway labor unions voted to strike.

"For more than 15 months these employes have patiently sought to secure reasonable and long overdue increases in wages but have been unable to effect an adjustment.

"The heads of these unions Tuesday granted permission to the employes to carry out their decision to strike at 6 A. M. December 30, 1943."

Meantime the five operating brotherhoods (engineers, firemen, etc.) turned down the Roosevelt settlement suggestion, based on overtime pay.

Representatives of the brotherhoods appointed a subcommittee to draft counter-proposals expected to include demands for vacation pay, lay-over expenses at terminals away from home and pay at the rate of time and one-half for work over 40 hours work in a week. The counter-proposals are to be presented today.

President Roosevelt has suggested overtime pay after 40 hours as a basis for an agreement. He told a news conference Tuesday this was discussed in his conferences with representatives of railroad management and the brotherhoods.

Mr. Roosevelt also proposes that the non-operating employes get bonus pay for work over 40 hours a week.

The president was emphatic that there must not be a railroad strike. He said he had told representatives of railroad management and the operating brotherhoods that a strike probably would be the most serious blow which could be directed against the war effort.

It is not only a question of maintaining production in this country, he said, but of supplying the men overseas who are engaged in fighting the enemy.

Rev. Skibsrud Appointed St. Hilaire Scout Leader

At the third meeting Monday evening in St. Hilaire of parents of the village called to organize a Boy Scout troop, Rev. A. O. Skibsrud was named scoutmaster and Harry Winters, chairman of the troop committee. Present from Thief River Falls to assist in the organization work were Supt. Philip L. Fjelsted, M. A. Zimmerman, field scout executive; and Morris Owen, district commissioner. Lunch was served to the group at the Winters home.

4TH WAR LOAN CAMPAIGN TO START JAN. 18

Pennington County Allotted Quota of $386,000 in Drive

PAUL LUNDGREN WILL SERVE AS CHAIRMAN

Local Committees Will be Announced after New Years Day

Pennington county has been allotted a quota of $386,000 in the Fourth War Loan campaign, which will get under way locally and thruout the nation on Tuesday, January 18, it was announced today by Paul A. Lundgren, county war finance chairman. The quota compares with $558,000 in the successful Third War Loan drive conducted last September.

Mr. Lundgren, who headed the three preceding bond campaigns, has consented to serve in the same capacity in the coming drive. He stated that, as on previous occasions, individual quotas will be set up, with local committees to handle details of the campaign to be announced early in January. He expressed confidence that citizens of Pennington county will meet their obligations to buy bonds as they have in the past.

The county, Mr. Lundgren said, will receive credit toward its quota for all Series E, F and G bonds purchased from January 1 to February 29. He added that the sale of ten-year Series E bonds will again receive special emphasis in the coming campaign.

The national goal in the campaign is $14 billion, which is one billion less than the Third War Loan. Of this sum, $5½ billion will be raised directly from individuals. This exceeds the previous high individual quota by $500 million. The rest of the $14 billion is to be raised from corporations.

Minnesota's share is $200 million. The sub-quotas are: "E" Bonds $64 million, individual purchases which include "E" Bonds $104 million, and corporate purchases $96 million. For the first time individuals of Minnesota are being asked to buy more than corporations.

Young Matrons Enjoy Holiday Party Tuesday

The Young Matrons group of the Women's Club had their annual Christmas party Tuesday evening at the Willard Still home with Mrs. Still and Mrs. Justus Larson as hostesses. Bridge was played during the evening, Mrs. John Lynskey winning high honors and Mrs. Hugh Carlson, low. Gifts were exchanged and at the close of the evening the hostesses served lunch, using the holiday theme in their decorations.

'I Resolve'

The speculative attitude of this young lady is ample proof that she is taking her New Year's resolutions seriously. She isn't going to take a chance on making a resolution she won't keep. Perhaps she has determined to study harder or to be of greater help to her mother—but at least she is going to keep her word.

New Year's Day Around the World

By MISS ABBIE CONDIT
National Recreation Association.

A New Year's party based on the customs of other countries will provide an appropriate theme for your celebration this year. Send out invitations decorated with an hour glass of the Old and New Year, inviting the guests to come in the costume of some country. Ask each to bring a "white elephant" possession, securely wrapped, for as tradition has it in Scotland, a package in the hand of the guest insures the host a bounteous year. (These gifts will be exchanged later in the evening as one of the party activities.)

Colorful decorations are in order for the party. In the Orient, dark green pine branches and light green bamboo stalks are hung on the gate posts, and tangerines and tangerine-like fruits are indicative of long life and happiness. Bright red lobsters and crabs are hung over doorways.

In China on New Year's day everyone puts on brand new clothes and goes visiting; so at our party there may be a grand march with judges, of course, to award prizes for the prettiest, funniest, and most unique costumes.

'May Joy Be Yours.'

At the end of the march each person is given a card and a pencil. On signal each tries to obtain as many signatures as he can. He approaches someone, bows in Chinese fashion, saying "Kung Hi, Kung Hi" (I humbly wish you joy), and the other replies "Sin Hi, Sin Hi" (May joy be yours). Then each writes down the other's name. At the end of five minutes the person with the largest number of names receives a trivial award.

In Belgium we hear of a "Sugar Uncle," a "Sugar Aunt." All the keys disappear from the inside doors in the houses before New Year's Day. Then, when an unsuspecting aunt or uncle goes into a room alone, the children rush to lock the doors on the outside and do not permit the aunt or uncle to come out until he or she has promised ransom with which the children will buy sugar plums and candy. Divide the group into a number of circles with 10 to 20 players in each. A leader is given a key or a bunch of keys. He walks around the group nodding at players who fall in line behind him. When about half the members of the circle are trailing along, he drops the key and all dash to find places. The one left out pays "ransom" by being "it."

'First Footer' Relay.

The circles may be easily straightened out into file formation for a "First Footer" relay. In Scotland it is considered good luck to be the first to step into a house after midnight, so there is a mad dash from house to house after the stroke of 12. Each team is a would-be "first footer." The leader counts to 12 and "on 12" the first member of each team dashes to a goal and back, touching off the next player. The first team finished is the lucky one and receives a prize of cookies or tiny cakes, as was the custom.

Boys and girls of Russia have a rather strange custom. On New Year's Day they go about throwing peas and wheat at passers-by. The peas are thrown at enemies, while the lighter wheat is reserved for friends. Wheat grains are too small to handle conveniently, so give everyone eight or ten beans of one kind and eight or ten of another kind. Do not designate which is "enemy" or "friend." Guests are to trade beans with one another and at the end of five minutes the one with the fewest enemies and the most friends is given a prize.

In France the children used to leave their wooden shoes out at Christmas time for presents, but the adults exchange gifts at New Year's time. In accordance with this custom the "white elephants" may be brought out and distributed in any manner you like—by drawing or in grab bag style. All the presents should be opened on the spot as an appropriate climax to the party.

Growing With Your Child

Children's Literature

In a short period the number of books for children has grown with amazing speed. New titles are always being added to book lists for children. There are so many fine and beautiful books for youngsters today that it is difficult to choose among them. But there are also undesirable books which are often as attractive in outer appearance and are as well illustrated as are the good books. Hence, the purchaser needs to discriminate carefully.

No doubt there are several children on your Christmas list whom you are anxious to please. A good book is always a wise choice for a gift, because it will not give momentary pleasure and be forgotten, but will be read again and again.

In deciding the right book for a particular child, one can ask several questions about the book under consideration:

1. Is it suited to the mental development of the child? While ordinarily children will be interested in books at their own age level, some children may be interested in those designed for younger children, while others may like those suitable for older children.

2. Is the subject matter interesting to this particular child? For a while one little boy of three wouldn't listen to any story that wasn't about engines.

3. Is the book one that will be read and reread, or is it so trivial that it will be looked at only once and then thrown aside?

4. Are the contents of the book desirable for children? It is so necessary to guard against books that develop fears or produce tears.

5. Is it well written? Many books are written in such shipshod English that the adult would not purchase them if he took time to read them. Even though the child is too young to be critical, it is wise to accustom him to good writing.

6. Is the book well-bound and durable? Children's books are often flimsily made, whereas they should be made to stand up under heavy usage.

7. Is it suitably illustrated, that is, are the pictures meaningful to the child and not just pleasing to the adult?

If you can answer yes to the above questions about the books you are considering, buy them, and be content in the assurance that you have chosen wisely for your young friends.

Pulpwood — A "Force" For Victory

U. S. A. Signal Corps Photo

THIS DESTRUCTIVE SHOT from a 105 mm. cannon somewhere in the South Pacific was hurled against the Japs by pulpwood, which makes over 40 per cent of the smokeless powder used in this war against tyranny. Enough powder to fire thirty-five of these shells is manufactured from a single cord of pulpwood. But look at the camouflage net which hides this deadly weapon. It is mostly paper, also from pulpwood. And remember, too, that millions of asphalt-treated paper casings protect the shells shot from these guns; that kraft board containers carry ammunition to all battlefronts. Pulpwood makes all of them. Cut more pulpwood—for Victory!

Merry Christmas, Son..

It's Christmas Eve, son . . . the tree is trimmed and all aglow . . . the Lawsons and the Wrights have just said goodnight, and Mother and I are alone. We miss you plenty, boy. Just as we did last year when you were at camp and we got your wire saying you couldn't get leave to come home. But there's this difference . . .

Last year we were looking backward; dreaming of Christmases past . . . harking back through the years to your very first Christmas when you neglected your new gifts to play with your old shoe . . . to the Christmas when Uncle Frank spent the whole day on the floor playing with your new electric train . . . to the Christmas, not too many years ago, when you got the chemical set and darned near blew up the whole house. Last year it seemed—well, as though some of the happiest days of our lives had gone, never to return.

But this year we know that the happiest day of our lives is still to come. This year we are looking ahead, waiting for the Christmas when you and your Mary are here to help trim the tree; we are thinking of the Christmas not so far away when you will be home.

And though you're farther away than ever this year—though there's a lot of blue water between you and our front door here at home, we know that every day that passes brings a little closer the great day when you will come back to all of us.

We can never forget those Christmases Past; but the joy of Christmas Present is made more real this year by the growing certainty of a Happier Christmas Yet to Come.

Merry Christmas, son.

CHEERFUL CHRISTMAS

In this fifth Christmas season of the war, the third since Pearl Harbor, we look back upon four years of a mass slaughter of human beings such as the world never before has witnessed. This is not a happy background for the celebration of the anniversary of the birth of the Prince of Peace. It is hardly the occasion for shouting the traditional wish of the season, "Merry Christmas". Wish as we will, it is not going to be a "merry" Christmas for hundreds of millions of the war's victims.

In this fifth war Christmas season, however, there is reason to be cheerful, and hopeful. We are nearing the end of the war—approaching the dawn of peace. Gradually the forces of oppression are being driven back, and while the coming months may bring great personal tragedy to many of us, they will also bring us closer to that era of "Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Man", which is the promise of the future.

Mindful of the physical suffering and mental anguish of so many millions of people thruout the world today, nevertheless, in the spirit of the season, we extend to you our best wishes for a cheerful and hopeful Christmas. May we be given the courage to carry on until victory is won; and when victory is won may we be given the wisdom to so conduct ourselves that we will be able to maintain a just and an enduring peace.

Four war criminals have been executed in Russia, three of them Germans and one a Russian. This apparently is the procedure that has been agreed upon and this one example of retribution probably will be repeated many times, especially by the people of those countries which have been ruthlessly devastated. Possibly this is the most merciful way to satisfy the demands of the tormented masses who clamor for revenge. The thought that those members of the Hitler mob who were directly responsible for the many atrocities of the German military machine would be duly tried and properly punished, may save many innocent German men and women when the day of reckoning comes. We may assume from what has happened that when the war ends Hitler and his leaders will not be permitted to retire to a private estate as did Kaiser Bill.

Congress apparently has dropped the idea of passing special election laws to enable the men in the military service to vote, and under the laws as they stand at present it isn't likely that many of our soldiers will be able to cast a ballot in next year's elections. This probably will not affect election results one way or the other. The men in the service are a cross-section of the country as a whole and their votes probably would average up about the same as the votes of the folks back home. There is this angle to the problem too. Encouraging soldiers to vote would also mean that soldiers would be encouraged by politicians to vote this way or that way and political organizations would establish branches of their machines in our military camps. That would not be in the best interests of our military organization and would not be helpful to the war effort. It will be unfortunate if, because of the war, millions of our men in camps are disenfranchised for the duration but fortunately we are approaching the end of that "duration."

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor the Times:

With your kind permission I wish to send this letter to all our many friends in and around Thief River Falls through the columns of your paper. Your paper is a good medium for such contact and it is a good medium for weekly news from there to us. We read the "Times" more thoroughly now than ever.

We can truly say that we like it out here in Seattle very much. Seattle is one of the big five centers in our country for war material production and shipping. It is a busy place and will no doubt find its population at least doubled, permanently, after the war is over. It's industries, markets and shipping will be as essential in peace as they now are in war with only some minor exceptions.

To live and work in this multiple lane traffic and rush of things is different from back home, but we like it. It calls for the very best and most that anyone can do no matter where his activity may be centered. In church work it is equally challenging. The Bethany church which we serve is a down-town church with membership spread out all over the city. We have met a large number of Minnesota people here and also many from the Thief River Falls area. Perhaps some day we will have a Minnesota Day here.

May we extend to our many friends in this way our sincere greetings with best wishes for a Blessed Christmas and New Year. We will always appreciate to hear you. Our resident address is 812 46th Str. No., Seattle, and our church and office address is Fairview Ave. N. and John Str.

Public Accountants Protest Complicated U. S. Income Tax Form

Those who groan every time they fill out a federal income tax form now have a champion. Simplification of the federal income tax law, and use of report forms far easier to understand, is demanded of congress by the Minnesota Society of Certified Public Accountants.

A resolution urging immediate appointment of a non-partisan commission to simplify the law, "and relieve taxpayers of the difficult and expensive tax reporting now required," has just been passed by the society.

"Since the passage of the original income tax law in 1913," says Ray G. McKennan of Minneapolis, chairman of the society's tax committee, "so many revisions have been made that a complex tax structure highly detrimental to the nation's future prosperity has been created.

"So complex is this law, and so involved are the many tax forms which must be filled out by wage-earners, small business men, farmers, professional men and corporations alike, that unwillful violations are increasing rapidly."

DOE WITH HORNS

Influenza Epidemic to End Shortly, Insurance Company Survey Shows

The present epidemic influenza has been definitely identified as our regular biennial visitor, Type "A"—a nuisance but so far not a killer. If the "A" bug follows its usual pattern, the present epidemic should be pretty well cleared up in most parts of the country in another two weeks, says a health bulletin from the medical department of Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

For the past decade, outbreaks of "A" type flu have occured each January of the odd-numbered years—1933, '35, '37, '39, and '41. Expected in January of 1943, the present epidemic arrived ten months behind schedule, without apologies.

Meanwhile, the virus had been isolated, tabbed, and ticketed by intensive medical research. Consistently, Type "A" hits suddenly, spreads like a forest fire, and lays thousands of people low, but is not dangerous if properly taken care of, and the individual cases are usually of only a few days' duration. An epidemic of it usually lasts about a month.

Because it is extremely contagious, it can disrupt business and other activities very effectively, but the "A" type is essentially a nuisance disease. While no one can say that this or any other flu epidemic could not quickly turn into a deadlier form of disease, prevailing medical observation is that so far there are no indications of such a catastrophe developing out of the current epidemic, as Mr. "A" seems to be behaving about the same as on his previous visitations.

Summer's passing means we have gotten rid of a lot of blood relations—mosquitoes.

A Joyous Christmas

Let Every Heart Be Glad

Christmas comes again and, though mankind is deep in a struggle for freedom, nature pauses to rest, perhaps to "count the blessings" of a fruitful season and to prepare for the Spring of another year.

In the spirit of the season we too wish to pause briefly, to count our blessings, and to give thanks for the many opportunities we have had to be of service.

And in that spirit we extend to you our best wishes for a happy holiday season. May the star of Hope shine more brightly and lead us in the ways that will make for Peace and Good Will throughout the world.

Prediction—Fewer boxes of cigars will be given for Christmas this year.

In England, the butter ration is two ounces per person per week. Who are we to complain over here?

If it is true, as President Roosevelt has stated, that "taxes are paid in the sweat of every man who labors", then folks must be perspiring freely these days.

Billy Noonan of Baudette quotes the proverb, "Man wants but little here below", and he adds that the ration boards won't believe it.

Remember, folks, if you are short on meat stamps, you can get some more by turning in your waste fats.

The current shortage of liquor ought to simplify the task of making New Years resolutions this year.

The trouble with the average man having so much money in his pocket, says a commentator, is that Mr. Morgenthau knows it.

An egotist is defined as a man who tells you those things about himself that you intended to tell about yourself.

Gas rationing no doubt is being blamed for the failure of Santa Claus to pay his usual pre-holiday visit to local youngsters.

—These radio blurbs about vitamin pills leave one with the impression that food isn't necessary to sustain life.

Spirit of Hope Symbolizes All New Year Rites

The observation of New Year's is universal, and although the precise date of its solemnization may vary among different races and creeds, the spirit of hospitality and hopefulness prevails traditionally.

Prior to China's adoption of the Gregorian calendar, the Chinese New Year was celebrated during the time of the first moon—around the first of February. Traditionally, all debts must be paid by midnight on New Year's Eve or "face" is lost on New Year's Day. In the old days, the celebration began a week prior to the Eve when homage was paid to the Kitchen God and climaxed on the "fifteenth day of the First Moon" by "Teng Chieh," the Feast of Lanterns. The progression of festivities was accompanied by good conduct among young and old, parties and exchanges of greeting cards.

Hindus Celebrate in April.

The Hindus use a lunar calendar and solemnize their New Year toward the last of April. Many of the devout make pilgrimages to the Ganges and other holy streams for the purpose of washing away their sins, others offer propitiatory gifts to the gods in local temples, while feasting, exchanges of calls and greeting cards prevail.

Rosh Hashana, the Jewish New Year, is one of the highest of Orthodox holy days. Also known as the Feast of Trumpets, the sounding of a ram's horn, the Shafor, calls the faithful to worship, reminding them of God's providence in caring for His people and rededicating them to His services. Rosh Hashana commemorates the Day of Creation and special prayers are offered in the synagogues for the restoration of Zion. In the home, the head of the house prays in behalf of his family over an apple or round loaf of bread which has been dipped in honey: the roundness thereof symbolizing the desire for a smooth and prosperous New Year.

January 'Two-Faced.'

The Gregorian month of January is the namesake of Janus, the two-faced Roman god accredited with the ability to look backward and forward simultaneously. New York city, on New Year's Eve, reflects the gaiety, toasting and meditation traditional to New Year's celebrations around the world. The streets, particularly Broadway, are thronged with thousands of festival-minded persons, the hotels, etc., are crowded with parties, and many gather in churches to welcome the New Year in prayer. As the clocks strike twelve, the noise-makers are blown full blast accompanied by the whistles on every ship, tug, etc., in the vicinity, joined by those of the surrounding communities.

Honor Norse Goddess.

Once upon a time, long before the Nordic tribes were converted to Christianity—maybe even before the Saviour was born—the tribesmen decked their lodgings with evergreens in honor of Hertha, Norse goddess of the home and domestic affairs. Hertha paid her annual visits during the time of the Winter Solstice and descended through the smoke which curled upward from the fir boughs burning upon a special altar of flat stones.

When the family and serfs were gathered before the blaze, Hertha would direct the person wisest in lore and legend to foretell the fortunes of those present.

For centuries the legend of Hertha's slippers survived in Germany. Cakes, baked in the shape of a slipper, were filled with candy and small gifts. Given to maidens and children, the slippers of Hertha supposedly bestowed the qualities of virtue, health and beauty.

American children may have never heard of Nordic Hertha, but rarely does a youngster hang up his Christmas stocking without worrying whether or not Santa Claus will be able to squeeze down the chimney.

If there really is no profanity in the Jap language how do they discuss the outcome of recent battles?

Wartime Hunters Share

With current rubber shortages, gas rationing, and concentration of gun manufacturers on America's war needs, hunters have an opportunity for service through pooling transportation and sharing guns. In this way they can save gas, oil and rubber while providing recreation for those who might otherwise be compelled to stay at home. Hunting builds health, essential for maximum wartime effort, and yields valuable meat for wartime consumption. Let's help by sharing!

CORPUS DELICTI

The Negro was brought into court, charged with stealing chickens from a neighbor. The judge asked him if he had anything to say in his defense.

"Ah sure has," returned the accused. "When Ah stole dat first chicken, mah conscience begin to bother me somethin' terrible. So de nex' day, Ah came home and apologized to de owner—and he done forgive me."

"Yes, yes," snapped the judge. "But then you hurried straight back to the hen coop and stole another chicken. How do you explain that?"

The defendant scratched his head. "Yo see, yo honor," he said, "it's dis way: When Ah went to apologise, Ah made a mistake. Ah done apologized fo' two chickens instead of one!"

ONLY THE BRAVE

"It is said that women are braver than men. Do you believe it?"

"Well, I think more of them would take a chance at marriage."

Preparation

One Sunday morning the pastor of a Negro congregation noticed that an old face had reappeared among his flock and after the sermon welcomed the supposedly repentant backslider.

"This is the first time you've been to church for a long time," he said. "I'm glad to see you."

"Ah done had to come," exclaimed Rastus. "Ah needs strength-enin'. I'se got a job whitewashin' a chicken coop an' buildin' a fence roun' a watermelon patch."

Awful Truth

The banker fell in love with an actress and decided to marry her, but to make certain he employed a private detective to report on her life.

Report: The lady has an excellent reputation, her past is without blemish, she has an excellent circle of pleasant friends. The only breath of scandal is that lately she has been seen a great deal in the company of a banker of doubtful repute.

Dilemma

Entering the newly opened shop, a neighbor exclaimed cheerfully: "Good morning, Mr. Smith! How's trade?"

"Not so good."

"I'm sorry to hear it."

"Yes," Mr. Smith went on; "when a man came into the shop yesterday and asked for an empty box, my assistant gave him the cash register."

Mason Saves Machine Man Hours

When 24-year-old Sebastiano Portuguese went from laying bricks to cutting cam shafts for the Cadillac Motor Car division of General Motors corporation, Detroit, Mich., he brought along some ideas that won for him the WPB Certificate of Individual Production Merit. One suggestion was that two operations could be done by one man instead of two if a bar were used to tie together two handles on spindles used in drilling cotter key holes. This operation is expected to save 4,000 man-hours a year.

WAR BRINGS BIG DECLINE IN MEN GOING TO PRISON

Inmates in State Institutions Drop 30 Pct. in Total Numbers

No blessing in many ways, war has brought to Minnesota one advantage which all citizens will welcome—a thirty per cent decrease in its prison population, Carl H. Swanson, director of state institutions, reported this week.

Number of inmates at the state prison at Stillwater has fallen to 987, Swanson said, compared to a normal total of around 1,500 in the pre-war years, and the number in the reformatory at St. Cloud has dropped to 741, compared to 1,100 a few years ago.

Examination of factors contributing to the decline afford an interesting commentary on reasons that bring so many persons to the state's correctional institutions. "One of the big reasons for the decrease," Swanson said, "is to be found in the great improvement in employment. It is clear that widespread unemployment increases the number who get into trouble.

"Another factor contributing to the decrease is the number of men, particularly men in the younger age group, who are in the armed services. The younger aged groups contribute a very big percentage of the offenders in normal times. Both reasons suggest that many of the men who get into trouble in normal times would not do so if they could find something useful to do."

Swanson said that the number of boys in the Red Wing training school also had been reduced, due to a speeding up of rehabilitation program. With the demands resulting from the war, he said, boys can be released more readily to take jobs in war industry, to help in farm work or go into the armed services.

More Motorists Were Assisted by Highway Patrolmen in November

Effects of the snowstorm and seasonal reduction in traffic are reflected in November activities of the Minnesota Highway Patrol, according to the report to M. J. Hoffmann, commissioner of highways, by Elden Rowe, chief patrol officer. Aids to motorists increased while arrests and warnings for traffic violations decreased.

Aids to motorists totaled 3,048 in November, compared to 1,705 in October. In November aid was given to 114 persons whose cars were in ditches, only 7 in October.

Arrests in November numbered 741, compared to 1,057 in October. Total fines imposed dropped to $10,105, compared to $14,267 in October. Illegal equipment tags dropped to 1,166 in November, compared to 1,078 in October.

Excessive speed, as in other recent months, caused the greatest number of arrests, 806 violators paying $3,510 in fines. An additional 242 were given warning tickets for excessive speed. Driving while under the influence of intoxicants was responsible for 33 arrests and collection of $2,080 in fines. Other leading causes of arrests were careless driving, 60; going through stop sign, 80; improper equipment, 70; excessive loads, 46.

Veteran Detroit Lakes Quint Whips Prowlers

BOY SCOUT NOTES

The Trinity Troop No. 60 will hold a tenderfoot investiture next Monday night, Dec. 27th, in the church parlors. All scouts aspiring for the rank of tenderfoot and proving themselves qualified are asked to report at 7:00 P. M. for the final checkup. Those of higher rank should be on duty to help with the investiture ceremony. The brotherhood also has a Christmas token for each of the boys who will be at this meeting.

The troops are looking forward to Scout Week, Feb. 6th thru 12th, when a court of honor will be held in the City Autorium. That will be a joint endeavor for advancement by all scouts in the Thief River Falls district. At that time scouts may advance to second class or any higher rank up to and including the Eagle. Merit badge awards will also be made for special endeavors.

Several scouts met last Thursday night at the Lincoln high school gymnasium for a physical fitness workout. Basketball, tumbling, wrestling and other athletics are included in this program which will lead to a merit badge for athletics. These meetings will be continued after the holidays and the only requirement for any scout to participate in them is that he pursues a normal rate of advancement. Those who don't work, can't play. So get busy for further advancement in February.

Mr. Fjelstad has been selected as president of the Thief River Falls District of the Boy Scouts of America, and a comprehensive program is being set up for the boys of the entire district.

Mexicans in Texas

Texas has nearly 160,000 residents who crossed the border from Mexico, and California, 135,000. Immigrants from Mexico exceed 375,000, most of whom reside in the southern border states.

The 1940 census lists a little over 125,000 as Japanese, practically all on the West coast. California had more than 90,000. New York's Japanese population of some 2,500 was slightly exceeded by Colorado, and almost equaled by Utah.

Winter Farm Shop

If the farm shop can be heated in winter, much repair work can be done when other work is not pressing.

The Prowlers, although continuing to show steady improvement in their play, were outpointed by the veteran Detroit Lakes team, 45 to 33, in a game played on the Laker floor Friday night. With several of the Prowler squad members employed during the holidays, Coach Glenn Hanna will give the team a recess this week, but will call the squad for practice next Monday, to prepare for the district game against Red Lake Falls here on Dec. 30th.

Ninsk Carlson's long shot sent the Prowlers into the lead in the game at Detroit Lakes, and Herb Claffy's two-pointer and McKechnie's free throw, gave the locals a 5 to 0 advantage before Dave Hurley counted a Laker free throw. Virg Evenstad scored from the free throw line, and then lofted a one-handed shot into the basket. Field goals by Norris Johnson and Hurley pared the Prowler lead to 8 to 5 as the first period ended.

A high-scoring second period found Jake Hoff's Lakers, led by Eddie Jacobson, who scored three times from the floor, overtake the Prowlers and leave the court at halftime holding a 26 to 22 lead. Prowler field goals in the period were scored by Evenstad, with three goals, Roger Tunberg, who counted twice, and Billy McKechnie, with one field goal. Claffy tossed in two free throws.

Detroit Lakes boosted their lead in the third quarter, Joe Neitzke chalking up a field goal and two free throws, Johnson and Keith Blake each connecting with a field goal. The Prowlers tallied five points in the period, on baskets by Evenstad and Tunberg and McKechnie's free throw. Norris Johnson sparked the Lakers' fourth period spurt, breaking loose for three field goals and a pair of free throws, giving Detroit Lakes a comfortable margin, the final score being Detroit Lakes, 45; Thief River Falls, 33.

Blond Norris Johnson, with 16 points, and Dave Hurley, with 9 points, were Coach Jake Hoff's most effective point-getters, while Virg Evenstad, Billy McKechnie, Roger Tunberg, and Herb Claffy were the chief Prowler scorers. Evenstad was credited with 11 points and McKechnie tallied eight.

Strontium Does It

Military fireworks—flares, rockets, tracer bullets—owe their bright crimson color to strontium which comes from celestite, mined in the United States and to some extent in Mexico.

RATION POINTS ARE BEING PAID BY OPA FOR SALVAGE FATS

Donors Will Receive Brown Stamps in Addition to Cash Payment

Sharply increased collections of used household fats are expected from the inauguration of the points-for fats program, C. E. Rufer, WPB salvage manager, said today in Fargo.

"Many housewives have been holding up deliveries of fats to their dealers since the announcement about two weeks ago that one brown ration point would be given beginning December 13, for every half-pound of used household fats," stated Mr. Rufer.

He said that although receipts of salvaged fats during the autumn months were far better than last year, the public has been turning in only about 20 per cent of the estimated potential supply from households.

"We strongly urge that housewives turn in a minimum of one pound of used household fats a month. If this is done, we will have a most gratifying increase in total receipts," declared Mr. Rufer.

The brown ration stamps authorized by the new OPA regulation will be paid in addition to the regular compensation of 4 cents a pound. The stamps are given only to housewives, other consumers and the operators of boarding houses where 50 persons or less are fed. They may be used for purchasing meats, cheese, butter or other food bought with brown ration stamps.

Used household fats are needed in the manufacture of explosives, pharmaceuticals, synthetic rubber and other war products.

The used household fats should be brought to dealers in tin cans in units of a half-pound or more. Ration points will not be given for quantities of less thanthat amount. Glass containers should not be used because renderers must employ a high degree of heat in removing the grease from the containers and processing it.

DIDN'T COUNT

One day at the butts he said to Private Perkins:

"Let's see what you can do. Fire ten rounds at the target."

Perkins had fired all but his last round when the sound of the sergeant's voice caused him to stop.

The recruit's face lit up with a smile of joy.

"That's splendid, isn't it?" he said.

"Splendid!" echoed the sergeant ironically. "It's in the field a hundred yards to the left of the target!"

Sure Cure Failed

After careful examination, the doctor inquired: "How long have you been going about like this?"

"Two years."

"Why, man, your ankle is broken! How you managed to get around is a marvel. Why didn't you come to me at first?"

"Well, doctor, every time I say something is wrong with me, my wife declares I [illegible] smoking."

EITHER WILL DO

"What do you take for a headache?"

"Bad whiskey or a bad cold."

Some 'Punkin'

The candidate for district attorney, a blustering glad-hander, was touring the rural districts. At Hoyts' Corner he found a group in front of the store. He stopped to distribute his cards and make himself solid with the farmers.

"Gentlemen," he said, "I want you to know that I represent your interests. Why, I was raised between two corn rows."

Year-end Memories

Most vivid, perhaps, is the recollection of the outcome of the finals match for the city golf championship last August between Hans Chommie and Dr. Homer Hedemark, in which Hans was three down and three holes to play and then won the 16th, 17th, and 18th holes to tie the match, and then go on to halve the 19th and win the match and the title on the 20th. The shot that won the match was Hans' approach on the 20th, when, from about 90 yards out, he dropped the ball eight inches from the cup. By his win Hans, having won the title three times, became the permanent possessor of the championship trophy.

Another of the year's highlights was the Prowlers 27 to 0 trouncing of the Bemidji Lumberjacks on the local gridiron this fall. One of the starring plays in that game was Herb Claffy's mid-field tackle of Walt Herrmann as the Lumberjack was returning a punt. Herrmann went down as if he had been hit with a club. Another feature was the workout that Norm Furuseth and Tony Dorn gave the big Bemidji tackle, Phil Fehr.

The all-round offensive class that the Prowlers, and Herb Claffy in particular, revealed in the 39 to 0 walloping of East Grand Forks. That was the game in which Herbie ran and ran and ran, and turned in the finest prep football that Grand Forks witnessed this year.

That broomball hockey game last February between River Valley and Bob Petersen's All-Stars. The River Valley team, composed of the six Radniecki boys, all being wrestlers and boxers, and the All-Stars really had a session before the All-Stars won by a 6 to 1 score. The River Valley team invited the All-Stars out to River Valley for a return game, but the local boys backed out of that one in a hurry.

The spectacular defensive play of the Prowlers' Jack Melby during the basketball season and especially during the district tournament. Jack was terrific.

The last-second basket, on a long shot, by Climax' Bobby Nelson, that gave the Vikings a 31 to 29 win over the Prowlers in the finals of the district tourney. The first time, incidentally, that one of the district's so-called "small schools" had won the championship.

The short-fielding diamondball exhibition of T/Sgt. Johnny Jaranson, playing with the West Side against Wally DuChamp's East Siders. Johnny, who had just returned from overseas service as a top-turret gunner on a B-17 based in North Africa, proved that he's still the city's best short-fielder.

Listening to Ole Froseth's colorful description, with all the gestures, of how he caught that 17½ pound, or was it 18½ pound, buffalo fish in the pool below the dam.

The year's comic relief was provided by the arm-swinging and knee-bending maneuvers of Walt Larson, Kern Olson, Burt Emanuel, Cliff Bjorkman, Fleming Gibson, Bill Bolnis, Bush Hallstrom, and Bill LaFave as they participated in the broomball hockey league matches in the Arena.

Should Have Used 23 Pct. Total Fuel Oil by Dec. 13

The weekly fuel oil index shows that as of December 13, consumers in this area should not have burned more than 23 per cent of their total yearly fuel oil ration, OPA has announced.

The percentages are being issued by OPA to enable each consumer throughout the 33 states area under fuel oil rationing to properly budget his ration to last through the winter. A consumer need only compare his own percentage consumption with this figure to see how he is making out with his fuel oil ration this winter.

In Homes and on Farms

Stanley H. Kershaw, director of the Home and Farm Safety division of the National Safety council, recently stated that accidents destroy 31,300 lives in American homes, take the lives of 11,000 members of farm families and permanently disable an additional 33,000 Americans in the homes and on the farms of the United States.

ASK PROTECTION FOR HOG RAISERS IF FEED GOES UP

Thye Offers New Proposal in Attempt to Ease Hog Market Jam

Continuing his efforts to obtain a modification of conditions contributing to the glut in the hog market at South St. Paul, Governor Edward J. Thye this week in a new appeal to Marvin Jones, war food administrator, proposed that the government tie the support price for hogs and the cost of feed together so that farmers will be protected if prices of corn and other feed are increased.

The governor talked to Jones over the telephone and conferred at length with Al Smeby, a representative of the War Price administrator, urging necessity of extending this protection as well as his earlier request that the government raise the maximum weight limit on which it is supporting the price of hogs from 270 to 350 pounds.

"Farmers are troubled over prospects in control of feed prices," Governor Thye told the federal officials. "The government should establish a relationship between the support price on hogs and ceiling prices on corn and other feed so that if changes occur in the feed prices farmers can expect a corresponding increase in hog prices. Farmers then could feel safe in feeding their hogs and holding them for a reasonable time."

Adopting such a policy and coupling it with raising the maximum weight limit for the support price would ease materially the present rush of farmers to get their hogs to market, Governor Thye believes.

OPA Agency to Tighten Rationing of New Cars

Because of the reduced supply of new automobiles in dealer's hands, OPA has announced a tightening of the eligibility requirements for these cars to reduce the number of applicants. The three actions taken by OPA include: Raising from 40,000 to 60,000 miles the minimum mileage a present car must have been driven before it can be considered unserviceable by local boards; making salesmen ineligible for new cars; requesting local boards to issue a purchase permit for a new car only to an applicant showing an immediate need for one.

FOOD RETAILERS CALL FOR QUOTA OF RATION TOKENS

New Token Plan Will Become Effective on Sunday, February 27

Retail food dealers took the first step last week in securing their share of the two billion ration tokens to be used in "making change," by submitting to the banks in which they maintain ration bank accounts an estimate of the total point transactions covering a week's sales, the Office of Price Administration announced.

The new ration token plan will go into effect Sunday, February 27, 1944, and red tokens will be used in making "ration change" in buying meats and fats, and blue tokens will be used in buying processed foods.

All stamps will have a value of ten points each, regardless of the numeral now appearing on the stamps. Consumers will receive tokens from the retailers as change when purchasing rationed foods.

The two billion tokens which are being manufactured now will be smaller than a dime and the supply is expected to last at least a year.

The use of ration stamps, all worth ten points each, will reduce greatly the work and time in counting and sorting stamps at retail stores.

State Highway Bulletin Warns of Monoxide Gas

Beware of carbon monoxide poisoning, a state highway bulletin warns motorists. The following rules are given as essential to insure against monoxide death:

Never run your engine in a closed garage, even for a minute.

Never leave engine running when you sit in a stationary car.

Keep exhaust manifold and gaskets tight. Check muffler and exhaust pipe for leaks. Replace defective parts.

Avoid following other vehicles too closely. Keeping a good distance will help you avoid close contact with exhaust fumes and permit you to stop safely in case the car ahead is forced to stop suddenly.

Paint May Relieve Asthma

Dr. W. Schweisheimer, writing in the Painter & Decorator, says that certain moulds on walls and ceilings, especially in damp rooms, irritate the mucous membranes of nose, throat, larynx and bronchi, and that susceptible persons may even develop asthma from odors from such molds. These asthma attacks may disappear, however, as by magic as soon as the room has been newly painted, says the doctor.

Christmas

While it is difficult to extend the old fashioned type of Christmas greeting while so many of our men are in training or on distant battle fronts—we nevertheless have a responsibility here at home to keep alive the Christmas spirit while they are gone and to preserve all those things for which they are fighting.

And so, as Christmas approaches with a New Year lying ahead, the officers, directors and staff of this bank extend season's greetings to our many friends . . . and with you, we hope the New Year will bring us closer to that day when families will be reunited, when Christmas will once again be observed with "Peace on earth."

OPA OPENS DRIVE ON BLACK MARKET IN MOTOR FUELS

Agency Is Mobilizing Aid of Nation's Gasoline Distributors

The help of the nation's motor fuel distributors is being mobilized in a new, intensified war on gasoline black markets, administrator Chester Bowles of the Office of Price Administration announced today.

The drive centers gasoline rationing enforcement on the distributor, as the key man in the exchange of gasoline and coupons. The two principal points in the 27, [illegible] distributor will be required [illegible] "screen out" irregular [illegible] counterfeit coupons, expired coupons, coupons not yet [illegible] and coupons not endorsed [illegible] motorist.

Filling stations will be required to make good irregular coupons and their inventory will be cut down by the amount of irregular coupons passed on to the Wholesaler.

Both distributors and filling station operators who continue to accept irregular coupons will be subject to civil or criminal action.

As the first step, OPA enforcement officers will call a series of meetings during the next few weeks to outline a plan of action to distributors.

Distributors, in turn, will be urged to pass word down to filling stations through their tank truck drivers that they will refuse to collect from these stations any gummed sheets containing ration coupons that do not bear the required state and registration endorsement written on the face of each coupon by motorists.

"Thefts and counterfeiting of coupons in some areas have reached alarming proportions," Gail Poller, Director of the fuel and consumer goods enforcement division of OPA, said.

GOLD WATCH CHAIN IN WALL 28 YEARS

Anoka.—Way back sometime before 1915, John Keen received a fine gold watch chain from his wife. Using it only when he wore his Sunday best trousers, the chain was his most choice possession for but a short time. While a job of remodeling was going on in the upstairs of the Keen home the chain very mysteriously disappeared. Now some 28 years later the present tenants of the house have wired it for electricity, and peeping from a hole cut in the wall was noted what appeared to be a copper wire. The "wire" when pulled out was nothing else but the cherished gold watch chain of Mr. Keen which has been given to him.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND AGAIN HIS DOG

Wykoff.—It is often said man has no better friend in this world than his dog. Once again this is brought to mind. Hunting coon on his farm, Frank Smith fell 30 feet from near the top of a large pine tree about 11 o'clock one night and despite his cries for help he was not found until six o'clock the following morning. Snuggled close to him, when he was found, were his two dogs who had apparently saved him from freezing during the long hours of the night.

So let's make the most of the holiday and do our best to see to it that it is a Merry Christmas, as usual, at least for the little folks.

America loves Quality

We can't tell you what Dad will find when he opens his gift package. But we can tell you this . . . the family did not agree on the selection until each one was satisfied it was the finest of its kind. That instinct for Quality is characteristically American. Whether it's a gift . . . or something for our own lifetime use . . . or a beverage to refresh our holiday visitors, we expect the tops in Quality in return for our money. Through nearly a century of service to the American public, the brewers of Old Style Lager have kept that thought foremost. AN EXPECTED TRAGEDY TURNS OUT HUMOROUSLY

Alexandria.—Sound of the siren just at dusk one evening recently accompanied by word "Man drowning in Lake Cowdry," quickly assembled a caravan of vehicles loaded with men who rushed to the lake. Instead of finding the expected tragedy on arrival at the spot they stood and had a good laugh. Why? Because what they saw was merely a happy fisherman enjoying good luck. The alarm originated from the conductor of an eastbound train who observed the fisherman and could see only the upper part of his body protruding from a hole, and was certain he was drowning.

Ring Out the Old, Ring in the New

Ring out, wild bells, to the wild sky,
The flying cloud, the frosty light;
The year is dying in the night;
Ring out, wild bells, and let him die.

Ring out the old, ring in the new,
Ring, happy bells, across the snow:
The year is going, let him go;
Ring out the false, ring in the true.

Ring out the grief that saps the mind,
For those that here we see no more;
Ring out the feud of rich and poor,
Ring in redress to all mankind.

Ring out a slowly dying cause,
And ancient forms of party strife;
Ring in the nobler modes of life,
With sweeter manners, purer laws.

Ring out the want, the care, the sin,
The faithless coldness of the times;
Ring out, ring out my mournful rhymes,
But ring the fuller minstrel in.

Ring out false pride in place and blood,
The civic slander and the spite;
Ring in the love of truth and right,
Ring in the common love of good.

Ring out old shapes of foul disease;
Ring out the narrowing lust of gold;
Ring out the thousand wars of old,
Ring in the thousand years of peace.

Ring in the valiant man and free,
The larger heart, the kindlier hand;
Ring out the darkness of the land,
Ring in the Christ that is to be.

—Lord Tennyson.

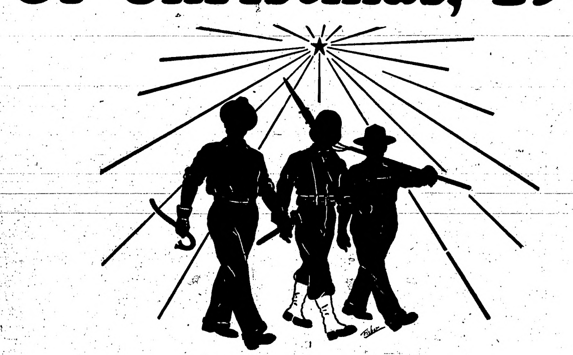
The Three Wise Men Of Christmas, 1943



Peace for all men everywhere . . . a lasting Peace that will bring the blessings of the first Christmas to all the peoples of the world . . . this is what we strive for.

So far, such a world has been more dream than reality, more hope than fact, but it has been the best hope men have had and the one for which they have most consistently shown themselves willing to die.

Another anniversary of the birth of Christ is about to dawn . . . Throughout the world people in all countries are suffering under the burden of war. No one can accurately predict the day on which it will all end. But the eyes of liberty loving men everywhere catch the gleam of the Star of Bethlehem and remember that the age-old doctrine, "Peace on Earth Good Will to Men" is the ultimate goal that we must fight for now.

Let us give thanks and pray that our way of life may endure, and that we may remain a free people. Here is our strength, the source and promise of victory.

We, the businets firms and individuals below, extend this as our Christmas Greeting to our armed forces and the folks here on the Home Front.

ARMY ASSUMES CONTROL OF U. S. RAIL SYSTEMS

President Acts When Three of 20 Unions Refuse to Arbitrate

17 UNIONS ABANDON PLANS FOR STRIKE

Roosevelt Adjusts Wages to be Paid Members of Two Unions

The army Monday night took possession of the nation's vast railroad system, acting on orders from President Roosevelt, who ordered the seizure so that transportation of war materials could continue in the face of a strike threat.

The seizure order was carried out by Lieut. Gen. Brehon B. Somervell, chief of army services, acting for Secretary of War Stimson.

Martin W. Clement, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, will serve as an adviser to the army, Stimson said.

Mr. Roosevelt ordered the seizure as a move "essential to the prosecution of the war," even though 17 of the 20 railroad unions had abandoned their plans for a strike Thursday.

Directing the army to seize the roads at 6 P. M. Monday, he declared:

"Railroad strikes by three brotherhoods have been ordered for next Thursday. I cannot wait until the last moment to take action to see that the supplies to our fighting men are not interrupted.

"The major military offensives now planned must not be delayed by the interruption of vital transportation facilities. If any employes of the railroads now strike they will be striking against the government of the United States."

Before the president acted, the unions representing 1,100,000 nonoperating workers and two operating unions numbering about 200,000 had decided to let Mr. Roosevelt arbitrate the case. Management also agreed to arbitration. Three unions of about 150,000 refused to do this.

Mr. Roosevelt decided forthwith the wage issues in the case of the two operating unions which agreed to abide by his decision—the brotherhoods of locomotive engineers and trainmen. Five cents an hour shall be paid starting immediately, he said, "as the equivalent of or in lieu of claims for time and half pay over 40 hours (per week) and for expenses while away from home."

He also awarded these workers a week's vacation a year with pay at the basic rates. In addition, he affirmed the four cents an hour increase in basic wages previously awarded by an emergency board.

ANDERSON MAKES FINAL REPORT ON HOLIDAY MAILING

Estimates Fully One-third of Rush Was Disposed of by December 15

For the first time in the history of the local postoffice, fully one-third of the volume of Christmas mailing was disposed of by December 15, it was announced this week by Postmaster Andrew Anderson following a post-holiday review of the season's business.

With this unusually large amount of early mailing, comparisons of the period immediately preceding Christmas with former years do not present a true picture of the volume handled.

However, from December 18 to 25 this year a total of 123,920 letters and greeting cards were handled here compared to 127,800 for the corresponding period in 1942. Stamp sales at the parcel post window totaled $1,020 this year and $1,260 in 1942, while this year 929 sacks of mail were received and 1089 sacks dispatched, compared to 824 and 1239 sacks respectively in 1942.

Four men delivered parcels for several hours on Christmas Day, disposing of all that had arrived up to that time.

Counties in N. W. Area Given 4th Loan Quotas

County quotas for the Fourth War Loan, ranging from $47,000 in Cook county to $80,000,000 in Hennepin county, were announced today by the Minnesota war finance committee, as preliminaries were completed for the big bond drive which opens January 18.

The state's quota of $200,000,000 was divided among the 87 counties on a basis of wealth, bank deposits and other factors, and officials are convinced that the state will exceed its quota by a substantial margin.

Each county committee is breaking down its quota to cities, villages and townships, as an intensive campaign is set up to reach every person in the state by individual solicitation. In the Third War Loan, state sales totalled $278,000,000.

Heavy emphasis will be placed on sales to individuals. The state's share represents an average investment of $71.80 for every man, woman and child in the state, although many families are expected to buy substantially more than that amount to achieve the required total.

All materials for the drive will be shipped to county organizations this week. In every county meetings are being arranged for the workers to give them all the information necessary to a successful job.

Minnesota's "E" bond quota is $64,00,000, which is $4,000,000 more than in September, and the quota for individuals on all issues is $104,000,000, compared with $96,000,000 in September. With the new calendar year, persons who have bought the limit of $3,750 in "E" bonds or $100,000 in "F" and "G" bonds can again purchase the limit of these bonds.

Quotas for Northwest counties for the Fourth War Loan are: Pennington, $386,000; Marshall, $557,000; Red Lake, $200,000; Polk, $1,110,000; Roseau, $344,000; Kittson, $441,000; and Lake of the Woods, $111,000.

COUNCIL VOTES AN AMENDMENT TO CURFEW LAW

Gives Mayor Full Authority to Make Exceptions to 10 P. M. Hour

DISAPPROVES CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION

Police Can be Discharged only after Hearing, Says Atty.-general

After considerable discussion following which an amendment was approved, the proposed curfew ordinance sponsored by local groups was given its second reading at an adjourned session of the city council Tuesday evening. The ordinance will take effect after its third and final reading and publication.

Section Three was amended to give authority directly to the mayor to approve or disapprove of requests for exceptions to the 10 o'clock curfew hour in cases of evening activities involving children under the age of 17. Before revision, the ordinance specified that requests should be filed with the local board of education or recreation board, but this provision met with objections from some of the council members.

Sharing in the discussion was Mayor-elect Wm. J. Douville, who informed the council that on a recent trip to the Twin Cities he had been advised by authorities there that a flexible curfew hour would not work satisfactorily, and he advocated adherence as closely as possible to the 10 P. M. hour.

With little discussion the council unanimously disapproved the recent appointment by Mayor H. W. Kinghorn of three members of a police civil service commission.

In connection with the recent action of Mayor-elect Douville in calling for the resignations of all present members of the police force effective in January, City Attorney Theodore Quale read a communication from Attorney General J. A. A. Burnquist stating that no member of the police force may be removed by the mayor without a hearing. Confirmation by the council of the mayor's appointments to the police force also is required.

A. B. Stenberg, alderman-at-large, submitted his resignation effective Tuesday, but inasmuch as his term expires January 4, the council voted to lay the resignation on the table.

To dispose of a matter that has been pending for many years, the council went on record as agreeing to pay St. Lukes hospital the sum of $450 in full settlement of all claims against the city arising from the hospitalization of Charles Dostal some years ago.

Police recovered most of the loot, and disposition of the case awaits the return to this city of County Attorney Paul A. Lundgren. Police indicated that another youth, 19, also was implicated in the breakin.

It was decided to dispense with the annual chilren's party this year and donate the money ordinarily used for this purpose to the "Forgotten Children's Fund."

Mrs. Orrin G. Lynde wishes to express special thanks to Mrs. Robert Lund, sunshine service chairman, who gave so much of her time to the purchasing, wrapping and mailing of gifts to the boys and girls in the service. The service flag for World War II, as officially designated by the Secretary of War, has a white field, with a blue star matching in shade that of Old Glory; one star for each person from the immediate family who is in national service, a gold star is to be mounted over the blue one so that a tiny border of blue surrounds the gold one. The official flag may be displayed only by mother, father, wife, husband, daughter, son, brother or sister of the person in the armed forces.

The American Legion urged the adoption of this service flag and introduced the legislation authorizing the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy to adopt it.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

Following is a message to the Girl Scouts from Madame Chiang Kai-shek:

"To prepare yourselves for the duty that lies before you, the girl scout should, and I am sure will, keep steadily in mind three all important points. The first and one of the greatest of these is self-reliance. Women in the past, and to some degree in the present, led comparatively sheltered lives. The sheltering roof has been blown off by the blasts of war. You will have to depend mainly on yourselves for the stern test to come.

"You have been taught by your elders the necessity of cooperation. That you must cooperate among yourselves may have become clear to you all, but it is necessary and desirable that cooperation should extend far over and beyond all national boundaries.

"Then comes my third point. Service to others. That is the spirit of service that inspires our fighting men and the Red Cross and other auxiliaries, too numerous to mention, who are fighting this total war that has been forced upon the peace loving nations. You will be women tomorrow, and women have shown their willingness to face death in its most terrible form in order to render service to others since long before the day of Florence Nightingale. I am convinced that if all people could act upon the three points, the world would be safe."

The Girl Scouts spent Tuesday afternoon of last week caroling invalids and shut-ins. Troop 7 made a special trip to the home of their leader, Mrs. Edw. Bratrud, who was ill.

The regular girl scout meeting will be held Monday at 3:30 in the library.

Happy New Year

and Victory in 1944

Time has reaped a harvest of blood and tears during the year just past, but during this year the fortunes of war have been favorable and we look forward to 1944 with assurance that victory lies ahead of us. We have no delusions of an easy victory. The coming months probably will be months of great personal tragedy, but we face this future with confidence in the great war machine that has been built up by us and by our allies.

At this mile-stone of Time we have reason to be thankful that we are still a free nation, possessed of great resources, and just as capable of directing our energies to the needs of peace as we have been in adjusting our activities to the demands of war. Our capacity to produce is greater than ever before, and while the path of peace will also be beset by many difficulties, we need not fear for a lack of the necessities of life.

For our community the prospects of the future are especially bright. Our agriculture, the source of all our income, is diversified and we are well established as a substantial farming community. Our city is organized to efficiently provide necessary services to an extensive agricultural territory that is still largly undeveloped.

For the first time in several years we have reason to look forward to the future with high hopes, and it is with the encouragement of these brighter prospects that we, the business and professional men of Thief River Falls, extend to you the greetings of the season at this dawn of a New Year.

HAPPINESS

(By Max Ehrmann)

"To be without desire is to be content. But contentment is not happiness. And in contentment there is no progress. Happiness is to desire something, to work for it, and to obtain at least a part of it. In the pursuit of beloved labor the busy days pass cheerfully employed, and the still nights in peaceful sleep. For labor born of desire is not drudgery, but manly play. Success brings hope, hope inspires fresh desires, and desire gives zest to life and joy to labor. This is true whether your days be spent in the palaces of the powerful or in some little green by-way of the world. Therefore, while you have the strength, cherish a desire to do some useful work in your little corner of the world, and have the steadfastness to labor. For this is the way to the happy life; with health and endearing ties, it is the way to the glorious life."

Official forecasts and the predictions of observers all agree that a cross-channel invasion of the continent of Europe is near at hand. Every day brings new blasts of publicity on the vast preparations being made for this difficult operation. All of which causes us to suspicion that the attack, when it is made, will be made at some other point. Or is this the time the enemy is going to be fooled by our truthfulness. Be that as it may, we may take for granted that whatever is now said about what is going to happen is a part of the war of nerves. A few weeks ago the Germans were told to prepare for an invasion through Turkey. Now it is the Channel coast that is getting the spotlight. In the meantime nothing is being said about Norway, Yugoslavia or the belly side of France, all possibilities. It's all very confusing to us, which isn't important. The important thing is that it is also confusing to Hitler, and Hitler's confusion no doubt is helpful to the Russians.

President Roosevelt has indicated that he no longer likes to hear his administration referred to as the "New Deal" and we can understand why. As the leading physician of the strange clinic that promised to restore vigor to our ailing country, the President was a busy man with the hypodermic needle for several years. Full of "shots in the arm" the country did get back on its feet, physically, but mentally and financially badly unbalanced. The war postponed the painful day of reckoning, but even now, when we are thoroughly intoxicated by the dope of war expenditures, the old Doc is still out with his needle giving us additional "shots." In spite of the war the New Deal is very much a thing of the present and the nasty name the President now dislikes is still appropriate.

Minnesota now has less than twenty Rural Credit farms in Pennington County, which means that the problem of putting these lands back into the hands of private owners is just about completed. These extensive holdings of the state have had a depressing effect on land values. Now that the "bargains" are off the market we can expect a more normal level of prices in which the value of improvements will receive some consideration.

A Kansas draft registrant failed to obtain deferment when he wrote his board he was "convalescing from a traumatic perrosynovitis of the flexor digitorum sublimus in profundus muscle at the metacarpsophalangeal joint". The board held a sore finger was insufficient excuse.

Bad luck to both the Jap and Teuton.

Sign of the times — "Pistol Packin' Mama" made more money for its composer than Stephen C. Foster got for all of his melodies.

It looks as tho the girls who intend to take advantage of Leap Year in 1944 will have to conduct their campaigns by correspondence.

Growing With Your Child

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

There is much discussion over the value or harm of the so-called "comic books." Some would improve and control them, while others would throw them out — lock, stock and barrel.

To most adults these books are misnamed for they do not qualify as comics. More accurately they might be described as "thrillers" or "supers," since the hero is always a superman in his ability to cope with unusual situations in a most unnatural and magical manner. This is undoubtedly one of the reasons why they have such a strong appeal to children.

"Comic books" have replaced the "fairy tales" of the last generation. Although most children of today would look upon fairy tales as silly and impossible, the comic books retain much of the same type of appeal, expressed in pictures rather than story form. Instead of a fairy god-mother bringing about supernatural events by waving her wand, we have Superman, Dick Tracy, or the Bat Man solving equally impossible situations. Since the situations may fit into more within the child's experience, there is somewhat greater danger that the child will project himself into the life of Superman and believe that accomplishment is easy and that anything is possible to a hero who is never defeated.

We must keep in mind the fact that many of the most intelligent people read so-called trash when they were children without much later effect. But they also had access to good literature. The reading of comics then must be balanced by contact with good literature. For the child with a balanced diet of reading there is little danger of harm.

The child who suffers most from reading comic books is the one whose life is so hum-drum that he does not have any thrilling experiences of his own to counteract his tendency to day-dreaming or any opportunities to overcome difficulties by battling against the elements of nature. A child who has a chance to dock a boat in a windstorm, to build a tree house, to clear a forest, or to collect for salvage for war purposes, will not suffer appreciably from the comic books.

Youth of all ages has had some variety of reading which corresponds to the "comics." In the days of the "McGuffey Readers," the dime novels flourished. Later came the "Alger" books, with the "work hard and everything is yours." Later the "Big Little Books" appeared. Children lived through many exciting experiences with the cave man. Today the book stands are flooded with the comic books.

The antidote for them is, first, a balanced diet of reading, with easy access to good literature adapted to the child's level of understanding; second, every child should have thrilling experiences such as those connected with camping, and other forms of recreation and, third, every child should have an opportunity for constructive activities, such as working with tools and actually making things. In this way the child will be brought face to face with real problems and come to realize that the problems of the world are solved by effort, not by magic.

Clean Lunch Containers

Dinner buckets, luncheon pails and thermos bottles will not develop a stale odor if they are washed thoroughly with warm soapy water, rinsed, and dried in the sun after each use. Men who have to carry their food to work every day do well to have two lunch pails and two bottles so that one may be thoroughly cleaned and aired while the other is in use.

In Memoriam

In memory of our dear mother who passed away Jan. 2, 1943.

I cannot say—and I will not say
That she is dead — she is just away—
With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand
She has wandered into an unknown land.

And left us dreaming how very
It needs must be, since she lingers there,
And you—oh, you, who the wildest yearn
For the old-time step and the glad return

Think of her faring on, as dear
In the love of There, as the love of Here:
Think of her as the same, I say,
She is not dead—she is just away.

PUBLIC NOTICES

Card of Thanks

To my friends and relatives for all the greetings and kind expressions of sympathy this Christmas season. To my church home and relatives for their gifts of money. To Ruth Turnwall and all who had a part in the beautiful dedication service of the flags given in my husband's memory. I count it a privilege to be a member of a group where everyone is so concerned about everyone else's welfare. To all who invited me to their homes this Christmas season and expressed their sympathy in so many kind ways. Truly the Christmas Spirit has been "Others." Momentarily only, can the clouds hide the sun when friends stand by as they have to me. May I in a small measure be worthy of all you have done for me. Thank you one and all and God bless you, as I know He will.

Mrs. Albert Poppenhagen and children. 52c

BAD EXAMPLE

The censor had just finished reading the new play.

"This will never do," he said to the author. "It's positively corrupting."

The author argued: "Why, this play is all about a minister and a reformer—it's my best work—there can't be anything objectionable in it."

"Listen to the ending," replied the censor. "The situation is this—the two men have just finished dinner at the hotel. The minister says, 'Shall we drive to the station now?' 'I am ready,' answers the reformer. The two men rise from the table and go out."

"Well," muttered the author, "what is corrupting in that?"

"My dear sir, your play would start a criminal influence in our younger generation. The minister and reformer have left without paying their bill!"

COULDN'T HAVE BEEN

"My dear, you should never judge by appearances."

"I never do," said Mrs. Jones. "I judge by disappearances."

Paint Dries in Four Minutes

A bulletin of the Automotive Council for War Production states that in applying paint to the propeller blades of aircraft, the drying time has been reduced to four minutes by moving each blade individually through a spray bath and then carrying it by overhead conveyor into an infra-red drying oven, compared with previous methods of air drying which required 48 hours.

Prowlers Have Won All Four Previous Games from Their Rivals

Red Lake Falls, one of the district's Class A teams, will invade the local court Thursday night, December 30, for a game with the Prowlers. In three games to date, Red Lake Falls has marked up one win, over Plummer, and two losses, to Crookston and the defending champion Climax Vikings.

The encounter will be the fifth time that Red Lake Falls has faced the Prowlers on a basketball floor, and Red Lake Falls will be seeking their first victory. Last year, in a district tournament game, the locals defeated Red Lake Falls, 28 to 25.

A preliminary game, with the Prowler reserves pitted against the high school's all-class team, is scheduled for 7:15 P. M.

10 NATIONAL FARM LOAN GROUPS ARE MERGED INTO ONE

Two Pennington Associations Affected; Headquarters at Warren

J. W. Sands, secretary-treasurer of the National Farm Loan association office at Warren announces the consolidation of the Border and Northwest associations of Kittson county and the Norden and Wheat Belt associations of Marshall county, the Pennington and Pennred associations of Pennington county, the Duffy association of Red Lake county, and the Cloverleaf, Greenbush and Roseau associations of Roseau county into one consolidated association known as the Northwest National Farm Loan association with headquarters at Warren.

The adoption of a "rehabilitation plan" offered by the Federal Land Bank of Saint Paul and the consolidation was recently approved unanimously by the stockholders of these associations.

Thus there will be but one association with the board of five directors to take the place of 10 associations with 50 directors. The plan is intended to put associations on a sound operating basis for the future making of land bank loans.

An essential feature of the plan is reimbursement in cash to every former association member who has repaid his loan in full, the full par value of his association stock if he did not get such reimbursement when he paid the loan.

The farmer who gets a long-term federal land bank mortage loan joins a local association and takes stock in the association on the basis of a $5 share for each $100 of his loan. When he completes repayment of the loan his stock is retired and cancelled, he is repaid the $5 per share and he gives up his association membership.

Many associations have carried out these terms and have redeemed their stock when loans were repaid, but some were unable to do so because of financial losses. Those that were unable gave retiring members "retirement certificates" in the hope that improved conditions would make it possible to redeem these certificates at some future date. Now the land bank rehabilitation plan makes this redemption possible.

In the five counties served from the Warren office, payments to the former members will total approximately $21,000.

Does Anyone Remember George W. Teeple, Who Lived in City Long Ago?

"How is the old lumber town?" and "Does anyone there remember me?" are questions asked by George W. Teeple of South Plainfield, New Jersey, in a message to Mayor H. W. Kinghorn. He states that forty years ago he worked for Bulman Bros. in the Red Lake lumber camps, and that he worked on the construction of the bridge across Red Lake river at Squaw Point. "I suppose", he writes, "there is now a cement bridge spanning the river". He also mentioned that Mayor F. H. Kratka was in office at the time he lived here.

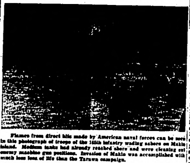
165th Infantry Wades Into Makin



Flames from direct hits made by American naval forces can be seen in this photograph of troops of the 165th infantry wading ashore on Makin island. Medium tanks had already reached shore and were cleaning out enemy machine gun positions. Invasion of Makin was accomplished with much less loss of life than the Tarawa campaign.

Kiewel, chairman of the local tin can salvage campaign, today urged housewives of the community to continue to save their discarded cans and bring them properly flattened to their grocery store, where they will be picked up by the salvage organization. Another full truck load of cans was taken this week from Thief River Falls to Crookston to be loaded on a freight car, Mr. Kiewel stated.

Mummer's Parade Descendant From Early U. S. History

On New Year's Eve 1930 more than 300,000 persons watched the Mummer's parade in Philadelphia. There were 12,000 in the line of march down Bond street and the parade lasted from early evening until the glamour and good-humored burlesque antics of the spectacle were far cries from what the uninitiated would expect to see in the staid Quaker City: nevertheless, the idea is descendant from Colonial days.

The earliest settlers along the Delaware river in the vicinity of present day Philadelphia were English and Swedes. The Mummer play "St. George and the Dragon" was traditional to the English celebration of New Year's: the Swedes were given to informal masquerades. It is not clear just when or how the Mummer play and the custom of masquerading joined forces: but after the Revolution, General Washington replaced St. George as the central figure of the festivities.

The whole thing was spontaneous and unorganized until, in 1836, it was sponsored by the Silver Crown New Year's association. In 1901, the Mummer's Parade was recognized by the municipal administration of Philadelphia, and officials and representative citizenry began turning out to participate in and witness the parade.

'Old China' Held Special New Year's Observances

In old China, New Year's was a very important festival: a time for taking stock of oneself, balancing accounts, "turning over a new leaf," visiting and giving parties, etc.

The celebration really began a week before the "first day" when homage was paid to the Kitchen God, whose paper effigy was ceremoniously burnt in order that his spirit might ascend to heaven through the smoke and report the conduct of each member of the family. Taking no chances, the children smeared the god's face with molasses before they burnt him to guarantee the sweetness of his report.

New Year's Eve has always been one of the busiest days of the year among the Chinese. All financial obligations must be met—a debtor on New Year's Day loses "face"; and that is about the worst tragedy that can befall an Oriental. So, the stores and accounting houses are open until midnight and firecrackers pop throughout the community.

Mr. Amateur Gardener

Professional gardeners have been so much harassed by the common or amateur variety of gardeners in Britain who are trying to grow their own vegetable seeds that the professionals have asked the minister of agriculture in London to send out this plea: "Please, Mr. Amateur Gardener, don't let your kale and other plants of the cabbage family grow into the flowering stage. Bees and wind may carry the pollen for distances up to a mile, seriously affecting commercial seed crops."

35 Minnesota Counties Make Preliminary Plans for Post-war Projects

Results of a survey of post-war projects of Minnesota communities being conducted by the Minnesota Taxpayers association reveal that plans already have been designed by 35 counties, 175 cities and villages, and more than 90 school districts in the state.

Purpose given for many of the plans is to provide employment within the various communities for returning servicemen and war workers who otherwise would find it difficult to take up the threads of civilian life following the war.

The taxpayer group cautions, however, that post-war plans should also be developed with regard to local benefits, as well as unemployment and cost. "Care should be taken to separate the good plan from the bad one, so that the community will be bettered rather than burdened in final development of the projects."

Public works projects planned by local communities in the state already total $42,000,000 to provide work for 15,000 to 20,000 men for a year, the survey reveals.

Born in January? Then Renew Drivers License Before Your Birthday

Issuance of 1943 drivers licenses expiring in 1947, to persons with birthdays between September 1 and December 31, is nearing completion, according to a state highway bulletin. Issuance of 1944 licenses to persons with birthdays in January, will start next week.

Under a 1943 law, all licenses issued before September 1, 1943, expire on the licensee's first birthday after that date. If application for renewal is not made before your birthday you give up your right to drive a motor vehicle upon the public streets and highways of Minnesota. All licenses issued after September 1, 1943, will be valid until the licensee's birthday in the fourth year after the new license is issued. Persons whose birthdays come on New Years day or immediately thereafter may apply for renewals immediately and the new licenses will be issued on January first and expire on the licensee's birthday in 1948. Those having birthdays later in the month may wait until after January 2. However, application should be made on or before the birthday if the applicant wants to continue his driving privileges without a lapse, since the law does not provide any days of grace.

Brother of Local Man Is New Soo Agent at Warren

When Phil Pihlstrom took over his duties as depot agent for the Soo Line railway in Warren on December 18, he recollected that it was just exactly 35 years ago to the day that he left Warren to take his first out-of-town job with the Soo. It was on December 18, 1908 that he left Warren for Newfolden. Since then he has served in several towns on the system including Strandquist, Halma and of recent years at Alvarado, where his son Warren will now take over the station. Phil Pihlstrom is a brother of M. F. Pihlstrom of Thief River Falls.

ONLY ONE LAZY HEN IN FLOCK OF 240

Montevideo.—"Strutting proud" is what Frieber Schultz is of his flock of 240 chickens. On Thanksgiving day he gathered 239 eggs—only one hen missed! But more than that an average of 216 eggs a day has been gathered each day since.

Must Penetrate Deep, Too

It is not only necessary for a wood preservative to have high toxic properties, but it must penetrate deep enough, to outreach shrinkage cracks and must have sufficient absorption to protect the wood for a number of years of service.

Keeping Score

.... With [illegible]

Fifty-fifty

Coach Glenn Hanna's basketball Prowlers resumed practice this week, but the squad was shorthanded. Captain Billy McKechnie missed the week's first session, having gone to Minneapolis for the purpose of enlisting in the Navy's V-5 program; Norm Furuseth, who did not make the trip to Detroit Lakes last week because of a touch of the flu, has been working at the post-office, carrying mail on a city route; and Chuck Richards and Woody Schmeltzer have also been employed.

The Prowlers intend to ring out the old year with a victory on Thursday night, when they meet coach John Larson's Red Lake Falls team on the local floor. And based on the records, the boys have a fifty-fifty chance of coming up with a win. Red Lake Falls lost three regulars from last season's club—Bob Neiland, Armand LaChance and John Mead—and two reserves—Joe Moran and John Meyer; but the purple-and-gold has lanky Vernon Neiland and blond Kenny Olson as the nucleus for this year's team. And on the record of their play to date, coach Larson's charges aren't a set-up. By the way, Red Lake Falls is one of the district's class A teams, the others being Thief River Falls, Crookston, Warren, and East Grand Forks, so Thursday night's game is pretty important for the Prowlers.

Did Well Last Week

Coach Hanna wasn't discouraged by the play of the Prowlers in their 45 to 33 loss to Detroit Lakes last week. In fact, the Prowlers played a surprisingly strong game, having an 8 to 1 lead at one time in the first period; but their lack of experience, especially on defense, proved the deciding factor in Detroit Lake's favor, the Lakers setting up block plays to break Norris Johnson and Dave Hurley loose for scores.

Coach Cliff Halmrast of the Moorhead Spuds witnessed the game, scouting the Lakers, and he was impressed by the coolness and poise of the Prowlers. Cliff was an all-state basketball center on the Moorhead team that won the state championship in 1928, and which was coached by Glenn Hanna.

Wounded in Action

According to reports received here this week, Jimmy Ferguson, member of the U. S. Marines, and quarterback on the 1939 and 1940 Prowler football teams, was wounded during the Marines assault of Tarawa island a couple of weeks ago. The report does not give the details nor the extent of Jimmy's wounds, but does state that he received leg and arm wounds. Our best wishes for a speedy recovery go to Jimmy.

Camouflage Suit Art

J. Arthur Johnson, the high school faculty's top-ranking hunter and fisherman, received what I consider the year's most apt gift. Happy Erickson, Bob and Jesse DuChamp, all in the service, pooled their resources and sent Art a camouflage suit as a Christmas present. If you know Art, and his manner of duck-hunting, you know how he'll go for something like a camouflage outfit. Art, when duck-hunting, always disregards the ampleness of the natural cover, for he can be completely hidden by bulrushes yet he'll take out his knife and slice off branches and bushes and build a blind. Art's had a hand in most of those clumps of brush you see along Ditch Twenty.

BRANDT OUTLINES PROBLEMS FACING DAIRY INDUSTRY

Land O'Lakes Head Discusses Conditions Resulting from the War

Dairying, a basic industry on which hundreds of small cities in this section as well as hundreds of thousands of farmers depend for their personal welfare, is at the crossroads in the Northwest as the New Year of 1944 starts, John Brandt, president of Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc., says in a year-end review.

"Dairy farmers and their industry are already well started into their third full year of wartime operations," Brandt declared. "They have been asked by their government to assume a huge part of the wartime food production job. Their record to date has been brilliant in the face of difficulties, but the number of problems confronting them is so great that 1943 production fell short of the all-time records established in 1942.

"Because of the importance of dairying to virtually every enterprise in the Northwest, all people in this area owe it to themselves to make themselves aware of these problems," Brandt continued.

As head of the Land O'Lakes organization, dairy products marketing cooperative owned and controlled by Northwest farmers, and also head of the National Cooperative Milk Producers Federation, which represents dairy farmers of 41 states, and head of the Dairy Products Marketing association, which is the central buying agency for the government in the purchase of numerous dairy products, Brandt is familiar with the dairying problem from both a Northwest and a national viewpoint.

"Shortages of manpower and machinery, rising costs of production in the face of rigid price ceilings, and other factors, are operating to limit the production of milk on dairy farms," he declared. "A program of subsidies has been inaugurated as a purported cure for some of these difficulties while at the same time it is claimed to be a cure for inflation. The dairy people have been under renewed attacks from imitators of their products. All Northwest people should be aware of these problems because they affect the welfare of all of us and the nation."

Motorists Must Endorse All of Their Gas Coupons

Have you endorsed all of your gasoline coupons?

Passenger car drivers must write the state and registration number of their car on the face of all coupons as soon as they receive them from their local war price and rationing boards, OPA says. Unendorsed coupons are invalid and the rations of motorists possessing them may be revoked. It is unlawful for filling stations to accept coupons failing to bear the driver's endorsement.

If you hold A, B, C, D or T coupons, write your license number and the state of registration on the face of all coupons. If you hold E and R coupons, write your name and address on the face of all coupons.

RED CROSS FIXES $200,000,000 FOR '44 WAR FUND GOAL

Campaign to Finance Wartime Operations Will Open Next March

A War Fund of $200,000,000 will be asked of the American public next March to finance wartime operations of the American Red Cross, Chairman Norman H. Davis announced this week.

Of this sum, $140,000,000 will be required by the national organization to finance its national and international activities, of which approximately 85 per cent will be spent directly for Red Cross services to America's men in the fighting forces, Mr. Davis said. The remainder of the national goal, or $60,000,000 represents the approximate aggregate of the amounts required by the 3,756 chapters for the work in their local communities, the major portion of which is for assistance to servicemen and their families.

"While our 1944 objective is the largest campaign goal in Red Cross history," Mr. Davis said, "it represents the minimum amount required to meet constantly increasing demands from the Army and Navy for Red Cross services. The magnitude of our job is greater than ever before. The American people have never failed to respond to an appeal from the Red Cross. In the approaching campaign I am confident they will contribute more generously to enable the organization to discharge its responsibilities to our armed forces."

STOLEN TWENTY CENTS PRICKS CONSCIENCE

Alexandria.—An unsigned note received by a local cafe was most amusing. It came from a town in the southern part of the state and read: "I was in your city recently and had lunch in your place and while paying there was 20c laying on the counter which I took and put in my pocket which I am sorry for. I never do such a thing. Don't know why I done it, so I return it with interest."

Minnesota's High Grade Iron Ores Will be Near Exhaustion in 30 Years

"It is very likely that the high-grade iron ores of Minnesota will be nearing exhaustion within the next thirty or forty years, and therefore the future of the iron ore industry in Minnesota depends largely on how well the technical, economic, and political problems connected with the industry are solved".

From the geologist's point of view this is probably the most authoritative statement made in recent years on Minnesota iron ore, as it is included in the foreword to a new bulletin of the Minnesota geological survey, "Mineral Resources of Minnesota", edited by Professors William H. Emmons and Frank F. Grout, senior members of the University of Minnesota's department of geology.

The bulletin, No. 30 in the series by the geological survey, and published by the University of Minnesota Press, provides a resume of all the principal mineral resources of the state, including water. Many of these resources, such as foundry sands, building stone, marl, various phases of iron ore, and the like, have been treated in more detail in individual works, but the present bulletin is, in effect, a condensation of the survey's work of recent years.

Truck Operators Urged by Fargo OPA Office to Get the Tires Recapped

"The acute truck tire situation makes it imperative that every tire be kept in service until it has given its last mile of use," Harold W. Bangert, district OPA director declared today.

"All truck operators are urged by the national office of OPA to have their truck tires recapped before they have been worn beyond repair," Mr. Bangert declared.

Any tire driven beyond the point of recapping constitutes tire abuse and the owner may be denied further certificates for tires for the duration, it was said.

Truckers are urged to have their tires inspected regularly, to inflate properly and to avoid speeding and overloading.

GRANDMOTHER OF 132 GRANDCHILDREN

Jordan. — Ninety-two-year-old Mrs. Susan Schmitz, with a total of 132 grandchildren and great grandchildren probably holds a record that can't be tied by another grandmother in the whole state. Eight of her own children are living, which added to 60 grandchildren, 71 great grandchildren and one great great grandchild make quite a family for a ninety-two-year-old lady.

SAFETY EDITORIAL BY STATE EDITOR WINS FIRST PRIZE

Hennepin County Editor Is Winner of First Place in Contest

"They Don't Come Back" is the title of a brief, moving appeal for traffic safety in the Argus, edited by M. G. Gullixon at Deephaven, Hennepin county, which won first place in the statewide safety editorial contest sponsored by Minnesota Editorial association and financed by the casualty companies of the Insurance Federation of Minnesota.

S. D. Youso's entry "Carelessness" in the Benton County News at Foley, ran a close second and wins $100 in bonds. L. A. Dare takes the $50 third prize with his appeal, "What Is Your Idea?" in the Sherburne County Star-News of Elk River.

Honorable mention was accorded the Vernon Center News, edited by H. L. Burdick, and L. E. Oberg's Lake City Graphic editorial, "Let Your Conscience Be Your Guide." Also ranking high were entries by The Duluth Free Press, Detroit Lakes Tribune, Springfield Advance-Press, Glenville Progress, Tracy Headlight Herald, New Prague Times, and Willmar Journal.

Judges were Hjalmar Bjornson of The Minneapolis Star Journal Tribune; H. R. Wiecking of The Winona Republican-Herald; Herbert L. Lewis of The St. Paul Pioneer Press and Dispatch; Lou Benshoof of the Detroit Lakes Record, and H. E. Samuelson of the state highway department.

As soon as issuing data are verified, says J. L. Markham of The Hennepin County Review, Hopkins, chairman of the Editorial association Traffic Safety Committee, the war bonds will be forwarded to the three winners. It is hoped that next week Dr. Ralph D. Casey, head of the School of Journalism at the University of Minnesota, will be able to announce the decision of his panel of judges in the high school safety editorial contest sponsored at the same time by the Editorial association and financed by the insurance companies for $200 in prizes.

Bridge of Ships, Mile Apart

A bridge of ships spanning the Atlantic, spaced just a trifle over a mile apart, would be required to bring to America but five of the many vital war products which the chemical industry has developed synthetically since 1917.

Freedom of CHOICE

WITH ALL THE TALK about Freedoms, what about freedom of choice?

After all, freedom of choice can mean the same thing as all the other freedoms people are talking about—and a few others besides. In large measure, freedom of choice is what this war is about.

Freedom of choice means such ordinary things as trying soy beans in the south field next year, if you think it's the thing to do. It means buying the kind of flour you think gives you the best biscuits. It means you and your boy doing the deciding whether he'll go to college, or learn to be a toolmaker.

Freedom of choice is the soil in which character grows.

This freedom of choice—and its counterpart, a sense of responsibility for the decisions made—has done much to develop the character that is going to win this war—on the battle fronts, on the farm, in industry. And when the victory is won, the kind of America we have fought and worked to preserve must be a country in which every man and woman, and every boy and girl, will have freedom of choice in even greater measure. General Electric Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

You've done without ice cream now and then and you have not complained about curtailed service. You realize that this is your war too. One of the many ways in which you're doing your part is by accepting little inconveniences good naturedly. We thank you for your cooperation.

Outlook for A HAPPY NEW YEAR

VICTORY

This year's baby New Year was born with a uniform on, but let's hope, and work, and pray to the end that his successor will step jauntily into our lives attired in the customary three-cornered pants of peacetime! There's a long hard pull ahead of us . . . we all know that. But with unflagging effort, unceasing cooperation and unfailing belief in the fundamental "rightness" of our principles, the end will surely be a total Victory for the Allies!

GOVERNMENT MEN APPROVE HOG PLAN PROPOSED BY THYE

Adopt Two Suggestions Made to Relieve Jam in Hog Market

Government agencies in Washington this past week adopted two measures of relief proposed by Governor Edward J. Thye two weeks ago when he appealed to federal officials for action to relieve the hog marketing jam at South St. Paul and other livestock markets.

1. The office of war food administration raised the maximum weight of hogs on which it supports the price from 270 to 300 pounds, giving farmers the advantage of the higher price on hogs up to 300 pounds.

2. The office of price administration declared a special dividend to consumers by providing for a special stamp in War Ration book No. 4, good for an extra five pork points, to help ease the pressure on hog markets.

Feeling that the practice of the government in supporting the price of hogs only up to 270 pounds was contributing to the rush of farmers to get their hogs to market, Governor Thye asked that the office of war food administration raise the limit and support the price on hogs up to 350 pounds. He also asked that ration points on pork be reduced to help consumers and enable them to absorb more of the accumulating pork supplies. Representatives of the food administration, sent here to confer with the Governor, were impressed with his suggestions and the urgency of the situation he presented.

"The government asked the farmers to raise more hogs," he told them. "Now, when many find the market closed to them and they cannot get their hogs to market, they should not be penalized and have to take a lower price if their hogs go over 270 pounds."

The action taken, while not going as far as Governor Thye requested, will help materially, market authorities believe.

WHAT WILL THE NEW YEAR MEAN TO DAIRY FARMERS?

INCREASED PROBLEMS . . . less feed and equipment . . . shortages of farm help . . . because food, particularly dairy foods, will be a major world problem even after the war is won.

INDIVIDUAL DAIRY FARMERS will work harder than ever in 1944 . . . and do it gladly. But, individuals, working separately, cannot do as effective a job as when they work together.

TO HELP YOU face the increased problems of the new year, why not cooperate? Never before has the value of cooperative enterprise been as apparent as it is now during the present war period.

LAND O'LAKES stands ready to help you and your creamery to further our mutual interests in the dairy industry.

GANDER AND DUCK HAVE UNUSUAL FAMILY

Grand Rapids.—The mating of the gander from a trio of African geese and a white Pekin duck has produced a strange family at Father Dennis Parnell's home. The birds are intermediate in weight, between a duck and a goose weight. Coloring and featherage has been taken from both parents, having partially white plumage, like the mother, and part grey like the African geese male parent. Plump and well rounded these birds may be a new delight for epicures who are fond of the flesh of waterfowls.

CHILDHOOD PLAYMATES MEET AFTER 52 YEARS

Buffalo.—Meeting for the first time in a little over a half century Olaf Mattson of Detroit Lakes, and John Moody of this city were unfamiliar to each other as they met on the street. It took only a couple minutes of conversation for the two to get together as though the last half century had not passed. In Sundsvall, Sweden they had been inseparable boyhood companions. In 1892 Mattson came to America, and one year later Moody followed coming straight to Buffalo where he has lived ever since. Mattson first settled in the western part of the United States and later came to Minnesota. Despite his constant longing to see his old boyhood pal, John Moody, it has taken over 50 years for him to find the time.

We might at least appreciate that gas rationing is going to make our auto last a lot longer.

NEW MAYOR OF CITY ASSUMES POST TUESDAY

Douville Appoints Leonard Hanson to Office of Police Chief

MRS. JOHN DOKKEN IS NAMED POLICE MATRON

Griebstein Again Elected President of City Council

Wm. J. Douville, elected mayor last November to succeed H. W. Kinghorn in that office, assumed his new duties Tuesday, and appearing at the organization meeting of the city council that evening, announced preliminary steps in his reorganization of the police department.

In his first official act as mayor, Mr. Douville discharged Police Chief L. W. Knadle and Patrolmen Leonard E. Johnson, Jack Williams and Robert Black, and he informed the council of his appointment of Leonard Hanson, for the past ten years chief of the local fire department, as superintendent of police, with William Sheedy, one-time police chief, as his assistant.

He also appointed Mrs. John Dokken to the newly created post of police matron. These appointments all were confirmed by the council, which, however, deferred action on approval of patrolmen and patrolwoman until its next meeting January 11 to give discharged members of the force an opportunity to ask for a hearing, which it was indicated yesterday they would request.

In the meantime, the mayor stated, Arthur E. Olson and Harvey McMahon will serve as extra police. He also revealed his intention of naming Mrs. Arthur O. Erickson to the post of patrol woman.

Other appointments by the mayor which were confirmed include H. N. Rhodegard, city weighmaster; Dr. H. H. Hedemark, city health officer; Roy Barsen, park board; and John Q. Cronkhite, cemetery commission.

The council's organization meeting saw Palmer O. Hanson assuming the duties of fourth ward alderman succeeding F. A. Rinkel, and Mr. Rinkel taking the post of alderman-at-large in place of A. B. Stenberg, who was not a candidate for reelection in the November election.

Emil Griebstein, veteran member, was reelected president of the council, with J. Robert Peterson as vice president, following which appointments of standing committees were announced by Mr. Griebstein.

By ballot votes, the council reappointed P. G. Pederson city clerk; Theodore Quale city attorney; and Ole Legvold, superintendent of the water and light department; and named Dr. O. F. Mellby, former city health officer, to the post of city physician.

All other employes under council jurisdiction were reappointed at the session, with the exception that action on the posts of city engineer-street commissioner and city assessor were laid over to the next meeting.

LOCAL CREAMERY CALLS SESSION TO TALK MILK PLANT

Goodridge, Viking and Newfolden Also Will Meet January 15

Thief River Falls cooperative creamery and creameries at Goodridge, Viking and Newfolden will each hold a special meeting of stockholders Saturday afternoon, January 15, to decide whether or not to join in a move to establish a milk-drying plant in this area. The meeting in this city will open at 1 o'clock.

The plan for a centralized drying plant was outlined at a recent meeting in Roseau, called by Land O'Lakes Creameries. Construction of the plant would be financed by the federal government, it was explained.

Arrangements are now under way to install a similar plant at Fosston to serve creameries of that area. Creameries at St. Hilaire, Plummer, Highlanding and Oklee have already signified their intention of joining the Fosston setup.

The Thief River Falls Times was designated as the official newspaper of the county for the current year. A full report of the session will appear in next week's issue of the Times.

Mrs. Engelstad was born in Vang, Norway, Dec. 1, 1862, the youngest of two daughters of Lars Kjos and his wife Anne Ihlseng Kjos. She was married to Peder Engelstad Aug. 12, 1881, at Vang, Norway, coming to America with her husband in 1882 and with her first-born infant son Ludvig, who died 20 days after their arrival in America.

A second child, Lovise, was born at Hillsboro, N. Dak., and after traveling overland by horse and wagon, Mr. and Mrs. Engelstad arrived at St. Hilaire May 21, 1883, and settled on their homestead in Rocksbury township. GOVERNOR THYE HERE TO STUDY RIVER PROJECT

Makes Tour of Inspection of East Area Along Rivers Wednesday

THYE SPEAKS AT FIVE MEETINGS DURING DAY

Officials Express Selves as Convinced of Merits of Project

Speaking at five meetings and inspecting a large section of the flooded area of eastern Pennington and Red Lake counties, Governor Edward J. Thye and Chester Wilson, commissioner of the department of conservation, spent a long and busy day in this community yesterday. Their visit was sponsored by the Red Lake River Flood Control association in cooperation with the Red Lake Falls Commercial club and the Thief River Falls Civic & Commerce association.

Starting with a breakfast at the Evelyn Hotel at 8:30 o'clock at which local public officials and officers of civic and service clubs were present, the official party started their tour at 9:30 o'clock. Dinner meetings were held at the Clearwater church in eastern Red Lake County at noon and at Red Lake Falls in the evening, following which the governor and Mr. Wilson attended meetings of the flood control association at Red Lake Falls and the Pennington County Sportsmen's club at Thief River Falls.

The purpose of the visit was to give the state officials first hand information on conditions in the flooded area for their guidance in the effort that is being made to secure approval from the War Department for immediate construction of the river channel development part of the river improvement project which has been recommended by the engineering department.

Mr. Wilson has asked the secretary of war to reconsider his recommendation that the project be deferred until after the war, and Governor Thye will make a personal appeal for such reconsideration when he visits the national capital later this month. If their efforts bear fruit the Red Lake and Clearwater river channels would be improved at once to relieve the flood condition, while the construction of bridges and the control works at the Red Lakes outlet would be deferred until critical materials and manpower are available.

Both Governor Thye and Commissioner Wilson expressed themselves as being thoroughly convinced, after their personal inspection of the area and their interviews with many of the farmers who have suffered severe crop damage year after year, that the improvement project is very much worth while and that prompt action would be justified as a part of the war effort.

Welfare Board Makes Report on Activities

John X. Lynakey, executive secretary of the Pennington county welfare board, announced this week that 896 different Pennington county old age assistance recipients received a total of $105,177.50 in 1943. As a result of the war, the number of cases paid in any one month has dropped from a peak of 420 to 328 paid this month. However, because of increased living costs and much needed liberalization of the law, approximately the same amount of money is being paid the 328 as was formerly paid to the 420.

A total of 64 Pennington county mothers were paid $19,725.00 in 1943 under the aid to dependent children law. This case load has dropped from a peak month of 72 to 38 paid this month; and the cost has declined about $10,000.00 a year, mostly because of the reduced case load, and partly because of the amendment which Senator Dahlquist introduced at the last session of the legislature. This amendment increased the benefits to mothers but decreased the costs to the counties.

A total of 14 Pennington aid to the blind cases received $5,020.00 in 1943. 12 Pennington war veterans relief cases received $2,811.51 during the year.

The County contributes one-sixth of the OAA costs; 30% of ADC costs, and nothing to the other programs.

About 800 child welfare cases were acted on during the year, involving adoption, dependency, neglect, feeblemindedness, and illegitimacy. Through the cooperation of the county attorney, the welfare board was able to collect $3,239.19 on twenty-two cases, most of which were cases involving support for illegitimate children.

During 1943, the welfare board was able to recover $6,368.48 from the estates of nineteen OAA recipients, mostly under the OAA lien law.

OPA GIVES SECOND FIVE-POINT BONUS ON PORK TO JAN. 15

Extra Stamps Cannot be Used for Purchase of Ham and Bacon

Office of price administration Saturday validated spare stamp No. 2 in war ration book No. 4 for purchase of five points-worth of fresh pork between Jan. 2 and Jan. 15.

Smoked and cured pork, such as ham and bacon, cannot be purchased with the bonus ration points.

It is the second pork bonus OPA has granted because the pork supply became so plentiful that spoilage was threatened.

Spare stamp No. 1 which has been worth five points for retail purchase of fresh and cured pork since Dec. 21, expired at 12:01 Sunday.

OPA said all sausages will be included in the fresh pork category for the period in which the new bonus stamp will be good.

The OPA estimated more than 100,000,000 pounds of pork was purchased by consumers with spare stamp No. 1 since it was validated, and predicted a like amount will be bought with the new stamp.

CO. AGENT SEEKING PENNINGTON SHEEP SHEARING SCHOOL

Points out Acute Shortage of Qualified Shearers in This Area

One of the big manpower problems for 1944 will be harvesting the wool crop in Pennington County. Shortage of experienced sheep shearers, already acute last year, may be even worse next spring. County Agent Ernest Palmer urged sheep growers to check on the availability of shearers and make the bid for more help early if it is needed.

The agricultural extension service and the state department of education are again sponsoring sheep shearing schools in communities where the demand is great enough to warrant a two-day instruction period. There are two requirements for entry into such a school. Those interested must register at the county agent's office and agree to do some custom shearing among neighbors as well as shearing the home flock. The school provides a chance for anyone wishing to learn sheep shearing to study under experts.

If a school is to be scheduled in this area, arrangements must be made in advance. It is, therefore, necessary for all those interested to enroll at once, County Agent Ernest Palmer said today.

MILK DRYING PLANTS

Butterfat marketing methods will undergo a drastic change in our territory if dairymen support the proposed plan to install whole-milk handling facilities in the creameries. Under this plan the whole-milk would be separated at the creameries instead of on the farm, the butterfat churned into butter as at present, and the skim milk hauled to a centralized plant to be converted to milk powder. Because of a serious shortage of milk powder the government is offering to finance the installation of most of the necessary equipment on either a rental or purchase basis, which makes the proposition very attractive under present conditions.

Whole milk, we are told, actually has more food value below the cream line than above it, and marketing these solids in a powdered form will increase the market value of whole milk by at least one-third. An increase of one-third in the cash receipts for his milk products would be a sizeable sum for the average dairy farmer of our community, and for the community as a whole it would mean a substantial return for a by-product that has been to a large extent wasted, or, at best, used inefficiently.

From the information we have received on this proposed plan it seems to us that this is one venture that offers good immediate returns with very little risk. While the installation of equipment requires a large investment, this investment would not be a liability of the creamery if results proved unsatisfactory. A government agency would be holding the bag. There is little likelihood, however, that the results would not be satisfactory because this method of marketing has long since passed thru the experimental stage.

The government is seeking expansion of milk drying facilities in our territory because our territory is one of the few dairy sections of the country in which all of the milk is not now used to good advantage. We are far removed from the large centers of population where there is a good market for whole milk for human consumption, and we do not have a cheese factory market. Milk drying plants will tend to equalize our opportunities with those of other dairy communities.

Gas manufactured from North Dakota's vast lignite resources may become the source of power and heat necessary to treat Minnesota's unlimited supply of low grade iron ore. Experiments are well under way and high hopes are held out for the possibilities according to the current issue of Business Week which remarks that such a development "would spell boom" for both states.

The rapidity with which our forces are striking in various sectors of the South Pacific is reminiscent of the trip hammer blows inflicted by the Japs in those early days of the war following Pearl Harbor. Our little friends, the Nips, now know what it means to be spread out thin over vast distances, incapable of defending the many outposts they have established. In the meantime the Allies are assembling a great army in India which probably will start moving into Burma this spring, another long front to supply and defend.

Topics of the Times
By M. A. H.

Something to chew on — The federal government spent more money in 1943 than in the first 150 years of this nation's existence.

Esquire magazine has had its second-class mailing privilege revoked, which fact no doubt will occasion much distress among lovers of true art.

Remember way back, reminds Les Nelson of the Mahnomen Pioneer, when broken arms frequently resulted from cranking a Model T?

Those shattered remnants along the highway of life are the remains of a lot of New Years resolutions.

Fortunately enough, when the railroad strike was called off, the public missed a chance to find out what happens when an irresistible force meets an immovable body.

Local dentists passed up a chance in not offering a free teeth cleaning job to the first baby born in the city in 1944.

And are you still writing it 1943?

A TRIBUTE TO THE Retail Salespeople of America

At the beginning of a new year we pay tribute to those loyal citizens who serve behind the retail counters of America.

Shortages, complications of rationing, the fact that many of their number are in the armed services, make their job today more difficult than ever.

Despite all of this the retail selling job has its high rewards!

Good retail salespeople like their work! They like to meet and serve people! They take pride in each sale well made! And they know that on the home front they support the war effort by helping to maintain our high standard of living.

Try to imagine, for a moment, how your family's daily needs—food, clothing and household supplies—could be taken care of if all the retail salespeople were suddenly spirited away!

• • •

During 1944 we will do our best to make pleasant and profitable the work of the people who meet and greet you in Penney stores.

Not only that, but as a genuine community service we shall put into their hands, for you, the maximum of value and quality that war conditions allow.

YOU CAN ALWAYS DEPEND ON

NAME ASSISTANTS TO HELP IN COUNTY PARALYSIS DRIVE

Chmn. Andrew Anderson Plans for March of Dimes and Birthday Ball

Andy Anderson, newly appointed chairman for the Pennington county infantile paralysis campaign for 1944, today announced the completion of his committee. The assignments include the following chairmen:

County chairman, Andrew Anderson; chairwoman, Mrs. Basil Westacott; rural schools, Mrs. A. C. Matheson; city schools, Clara G. Paulson; civic and fraternal, Herman A. Kjos; Girl Scouts, Mrs H. K. Helseth; Birthday Ball, Junior Chamber committee.

Goodridge, Stephen Singer; Hazel, Arnt Wedul; Highlanding, Gunnuf Gunstenson; River Valley, Alfred T. Nelson; St. Hilaire, Harold L. Holmes; advertising, H. B. Halle; publicity, Nathan Brundin.

Through these committees, Mr. Anderson stated, it is planned to reach every home in Pennington county and thus give every man, woman and child an opportunity to contribute towards the defeat of the enemy within our gates, the "Great Crippler" of boys and girls. The country and the city schools committees will have available in each school room simple scrolls upon which each pupil may sign his or her name if they so desire in connection with the "March of Dimes" campaign.

The Girl Scouts of Thief River Falls will this year have a major part in the "March of Dimes" drive.

It is planned they will be organized in teams of two and will call at each home in this city on a designated Saturday to be announced later. The Junior Chamber of Commerce committee is busy on plans of making this year's Birthday Ball the biggest affair of its kind in this section of Minnesota.

The local Townsend club will meet in the Civic and Commerce room next Sunday afternoon, January 9, at 2 o'clock, officers of the club announced today.

Wallace Beery in Avalon Picture This Week-end

Produced in cooperation with the U. S. marine corps, the Technicolor film, "Salute to the Marines", will be presented at the Avalon theatre Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Wallace Beery plays the leading role in this story of a tough sergeant who gives his life in defense of the Philippines. The supporting cast includes Fay Bainter, Reginald Owen, Keye Luke and William Lundigan.

THYE AND WILSON SPORTSMENS CLUB MEETING GUESTS

Arrangements Are Made for Fox Hunt to be Held January 16

With Governor Edward Thye and Chester Wilson, commissioner of conservation, as honored guests, the January session of the Pennington County Sportsmens club Wednesday night attracted an attendance of 150 men from throut this section.

The governor briefly discussed state affairs, and told of his tour of inspection of the area along Red Lake and Clearwater rivers made earlier in the day. Mr. Wilson also spoke briefly. The officials were introduced by Paul A. Lundgren.

Dr. O. F. Mellby showed colored pictures of his moose hunting expedition in Ontario last fall, which attracted much interest.

The club in its business session voted to conduct a fox hunt Sunday, January 16, with arrangements to be made by a committee including Harold Olson, C. Herb Jung and Dr. H. H. Hedemark.

At the request of Mr. Lundgren, Henry Storhaug, president of the club, was authorized to appoint a committee to assist in the solicitation for the Fourth War Loan drive.

Locals Nose Out R.L.F.; Bemidji Coming Friday

Recovering from a jittery first half, in which they scored but three points—on a field goal and a free throw by Billy McKechnie—the Prowlers, scoring 17 points in the third period and 8 points in the fourth period, edged out Red Lake Falls, 28 to 27, in a game played here Thursday night. Local fans will be able to witness one of the season's "big" games on Friday night when the defending regional champion Bemidji Lumberjacks meet the Prowlers on the local floor.

Thursday night's game found the Prowlers and Red Lake Falls playing frantic basketball throughout the first half. Players on both teams were erratic in their ball-handling, fumbling passes, scrambling wildly for the ball, and committing numerous fouls. Red Lake Falls held a 5 to 1 lead at the end of the first period, and increased their margin to 9 to 1 midway in the second period, before McKechnie dropped in the first Prowler field goal. Coach John Larson's team trotted off the floor at the intermission holding a 10 to 3 advantage.

Moments after the 2d half tip-off, McKechnie flashed under the east goal and, taking a pass from Virg Evenstad, looped in a field goal. Dale Baril counted a Red Lake Falls point on Merritt's foul. Ninak Carlson, from out on the court, popped in a basket; Virg Evenstad connected with one-handed try, and then broke up a Red Lake Falls play and dribbled in for a set-up, tying the score. But not for long, for Ken Olson, Red Lake Falls captain, hit the basket with a one-handed shot; Vern Nieland picked up a rebound and pushed in a goal; and Olson, on an out-of-bounds play, scored on a close-in shot. Evenstad lifted a one-handed shot into goal, and McKechnie added a point on a free throw. Nieland and Olson chalked up points on free throws. Roger Tunberg, from the corner of the court, made a two-pointer. Nieland converted twice on a two-shot foul. Carlson poked in a long shot, and Evenstad tipped in a rebound, and the Prowlers trailed by a 21 to 20 score as the period closed.

Free throws gave Red Lake Falls a 24 to 20 lead early in the final stanza. Red Lake Falls' Vern Nieland and the Prowlers' Virg Evenstad were forced out of the game on personal fouls in the opening minutes of play. Herb Claffy pounded a rebound into the net, and Burdell Merritt, during a scramble under the basket, batted in a field goal, tying the score. Claffy, with three minutes of play remaining, drove in for a goal, giving the Prowlers the lead. Alan Thompson made a point on a free throw. Following Cartier's free throw try, Ken Olson recovered the ball and scored a field goal. Carlson, on Baril's two-shot foul, added a Prowler point. Baril, getting two free throw tries, made the first but missed the second, and the Prowlers had scored their first win of the season.

Virg Evenstad, Billy McKechnie and Ninak Carlson led the Prowler scoring; while rangy Vern Nieland and Ken Olson sparked the Red Lake Falls team, scoring 9 and 10 points respectively.

In a preliminary game, Bob Baker's Wildcats, with Don Hedlund and Sonny Johnson doing the bulk of the scoring, defeated the Prowler reserves, 20 to 18.

TRAINING COURSE OPENS JAN. 12 FOR SCOUTMASTERS

First Session of Six Weeks Course Set for Next Wednesday

The first meeting of the scoutmaster's training course for all volunteer Scout workers in Thief River District will be held in the Civic and Commerce rooms located in the basement of the city Auditorium, on Wednesday evening, January 12th, at 8:00 p. m. The course will be conducted in the same manner as the regular scout meetings for boy Scouts.

Using such techniques as dramatization, demonstration, lecture and practical application of scouting activities, the course leaders will present to the men as complete a picture of the organization, ideals and work of the Boy Scouts of America as is possible in the time allotted for the course. It will continue for six weeks, one evening a week.

The course officers are as follows: Scoutmaster, Quentin Jones; assistant scout masters, Wallace Carlson and Fr. John T. O'Toole; senior patrol leader, Hartley Peterson, Holt; scribe Archie Hensrud; quartermaster, Hugh Carlson; patrol leaders, Irving Quist, Rev. A. O. Skibsrud, St. Hilaire; Armand Pagliarini, Paul Perrault Sr.; troop committee chairman, Dr. O. F. Mellby; members, Philip L. Fjelsted, Morris Owen, L. W. Rulien; song leader and morale officer, H. F. Harrison.

On completing the course those who attend the meetings will be awarded a scout masters training certificate which qualifies them as capable scout masters in any part of the Unites States. However, although the course is intended primarily for the training of scoutmasters, assistant scoutmasters and troop committeemen, anyone interested in boys is cordially invited to attend.

In the near future an overnight camping trip is planned for all the men who participate in the course. If suitable indoor quarters cannot be found the camping trip will be held in the spring or early summer.

Bound over to District Court after Burglary

Appearing in municipal court Monday, Vernon Johnson of Middle River community waived a preliminary hearing on a burglary charge arising from a breakin December 22 at the Economy oil station, and was bound over to the next term of district court. Another man and a 17-year-old boy also are involved in the burglary, according to Sheriff Arthur Rambeck.

Church Formally Adopts Mission Covenant Name

At annual meeting New Years Day, the name Mission Covenant church was voted to designate the church and congregation at First st. and Markley av. The legal name hitherto was the Scandinavian Mission Church of Thief River Falls, but since the regular use of the Swedish language was discontinued some time ago, the congregation has been called Covenant Mission Church which, however, was unofficial up to this time.

Measuring the Prowlers

H. E. "Hans" Hanson, East Grand Forks coach, was in attendance at the game here Thursday evening, scouting the Prowlers for his Little Green Wave. Hans agreed that he didn't learn much about the play of the Prowlers, but he did make the comment that it was the smallest Prowler team that he had seen in a number of years. Hans, having been a basketball official in these parts for a long while, is well acquainted with the Prowlers of other years.

And it's true that the Prowlers are on the "small" order this season, for putting the tape on the boys you'll find that only two, Virg Evenstad and Burdell Merritt, are six-footers. Here are the height, and weight, measurements of the 1943-44 Prowlers: captain Billy McKechnie can stretch himself to 5 feet, 7 inches and, dripping wet, he'll weigh about 135 pounds; Roger Tunberg is 5 feet, 8 inches, and about 139 pounds; Herb Claffy, 5 feet, 8 inches, and 140 pounds; Norm Furuseth, 5 feet, 9½ inches, and 160 pounds; Ninak Carlson, 5 feet, 10 inches and 143 pounds; Allan Thompson, 5 feet, 10 inches, and 160 pounds; Virg Evenstad, 6 feet, 152 pounds; and Burdell Merritt, 6 feet, and 175 pounds. And Johnny Powell, who will be seeing quite a bit of action, is 5 feet, 5 inches, and weighs 112 pounds. Compared with last year's squad, which had Jack Melby, Bob Abbott, and Bob Wright on its roster, this season's club is mite-sized.

Bemidji Boasts 6-ft. 4-Incher

Tomorrow night's Prowlers vs. Bemidji tussle should give an inkling as to the prospects the Lumberjacks have of making a successful defense of their eighth regional title. Graduation stripped Tommy Corrigan, Harlan Grover, Dwayne Hoberg, and Jack Robbins from the team, leaving tall Phil Feir as the only returning letterman. Feir, who was an all-regional choice at center, is 6 feet 4 inches tall, and this year he has the assistance of Bob Brown, the football captain, and he's 6 feet 3 inches tall. The two are the pivot men in coach Glenn Barnum's team this year. Keith Hoberg, Dick Lawrence, and Walt Herrmann round out the first five. If Feir and Brown, using their height, can control the play on the two backboards tomorrow night the Prowlers will be hard pressed to stay in the game.

One thing's sure, though, and that is that the Lumberjacks won't be coming here with a game-in-the-bag attitude. They lost faith in that system this fall when the Prowlers upset them in football.

Staking a Claim

Wally and Ed. Carlson, as a result of their three-out-of-five game victory over Wally and Jesse Du-Champ in a special match rolled on the Mint alleys Sunday afternoon, can stake a valid claim to the city's doubles bowling championship. Ed and Wally bowled an 1832 total to the DuChamp's 1828, but they, Ed and Wally, had to come up with some big totals in the fourth and fifth games in order to squeeze out the win. In the fourth game, trailing two games to one, Wally posted a 194 and Cookie, that's Ed, racked up a 224; and in the fifth game, Wally had a 229 and Cookie a 202.

The scores for the match game were: Wally Carlson, 152-184-139-194-229, for a 928; Ed. Carlson, 144-143-191-224-202, for a 904; Wally DuChamp, 156-191-181-204-193, for a 925; and Cpl. Jesse DuChamp, 150-191-179-195-188, for a 903. Wally DuChamp, the city's individual bowling champ, had six blows during the five games, which seems to prove that Wally doesn't do his best bowling the day after New Year's.

Year's First Fish Story

Ole Ness, superintendent of the disposal plant, produced the substance for the year's first fish story on Saturday afternoon. Fishing in the open pool below the dam, Ole, using minnows, made a limit catch of walleyed pike, several perch, and a couple of northerns. And five or six of those walleyes were real "lunkers."

Hornets Begin Buzzing

Coach Pagliarini's Hornets begin their hockey season on Friday when they travel to Williams for a game. Pag has really been putting the pressure on the boys this week, and they should open the season with a win tomorrow. The two lines — Sonny Johnson, Bob Baker, Durwood Lund, and Wes Hovie, Les Vigness, Don Brossoit —have been showing considerable scoring punch in the practice drills. Bob Baker, of course, is the most expert goal-getter. Marlyn "Tony" Dorn and Vernon Mortrud are slated to fill the defense positions, with Francis Kobliska in the nets.

The first game on the Arena ice is tentatively scheduled for next week.

Pvt. Nels Holmberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Holmberg, is home on furlough, enjoying his visit with his parents and many friends. He was last stationed at Camp House, Texas.

Community Events of 1943 Pass in Review

Presented herewith is the record of 1943 for this community as recorded in the files of the Times. The war affected local residents in various ways, with the development of the rationing programs, curtailment of services, induction of numerous contingents of young men into the armed services, together with many promotions in rank among the soldiers and sailors and their transfer to areas throut the world. Here's Why the Union State Bank Is Our Bank

There are many, many families in the Thief River Falls territory using Union State Bank services — business men, housewives, teachers, professional men, farmers, and others —who might answer the question "Why do you bank at the Union State?" like this:—

"We like the service—it's personal, helpful, and they seem to anticipate our requirements. We like the good margin of safety shown on their statement and the extra protection of deposit insurance. We like the wide range of services—they are ready at all times to meet our requirements. And we think the bank has done a bang-up job under wartime conditions. They have donated their time to the sale of War Bonds; they are helping Uncle Sam by rendering ration banking service to merchants; they are helping all business with efficient, timesaving service. When it comes to dependable banking service, we always think of the Union State Bank—and the service they render shows they are thinking of us, too. That's why the Union State is our bank."

OUR STATEMENT presented here shows continuous growth and progress — a reflection of the growth and progress of Thief River Falls. Deposits are high—we urge customers to divert some of these funds to War Bonds.

SWAMPS YIELD GOLDEN HARVEST

It seems at last the barren swamps of this area are yielding a golden harvest which exceeds the fondest hopes and wildest dreams ever had by farmers, who have loyally stayed by the soil through many years of adversities.

Oddly enough the bountiful returns are being paid for the lowly cattail which has through years past never been considered of monetary or other value. The government has discovered the excellent quality of the cattail fluff for packing purposes in the manufacture of supplies for our armed forces and is paying a good price per pound.

Old and young are streaming into the swamps to harvest the millions of cattails and pickers are making unbelievable large sums of money for their efforts. The unusually fair weather for this area is another advantage and thousands of pounds have already reached the local market.

MRS. KAREN NYGAARD PASSES AWAY

Funeral services were held this afternoon (Thursday) at two o'clock from the St. Peters Lutheran church for Mrs. Karen Nygaard, who passed away at the Pete Nygaard home on Saturday, January 1. Rev. G. L. Halmrast officiated and burial was held in the church cemetery.

The deceased was born on April 11, 1868 at Solor, Norway and was at the time of her death 75 years, 8 months and 20 days old. She came to the United States at the age of twenty, settling at Fisher. A few years later she was united in marriage to Christian Nygaard at Hendrum. They moved to the Grygla community in 1898, homesteading in Valley township. In 1904 the family moved to Pennington county where they lived until 1913. At that time they returned to this area settling again in Valley township.

Mrs. Nygaard remained here until death.

Three daughters and two sons survive the deceased and include Mrs. Bertha Sparby of Grygla, Mrs. Anna Burd of Neillsville, and Mrs. Trina Erickson of Bremerton, Wash.; Carl Nygaard of Red Lake Falls, and Pete Nygaard of Grygla; and twenty one grandchildren. She was preceded in death by her husband.

GROW BETTER OATS IN 1944

Raise These New Disease Resistant, High Yielding Varieties—
VICLAND and TAMA

WHAT GREAT NEWS it is to Minnesota oats growers that you can now raise more oats on the same acreage by planting the new disease resistant varieties—Vicland and Tama. Yes, by ridding your farm of the old varieties and planting only these new high-yielding varieties in 1944 you may get—

1. More bushels per acre.
2. Higher quality oats.
3. More food for livestock and poultry.
4. Extra dollars from your oat crop.

IN NORMAL YEARS these new varieties will yield 10 to 15% more than the old varieties. If 1944 is a bad rust year, as it was in 1938 and 1941, the new varieties will yield at least 30% to 100% more oats.

PLAN NOW to grow only these new improved varieties, then make sure your seed oats . . . free of weed-seed and other grains. Cleaning and treating seed oats will help increase your yield from 3 to 10 bushels to the acre. Seed can be cleaned and treated at central cleaning and treating plants throughout the state or at home by means of a small fanning mill and home-made grain treater. Ask your county agent for details.

REMEMBER, PLANT ONLY THESE NEW VARIETIES—Vicland and Tama. Both are heavy yielding, disease resistant and approved by the Minnesota Experiment Station. Enough of these varieties is available to plant the entire oat acreage in Minnesota in 1944. Buy them from your neighbor, country elevator or seed dealer.

Make Minnesota's Oat Crop More Certain in 1944!

Thanks You!

Minnesota needed pulpwood to manufacture the requirements of both the home front and the war front. We asked you to help us supply that need.

Your answer came in the pulpwood NOW rolling into the mills. For this we thank you.

Our mills can still use pulpwood. We are counting on you, as patriotic citizens, to continue supplying "a cord or a carload" as long as our boys are fighting on foreign shores.

How American Farmers Are Meeting the Pulpwood Challenge

EARLY in 1943 when the country was faced with a disastrous pulpwood shortage, the Secretary of Agriculture said, "The only place we can look for additional supplies is from the farm woodlot".

Now, as we enter 1944

It is clear that a serious pulpwood shortage will continue. But farmers have learned that pulpwood cutting is good business as well as sound patriotism. Now is the best time to thin woodlots when pulpwood prices are at their peak. And recent rulings of the War Manpower Commission encourage farmers to cut pulpwood in off seasons by counting it as war unit credits toward deferment.

And so the farmers of America are asked to make pulpwood cutting an important part of their 1944 work program. It is off-season work; profitable work; patriotic work. Do all you can. Your country needs every cord you can cut. Keep in touch with your local pulpwood committee.
